Third Koje Riot Reported; Dodd, Colson Are Demoted

Final Span Is Put in Chesapeake Bay Bridge

Steelwork on the new $44,000,000 Chesapeake Bay bridge, the world's third largest, was completed May 23 with the placing of the final span a 400-ton deck cantilever truss. The new bridge links the eastern and western shores of Maryland 20 miles south of Baltimore.

Yount Gets Reprimand For Stand

Inquiry to Be Kept Open Until Complete Report Is Received by Senate Committee

Two Generals Reduced in Rank by Official Action

Washington, May 24 (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee still wants to know more about Red shenanigans on Koje Island, despite demotion of two Brigadier Generals and official reprimanding of a third one-star. officer.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), acting chairman, said the committee would keep its inquiry open until the senators get the army's full report on the capture of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd by Red prisoners, and Dodd's release negotiated by Brig. Gen. Charles Colson.

The secret report, flown here by special courier from the headquarters of Gen. Mark Clark in Tokyo, is at the Pentagon. Byrd said it had been promised to the committee next week.

Army Secretary Pace and Army Chief of Staff Gen. J. Lawton Collins spent two and a half hours yesterday in secret conference with the committee.

Pentagon Announcement

Meantime, the Pentagon announced:

1. That both Dodd and Colson had been busted back to their permanent rank of full colonel.

2. Brig. Gen. Paul F. Yount, commander of the army base section of Pusan which supervises Koje Island, had been officially reprimanded because he concurred in part of Colson's much criticized agreement with the Communists holding Dodd.

3. Gen. Clark, new Far Eastern commander, had been ordered to "insure against lawlessness and disorder on Koje Island."

These points and some details on the recent Koje incidents were in a formal letter carried by Secretary Pace to the Senate committee prior to the lengthy conference.

No Assignment Hint

Dodd told reporters in Korea that he had received no hint of any new assignment. He is on an unassigned status at Eighth Army headquarters.

Colson declined to see newsmen but issued a statement saying he would continue as chief of staff of the U. S. First Corps.

Yount said he had no comment.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, said "the statement in Washington speaks for itself. The Eighth Army has nothing to add."

Byrd said Pace and Collins as-

Reds Grab Plane Edge As UN Losses Increase

Communists 'Kill' Dozen UN Aircraft, Worst for Allied Side Since Start of Korean War; Naval Losses Not Included

Seoul, Korea, May 24 (AP)—The allies struck the greatest air blow of the Korean war at the Reds Thursday and Friday, against a sobering picture of increasing plane losses.

The Fifth Air Force tally showed the week ended Friday was one of the worst—if not the worst—air week for the allies since the war started 23 months ago. On the credit side, the air force said UN pilots destroyed 460 buildings and damaged 163 in their continuous two-day attack which paralyzed Red industries near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

The weekly plane loss count gave the Communists 12 kills and U. S. airmen four.

For the first time in the war, Communist MIGs grabbed a five-to-four edge in aerial dogfights. The Fifth Air Force announced the loss of three F-86 Sabrejets and two F-84 Thunderjets in the air against only four confirmed MIG kills. It was a sharp reversal from the usual topheavy allied score.

The other seven UN losses were mostly to Red anti-aircraft fire.

The figures didn't take into account naval plane losses. Rescue flights indicated there were at least two—bringing the loss total to at least 14. Airmen said it all appeared to point to growing Communist skill and power on the air and ground.

Every U. S. combat unit of the Fifth Air Force and attached Royal Australian, South African, South Korean and shorebased marine planes rained explosives and jellied gasoline on the huge supply concentration near Kiyang, southwest of Pyongyang. Pilots flying the last of nearly 800 sorties said little more than walls were standing.

Allies Are Warned Against Red Drive

Washington, May 24 (AP)—The United States has tipped off its 16 allies in Korea that the Communists might be planning a new offensive

The State Department disclosed late yesterday that it circulated a warning 10 days ago against the possibility of "renewed Communist aggression." The on guard message went to all United Nations members helping in the Korean fight.

The department said "there must be no faltering" should the Communists once again try to engulf UN forces on the peninsula.

4 Guards, 3 Prisoners Are Killed

Fifty-seven Wounded in April 10 Uprising; Officials Refuse Any Comment

May Probe Delay

Oklahoma Senator Says He Would Like Data on Censorship

Koje Island, Korea, May 24 (AP)—News of a third bloody riot by Red prisoners of war on violence-torn Koje Island came to light today.

South Korean sources said four Korean guards and three North Korean Communist prisoners were killed and 57 Reds wounded in the uprising April 10.

Associated Press Correspondent William Jorden obtained the story from South Korean witnesses almost a week ago but army censors in Tokyo withheld it until today.

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said the army had announced nothing on the riot "because the Eighth Army investigation of the incident has not been completed." American officials here refused to comment.

May Check Delay

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D.-Okla.) indicated in Washington a Senate subcommittee may investigate censorship delay of Jorden's dispatch.

Monroney, a former newspaperman, is a member of the special Senate investigating subcommittee checking into the availability of news under government regulations.

He said the commitee "would certainly like to take a look" at the delayed dispatch. He added investigation might show good reason for delaying the story.

Ninety Communist prisoners and one U. S. soldier were killed in earlier Koje riots—Feb. 18 and March 13. The army released correspondents' stories on these shortly after they occurred.

Red POWs today hauled down 11 of the 17 North Korean and Chinese Communist flags they had flown defiantly over their compounds for months.

Two Companies to Land

Two companies of British Commonwealth troops were due to land today to bolster the United Nations command garrison on this tension-ridden island.

The South Korean witnesses told Jorden a U. S. Army captain and six South Korean guards were wounded in the April 10 uprising. The American is Capt. Jack J. McGuire, (hometown unavailable) wounded in the arm and thigh. He was given a blood transfusion on Koje then transferred to Japan.

The informants said most of the fighting took place within sight of the camp commander, then Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd. Dodd was seized by POWs May 7 and released 78 hours later.

The trouble April 10 began near the gate of Compound 95, the Korean sources said. An excited guard outside the gate fired a shot that wounded a Communist prisoner.

Americans Driven Out

The witnesses said McGuire and two U. S. soldiers, all unarmed, went into the dispensary at the gate to bring out the wounded man.

Milling Red POWs drove the Americans out.

Dodd arrived almost immediately, the sources said, and ordered 100 unarmed Souh Korean soldiers to go in the compound, restore order bring out the wounded POW.

The prisoners drove out the guards with clubs and stones.

The Reds, shouting insults, rushed the gate in an apparent effort to break out.

Guards near the entrance opened fire with a .30 caliber machine gun mounted on a jeep. Most of the casualies occurred then, the witnesses said.

The Reds continued to defy authority and refused to give up their dead, the witnesses said. Other sources said they released their dead he next day.

The dead South Korean guards were brought out of the compound shortly after the battle.

The Reds ripped down their flags today apparently as the result of a short meeting yesterday between the new camp commander, Brig. Gen, Haydon L. Boatner, and a Red spokesman.

Boatner told the Red spokesman that the Geneva convention required a respectful manner in prisoners.

Restrictions End On Gasoline, Fuel

Potato Shortage To End in Month

That Is OPS Adivce Based Upon New Crops; Action by Restaurants

New York, May 24 (AP)—The potato shortage will last until late in June, when new crops will become available, housewives were advised today.

The word came from Julius S. Wikler, district director of the Office of Price Stabilization.

Rather than pay black market prices for potatoes, the New York State Restaurant Association advised its 1,500 members to drop them from their menus.

The Horn and Hardart chain of Automat restaurants announced it had stopped serving potatoes. The Childs Restaurants announced that on Monday they would start recommending substitutes for potatoes.

Potatoa Service, Inc., of Brooklyn, which serves city institutions and 500 restaurants, said it had suspended operations until normal prices return.

'Cart Before Horse'

Wikler said anybody blaming the OPS and price regulations for the potato shortage was "putting the cart before the horse. A threatened shortage caused a price rise before ceilings were established and the price rise, in turn, made ceilings necessary."

He commended grocer, hotel and restaurant associations that have urged members to refuse to buy potatoes at over-ceiling or black market prices.

"If reputable growers and businessmen and the American buying public in general will join in this refusal to be victimized, the black market will cease to exist," he said.

Russia Closes Roads

Frankfurt, Germany, May 24 (AP)—Russia closed three roads between East and West Germany today and ordered two more closed tomorrow in a menacing drive against the Bonn republic's alliance with the West. Backing up Communist threats that signing the Bonn peace contract Monday could kill chances of German reunification, the Soviet orders left only five out of ten interzonal road crossings undisturbed. Max Reimann, West German Communist chairman, called at the same time for millions of workers in the Ruhr and elsewhere to stage mass strikes against the peace contract.

Aviation to Get Restoration by Tuesday on Needs

Washington, May 24 (AP)—The back-to-work movement of striking oil workers has brought an end to all restrictions on use of automobile gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil.

In cancelling the ban yesterday, the government said it would relax control of aviation gasoline Tuesday. Delivery of gasoline for sport and pleasure flying will continue to be forbidden.

Interior Secretary Chapman, chief of the Petroleum Administration for Defense, said restrictions on aviation gasoline could not be removed before mid-June. He said much of the facilities that turn out such fuel are still idled by the strike.

His action was taken in the fact of an urgent demand from airline operators, most of whom had sharply curtailed their flight schedules. Chapman said he believed the modified order will avoid serious dislocation of air transport.

As Regards Aviation Gas

Next Tuesday's change for aviation gasoline will allow purchasers during each of the three

Grand Jury Plans Resumption Soon

Hudson, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—The special grand jury investigating Columbia county gambling will go back to work May 29.

The jurors recessed yesterday after hearing 17 witnesses testify about a crap game and the numbers racket.

One of the witnesses, August Schnack of Hudson, formerly was the county's night jailer. Schnack told a State Crime Commission hearing last December that he wrote and played "the numbers."

Earlier, Wilbur Hoodmaker, 59, self-designated croupier, and John Hermance, 55, who said he was doorman, were quizzed about a regular Saturday night crap game in Hudson. Both have said the game was run about two years ago by Edward Dillon.

All three are of Hudson.

Thomas Mason, assistant chief prosecutor, said some of the other 14 witnesses were questioned about the crap game, and some about the numbers game.

Drive Is Started To Restore Some Foreign Aid Money

$1,737,400,000 Is Sliced by House; Cut Scored by Rayburn as Help to Communism

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Administration leaders opened an attack today to restore some of $1,737,400,000 the House cut out of President Truman's foreign aid program for next year. The evident hope was that the Senate would go easier with the pruning knife.

Overtones of the presidential campaign were obvious as the House chopped the big aid bill from the $7,900,000,000 Truman asked to $6,162,000,000 before approving it last night. The roll call vote on passage was 245 to 110.

Two floor cuts, sponsored by backers of Sen. Taft (R.-Ohio), lopped 726½ million dollars from economic aid for Europe and the Far East. The House also approved slashes of $1,010,900,000 in European economic and military assistance made previously by the Foreign Affairs Committee.

The Taft backers overrode the more moderate reductions proposed by supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the senator's main opponent for the Republican presidential nomination and retiring commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces.

No Election in Russia

Speaker Rayburn made one of his rare speeches in the closing debate to declare that "every time we reduce the defense program of our allies, by so much we reduce our security." He said Russia now has taken air superiority from the United States.

"This is not an election year in Russia," he said.

Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said the House had "taken upon itself to undermine the idea of mutual security."

He implied that the vote would handicap Secretary of State Acheson in his efforts to negotiate a final contractual agreement with west Germany. Acheson is now in Bonn, Germany, for the purpose.

W. John Kenney, deputy director of the Mutual Security Administration, said the vote will mean "the loss of European divisions, aircraft squadrons and naval units which we cannot afford to lose."

Senate Gets Measure Monday

The House measure now goes to the Senate which will resume debate Monday on its own $6,900,000,000 foreign aid program. Proposals already have been made for cuts ranging from half a billion to one billion dollars more.

Taft has said he would support,

Wallkill Girl Is Found After Search

150-Man Posse Discovers Linda Birch, 2½, Safe in Nearby Woods

Linda Birch, two and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Birch of Sand Hill road, Walkill, was found sleeping peacefully in the woods near her home Friday night after a two-hour search by a posse of 150 men.

Linda strayed from her yard about 7 p. m. Friday, according to the report made to state police at the Highland station.

Fearing for her safety because of the nearness of the Wallkill river, a searching party was hastily organized, and by 9 p. m.—when the girl was found—the party totalled 150 state troopers, volunteer firemen, prison guards and other volunteers.

State police said the girl was found, asleep and unharmed, in the woods about 300 yards from her home and about 400 yards from the river.

Eisenhower Aides Seen in Control in Spokane Section

(By The Associated Press)

Republicans in three states name a total of 51 presidential-nominating delegates today with the battle in each pitched along Taft-Eisenhower lines.

The tussles in Washington, Maryland and Minnesota shaped up this way:

WASHINGTON — Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's backers appeared in control of the convention at Spokane, where the state's 24 delegates to the national convention will be chosen.

They claim they will win as many as 22. The balance of power rests with representatives from Seattle, who constitute nearly one-third of the state convention. The Seattle group is pledged to vote as one for Eisenhower delegates.

Protest May Come

Backers of Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, however, are talking of a possible walkout to protest this pledge. They won an initial victory last night when the convention rules committee decided to recommend that delegates can not vote as a unit. A motion from

Big Three Convene With Adenauer on West German Pact

Contract Is to Be Signed Monday — Ministers Then Go to Paris for Session

Bonn, Germany, May 24 (AP)—The Big Three foreign ministers meet Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today to iron out final details of the pact to ally 48 million Germans with the west and to discuss mounting Soviet opposition to such an alliance.

The long-awaited peace contract which will give West Germany a key spot in free Europe's defenses against Red aggression is to be signed Monday by the diplomatic leaders of the United States, Britain, France and the Bonn Republic.

Will Fly to Paris

The Big Three then will fly to Paris for the signing of a companion European defense community pact Tuesday which will put some 400,000 German troops into a united European force of one million men.

U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman were to confer with their high commissioners for Germany before the afternoon session with Adenauer.

The commissioners were to brief the ministers on the still unsettled points in the peace contract which they must include in this last minute parley.

These points include the date

State Subpoenas Are Issued Based On Prescriptions

New York, May 24 (AP)—New York state is investigating an alleged prescription writing racket involving doctors, druggists and drug companies.

Reportedly involved are charges that doctors buy known drugs, relabel them, sell them at higher prices to druggists, and then specify them in prescriptions for their patients.

The inquiry was launched yesterday by State Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein, who said a number of subpoenas had been issued.

Goldstein said company-druggist-doctor tie-ins, as alleged, are illegal. He said he acted on the basis of "data and information furnished me," but he did not elaborate and did not specify any names or sources.

Several witnesses were questioned yesterday, and others will be questioned today. Goldstein said some subpoenas have been issued for service in upstate areas "below Albany."

Schuster's Father Declares Police Discounted Threats

New York, May 24 (AP)—The father of slain Arnold Schuster charges that threats to his son's life were discounted by a police official as the work of cranks and crackpots.

The father, Max Schuster is suing the city for $500,000 damages, alleging his 24-year-old son was not properly guarded after he tipped off police to bankrobber Willie Sutton.

Shortly after the young pants salesman was slain near his Brooklyn home, police said their offers to guard Schuster had been turned down. Schuster's murderer never has been identified.

The preliminary hearing on the suit was heard yesterday in Brooklyn's municipal building. Although barred from the session, newsmen said they could hear angry voices behind the closed door.

At one point, Schuster was heard telling Assistant Corporation Counsel Abraham B. Silvers that, after seeking protection for his son, a police captain told him: "Don't worry, Mr. Schuster. It's all cranks and crackpots. No harm will come to your son."

Schuster's attorney, Harry H. Lipsig, was heard to say that a plea for protection—and a similar answer—occurred on the day young Schuster was shot down.

Also yesterday, insurance company started suit against Sutton, Thomas Kling, and John De Venuta to recover $64,000 stolen by the trio from the Sunnyside branch of the Manufacturers Trust Company in 1950.

Sutton and Kling were sentenced last April 2 to 30-years-to-life imprisonment for their part in the robbery and other offenses. Kling is in Sing Sing prison and Sutton is in Attica State Prison. De Venuta, who pleaded guilty to second degree robbery and turned state's evidence in the trial of Sutton and Kling, has not yet been sentenced.

The suit against the trio was filed in Supreme Court by the Indemnity Insurance Company of North America. The action did not indicate how the insurance firm expected to get the money if it won the suit.

Presbyterian Church Ends Rule on Divorce Remarriage

New York, May 24 (AP)—The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. has thrown out a part of its church law saying its ministers may remarry a divorced person only after a year has elapsed since the divorce.

The change, given final approval by the 2,500,000-member church's top governing body, also strikes out a phrase specifying that ministers may remarry the innocent party to a divorce.

No restrictions concerning remarriage of the guilty or innocent party is contained in the newly substituted section of the church's "directory of worship."

It specifies only that the minister, before remarrying a divorced person, "shall ascertain whether there is penitence for past sin and failure, and intention to enter, with the help of God, and through his church" into a lasting marriage of "love, honor, forbearance and loyalty."

The action culminated several years of debate over the church's marriage and divorce policies.

Endorsed during the past year by a majority of the church's 259 local Presbyteries, the revision got final approval yesterday by the church's 164th annual general assembly.

More than 2,000 Presbyterian leaders are here for the week-long meeting, which also adopted an extensive program of "cooperative activity" with the two other major Presbyterian branches—the 700,000-member Presbyterian Church in the U. S., and the 300,000-member United Presbyterian Church.

The action, cited as a forerunner to a "plan of union," calls for liaison between the three churches in fields of evangelism, stewardship, pulpit exchange, the chaplaincy and in locating new churches.

A common hymn book for the three branches is being prepared.

Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, president of Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., and head of an interchurch relations commission, said a plan for merger of the three bodies is expected to be ready for submission to general assemblies

The jurors recessed yesterday after hearing 17 witnesses testify about a crap game and the numbers racket.

One of the witnesses, August Schnack of Hudson, formerly was the county's night jailer. Schnack told a State Crime Commission hearing last December that he wrote and played "the numbers."

Earlier, Wilbur Hoodmaker, 59, self-designated croupier, and John Hermance, 55, who said he was doorman, were quizzed about a regular Saturday night crap game in Hudson. Both have said the game was run about two years ago by Edward Dillon.

All three are of Hudson.

Thomas Mason, assistant chief prosecutor, said some of the other 14 witnesses were questioned about the crap game, and some about the numbers game.

Drive Is Started To Restore Some Foreign Aid Money

$1,737,400,000 Is Sliced by House; Cut Scored by Rayburn as Help to Communism

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Administration leaders opened an attack today to restore some of $1,737,400,000 the House cut out of President Truman's foreign aid program for next year. The evident hope was that the Senate would go easier with the pruning knife.

Overtones of the presidential campaign were obvious as the House chopped the big aid bill from the $7,900,000,000 Truman asked to $6,162,000,000 before approving it last night. The roll call vote on passage was 245 to 110.

Two floor cuts, sponsored by backers of Sen. Taft (R.-Ohio), lopped 726½ million dollars from economic aid for Europe and the Far East. The House also approved slashes of $1,010,900,000 in European economic and military assistance made previously by the Foreign Affairs Committee.

The Taft backers overrode the more moderate reductions proposed by supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the senator's main opponent for the Republican presidential nomination and retiring commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces.

No Election in Russia

Speaker Rayburn made one of his rare speeches in the closing debate to declare that "every time we reduce the defense program of our allies, by so much we reduce our security." He said Russia now has taken air superiority from the United States.

"This is not an election year in Russia," he said.

Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said the House had "taken upon itself to undermine the idea of mutual security."

He implied that the vote would handicap Secretary of State Acheson in his efforts to negotiate a final contractual agreement with west Germany. Acheson is now in Bonn, Germany, for the purpose.

W. John Kenney, deputy director of the Mutual Security Administration, said the vote will mean "the loss of European divisions, aircraft squadrons and naval units which we cannot afford to lose."

Senate Gets Measure Monday

The House measure now goes to the Senate which will resume debate Monday on its own $6,900,000,000 foreign aid program. Proposals already have been made for cuts ranging from half a billion to one billion dollars more.

Taft has said he would support,

Wallkill Girl Is Found After Search

150-Man Posse Discovers Linda Birch, 2½, Safe in Nearby Woods

Linda Birch, two and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Birch of Sand Hill road, Walkill, was found sleeping peacefully in the woods near her home Friday night after a two-hour search by a posse of 150 men.

Linda strayed from her yard about 7 p. m. Friday, according to the report made to state police at the Highland station.

Fearing for her safety because of the nearness of the Wallkill river, a searching party was hastily organized, and by 9 p. m.—when the girl was found—the party totalled 150 state troopers, volunteer firemen, prison guards and other volunteers.

State police said the girl was found, asleep and unharmed, in the woods about 300 yards from her home and about 400 yards from the river.

Eisenhower Aides Seen in Control in Spokane Section

(By The Associated Press)

Republicans in three states name a total of 51 presidential-nominating delegates today with the battle in each pitched along Taft-Eisenhower lines.

The tussles in Washington, Maryland and Minnesota shaped up this way:

WASHINGTON — Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's backers appeared in control of the convention at Spokane, where the state's 24 delegates to the national convention will be chosen.

They claim they will win as many as 22. The balance of power rests with representatives from Seattle, who constitute nearly one-third of the state convention. The Seattle group is pledged to vote as one for Eisenhower delegates.

Protest May Come

Backers of Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, however, are talking of a possible walkout to protest this pledge. They won an initial victory last night when the convention rules committee decided to recommend that delegations can not vote as a unit. A motion from

Big Three Convene With Adenauer on West German Pact

Contract Is to Be Signed Monday — Ministers Then Go to Paris for Session

Bonn, Germany, May 24 (AP)—The Big Three foreign ministers meet Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today to iron out final details of the pact to ally 48 million Germans with the west and to discuss mounting Soviet opposition to such an alliance.

The long-awaited peace contract which will give West Germany a key spot in free Europe's defenses against Red aggression is to be signed Monday by the diplomatic leaders of the United States, Britain, France and the Bonn Republic.

Will Fly to Paris

The Big Three then will fly to Paris for the signing of a companion European defense community pact Tuesday which will put some 400,000 German troops into a united European force of one million men.

U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman were to confer with their high commissioners for Germany before the afternoon session with Adenauer.

The commissioners were to brief the ministers on the still unsettled points in the peace contract which they must include in this last minute parley.

These points include the date

State Subpoenas Are Issued Based On Prescriptions

New York, May 24 (AP)—New York state is investigating an alleged prescription writing racket involving doctors, druggists and drug companies.

Reportedly involved are charges that doctors buy known drugs, relabel them, sell them at higher prices to druggists, and then specify them in prescriptions for their patients.

The inquiry was launched yesterday by State Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein, who said a number of subpoenas had been issued.

Goldstein said company-druggist-doctor tie-ins, as alleged, are illegal. He said he acted on the basis of "data and information furnished me," but he did not elaborate and did not specify any names or sources.

Several witnesses were questioned yesterday, and others will be questioned today. Goldstein said some subpoenas have been issued for service in upstate areas "below Albany."

Schuster's Father Declares Police Discounted Threats

New York, May 24 (AP)—The father of slain Arnold Schuster charges that threats to his son's life were discounted by a police official as the work of cranks and crackpots.

The father, Max Schuster is suing the city for $500,000 damages, alleging his 24-year-old son was not properly guarded after he tipped off police to bankrobber Willie Sutton.

Shortly after the young pants salesman was slain near his Brooklyn home, police said their offers to guard Schuster had been turned down. Schuster's murderer never has been identified.

The preliminary hearing on the suit was heard yesterday in Brooklyn's municipal building. Although barred from the session, newsmen said they could hear angry voices behind the closed door.

At one point, Schuster was heard telling Assistant Corporation Counsel Abraham B. Silvers that, after seeking protection for his son, a police captain told him: "Don't worry, Mr. Schuster. It's all cranks and crackpots. No harm will come to your son."

Schuster's attorney, Harry H. Lipsig, was heard to say that a plea for protection—and a similar answer—occurred on the day young Schuster was shot down.

Also yesterday, insurance company started suit against Sutton, Thomas Kling, and John De Venuta to recover $64,000 stolen by the trio from the Sunnyside branch of the Manufacturers Trust Company in 1950.

Sutton and Kling were sentenced last April 2 to 30-years-to-life imprisonment for their part in the robbery and other offenses. Kling is in Sing Sing prison and Sutton is in Attica State Prison. De Venuta, who pleaded guilty to second degree robbery and turned state's evidence in the trial of Sutton and Kling, has not yet been sentenced.

The suit against the trio was filed in Supreme Court by the Indemnity Insurance Company of North America. The action did not indicate how the insurance firm expected to get the money if it won the suit.

Presbyterian Church Ends Rule on Divorce Remarriage

New York, May 24 (AP)—The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. has thrown out a part of its church law saying its ministers may remarry a divorced person only after a year has elapsed since the divorce.

The change, given final approval by the 2,500,000-member church's top governing body, also strikes out a phrase specifying that ministers may remarry the innocent party to a divorce.

No restrictions concerning remarriage of the guilty or innocent party is contained in the newly substitued section of the church's "directory of worship."

It specifies only that the minister, before remarrying a divorced person, "shall ascertain whether there is penitence for past sin and failure, and intention to enter, with the help of God, and through his church" into a lasting marriage of "love, honor, forbearance and loyalty."

The action culminated several years of debate over the church's marriage and divorce policies.

Endorsed during the past year by a majority of the church's 259 local Presbyteries, the revision got final approval yesterday by the church's 164th annual general assembly.

More than 2,000 Presbyterian leaders are here for the week-long meeting, which also adopted an extensive program of "cooperative activity" with the two other major Presbyterian branches—the 700,000-member Presbyterian Church in the U. S., and the 300,000-member United Presbyterian Church.

The action, cited as a forerunner to a "plan of union," calls for liaison between the three churches in fields of evangelism, stewardship, pulpit exchange, the chaplaincy and in locating new churches.

A common hymn book for the three branches is being prepared.

Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, president of Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., and head of an interchurch relations commission, said a plan for merger of the three bodies is expected to be ready for submission to general assemblies

CA Methodists Plan Film Sunday Morning

Another in a series of special films will be shown Sunday at 9:45 a. m. in the assembly room of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. This week's film is the Kyoto Story.

The film is a story of a GI in Japan, who through his personal experiences with a missionary, discovers the important work of the Christian church in the missionary field. He sees Christian teachers of medicine, agriculture, language, recreation and religion at work.

The film also brings out that the great and little people are all of concern to the missionary whenever and wherever they need the helping hand of a follower of Christ.

All are invited to see the film as it has an appeal and a message for all members of the family.

Rev. Roger Powell To Preach Sunday At First Baptist

The Rev. Roger K. Powell, of Rochester, son of Attorney and Mrs. Floyd Powell of 46 Pine Grove avenue, will be the guest preacher at the 11 a. m. worship service Sunday at the First Baptist Church, corner of Albany avenue and Broadway.

He will supply the pulpit in the absence of the Rev. Donald E. Brown who is attending the annual American Baptist convention in Chicago. His sermon topic for Sunday is Only Believe, taken from an old hymn.

The Rev. Mr. Powell was graduated from the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School in 1939 and later that year was ordained into the ministry at the Wurts Street Baptist Church, this city. He was graduated from Kingston High School in 1932.

During the next 10 years he served as pastor of the New Berlin Church and the Camillus Church.

Author of Hymn

The Rev. Mr. Powell gained nationwide acclaim following the publication of his hymn, Lord, We Thank Thee for Our Brothers, which he wrote in 1948. The hymn, which was written for the National Council of Churches, has been introduced in all parts of the country by Dr. Hugh C. Burr of Rochester, and is now used extensively. The Rev. Mr. Powell's hymn was introduced in Kingston recently when the Colgate chorus appeared at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Powell is married to the former Miss Doris Wilson of Rochester and they have two children, Louise, 5½ and Lee, 2½.

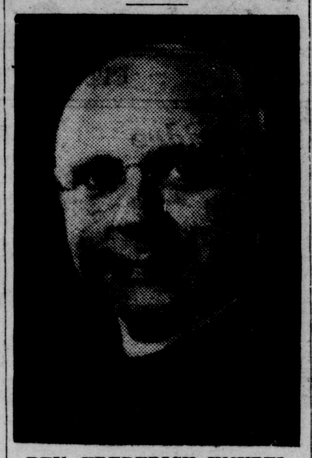
The Sacred Heart radio program will be heard daily from 9 a. m. to 9:15 a. m. Monday through Friday, over WKNY.

Redeemer Church Has Anniversary Service Sunday



REV. FREDERICK KNUBEL

The Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Roger streets will observe its 55th anniversary Sunday with a service of Thanksgiving at which the Rev. Frederick R. Knubel, DD, LL.D., president of the United Lutheran Synod of New York will be the guest preacher. A brief account of the congregation's life will be given and the names of the remaining charter members of the church will be read by the pastor, the Rev. David C. Gaise, who will conduct the service.

Shortly after its organization early in 1897, the first service was held in Liscomb's Opera House on Broadway and Spring streets. Later the same year the property where the present church now stands was purchased. The Rev. William F. Bacher, DD, now retired and living in Milwaukee, was the first pastor and served the congregation for nine years. The building in which the congregation now worships was dedicated in May, 1913.

At California Sessions

Dr. Knubel, the speaker for the anniversary observance, has recently returned from the Pacific coast where he represented the United Lutheran Church in America at the convention of the California Synod. One of the leaders in the Lutheran Church in this country, Dr. Knubel was chosen this year to give the Knubel-Miller lectures in five American cities. The lectureship was established by the church in honor of Dr. Knubel's father, the first president of the United Lutheran Church in America, and Dr. E. Clarence Miller, its first treasurer. The New York Synod, of which he is now the president, is made up of 350 congregations with a confirmed membership of over 150,000.

Special Music Planned

Festival music for the anniversary service has been planned by Leonard Stine, choir director, and Mrs. Lester Decker, organist, as follows: The anthems, The Lord Is My Light by Parker and To The, O Country by Eichnberg and the organ voluntaries, A Song of Joy by Stebbins and March for a Church Festival by Best. The youth choir under the direction of Erika Krien also will participate in the service.

The charter members of Redeemer Church who will receive a token of love and gratitude at the service include the following who are in the vicinity: Mrs. Fred DuBois, John Herrmann, Mary Hetzel, Carrie Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. George Kirschner, Mrs. Elizabeth Lebert, Mrs. Theresa Scott, Edith Mayer, Mrs. Alva Bruce, Mrs. Caroline Schwab, Blandina Walter, Mrs. Frank Southard, Julia Walter, Mrs. Elizabeth Zellmer, Mrs. Mary Grogan, Mrs. Louise Ostrander and Mrs. Emma Salzmann.

Will Dedicate Bible

In connection with the service, a new lectern Bible will be dedicated in memory of Daniel and Elizabeth Herb. The Bible is a gift from Mrs. Delia Carle, their daughter, who lives in Chatham.

Paltz Methodists Plan Rural Life Services Sunday

Rural Life Sunday will be observed in the New Paltz Methodist Church Sunday, May 25. Church school will be at 9:45 a. m. as usual and the worship service will begin at 11 a. m. The Rev. Willett R. Porter Jr., who at the annual conference session in New York, was reappointed to the New Paltz Charge for the coming year, will preach on A Message From an Ancient Country Preacher.

In the evening, members of the Wesley Fellowship and the Youth Fellowship will travel to the Stone Ridge Methodist Church to view the religious film, Great Discovery which stars Colleen Townsend. The Rev. Malcolm Shattuck, pastor of the Stone Ridge Church, announces that this service will begin at 8 p. m. The public is invited to share in the viewing of this motion picture.

Service Tonight

The Christian Church was born at Pentecost. The Methodist Church was born at Aldersgate. Today, marks the anniversary of John Wesley's heart-warming experience in the chapel at Aldersgate.

The doors of the New Paltz Methodist Church will be open tonight for all those wishing to share in the remembrance of that event. At 8:30 a short prayer service will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Porter. Hymns will be sung. Prayers will be offered and the famous conversion passage from John Wesley's Journal will be read. The public is invited to attend tonight in this fellowship of prayer.

Your Life and Mine

by CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

Off the Beaten Track

One of the worst offenses we ever commit against ourselves is to make of life a daily treadmill, never thinking any thought or doing any deed or traveling any road that will add the spice of a clean and wholesome variety to our days. Reducing life to a mere process of going through motions is a self-appointed punishment. For it walls freshness out. It imprisons the spirit in the drab dungeon of sameness. Nothing is worse then to surrender to the dull imperialism of heartless routines. In one way or another we are all guilty for, as Sidney Powell has said, "all of us, to some extent, are content to live on the seaboard, never entering into the unexplored yet inexhaustible resources of our own inner lives."

Alexander Graham Bell once gave this challenging advice: "Don't keep forever on the public road, going only where others have gone. Leave the beaten track occasionally and dive into the woods. You will be certain to find something you have never seen before. Of course, it will be a little thing, but do not ignore it. Follow it up, explore all around it; one discovery will lead to another, and before you know if you will have something really worth thinking about to occupy your mind. All really big discoveries are the result of thought."

You must have observed, I am sure, that the copy cats are never the most contented pussies in the world. There is a reason. They are always dealing in second-hand discoveries. They always take the trails that someone else has blazed. They have never learned that all-important secret of an occasional "dive into the woods." They have never acquired the rewarding wisdom of a jaunt, now and then, that deserts the beaten track.

Now you don't have to have two good legs or wander miles away from your four walls in order to get off the beaten track. Some of the most unusual folks I have ever met—folks who gave me the impression that they had learned the art of getting off the beaten trail by the gleam in their eyes and the radiance of their faces—have been what we call "shut-ins." They do more real exploring in life than most of the folks who have two good legs to carry them where they want to go. Goldsmith, in "The Vicar of Wakefield," speaks of adventures by our firesides and migrations from one room to another. A few years ago a French shut-in wrote an exceptionally interesting book called "A Voyage Around My Room."

The point is that straying from the beaten track is a spiritual adventure. And the challenge rings in every ear.

Bishop Donegan Asks Offering for Diocese

The Right Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan, bishop of New York, has designated Sunday, May 25, as the date on which he asks all parishes and mission churches throughout the Diocese of New York to make a special offering in support of the welfare and chaplaincy activities of the Episcopal Diocese.

In asking the offering, Bishop Donegan remarked "it will enable our people to share in providing a fund, not only to take care of the most urgent needs of our existing welfare agencies, but also to allow the whole diocese to take full advantage of new missionary opportunities now demanding vigorous action.

Four organizations will be helped by the "Bishop's Offering": The New York Protestant Episcopal Mission Society, the Seamen's Church Institute, the Youth Consultation Service and the Episcopal Service to the Aged.

Bill Is Signed

Boston, May 24 (AP)—A bill creating a toll road authority to build a 150 million dollar limited-access highway across the state from Boston to the New York line was signed last night by Gov. Paul A. Dever. The measure had been given final legislative approval Wednesday by the Massachusetts House and Senate. The highway will be financed by bond issues to be paid off with toll revenues. It will be eight lanes wide between Boston and Springfield and six from Springfield to the New York line. The highway will connect with the Connecticut parkway system south of Worcester and Springfield. Public Works Commissioner William F. Callahan said the highway could be ready in 1954.

Body Is Identified

New York, May 24 (AP)—A body recovered from the Hudson river off 125th street about 6 p. m. yesterday was tentatively identified as that of Louis Musman, 59, of 136 Norman avenue, Amityville, L. I. A son-in-law, Harry Dickson, of 1603 Arkansas Drive, Valley Stream, L. I., made the tentative identification. Dickson described his father-in-law as having been "very successful" as owner of the dress manufacturing firm of Louis Musman, Inc., of 1400 Broadway, Manhattan.

BUT CAN IT BE FOUND IN THE BIBLE?

People often indignantly demand that Catholics prove their teaching from the Bible.

The Bible is their "rule of faith"... and they argue that every man has the right and ability to discover for himself, by his interpretation of the Bible, what he must believe and do in order to be saved.

We do not question the sincerity of these people and we applaud all who strive earnestly to understand and observe the Scriptures. But — are they right in calling the Bible, privately interpreted, the sole source of Christian teaching?

"Hold the teachings that you have learned," wrote St. Paul, "whether by word or by letter of ours" (2 Thess. II:15). He refers to Christian teachings, some oral, some written... and demands that all be received.

Christianity did not begin with the Bible. It began with the coming of Christ. The Lord instructed His Apostles to "go forth... teach all nations"— and to insure that His truths would always be maintained, Christ established His Church, "... the pillar and mainstay of the truth" (1 Timothy III:15).

The last part of the Bible... written by St. John... was not completed until 60 years after the Crucifixion of Christ. There was no Bible in anything resembling its present form until nearly 400 years after Jesus had died on the Cross. And the widespread distribution of the Bible as we know it today was impossible until the invention of printing, some 1400 years after the Savior's death.

By what "rule of faith" did the millions of Christians live during those 1500 years?

The answer is, of course, that the teaching of the Church was the rule of faith for the Christian world. And St. Paul reminds us that Christianity consists of "one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism" (Eph. IV:5). "God is a God of peace, not of disorder," St. Paul said further (1 Cor. XIV:33).

Yet today we have nearly 300 different religious denominations in the United States, all calling themselves Christian... all professing the Bible as their rule of faith ... and all differing to some extent or another in their understanding of what the Bible means. Could Christ have left a "rule of faith" that would permit such confusion? Would He have left the interpretation of His Word to the fallible and changing judgments of men — when our very souls depend on a correct understanding and observance of the things Christ has taught us?

Because this question is all important... because it certainly does matter what a man believes... we invite you to examine the rule of faith of the first Christians—a rule that is still maintained by the Catholic Church. Because the Bible is God's Word, and because He gave it to us for a purpose, we invite you to see what this purpose is. We have an interesting pamphlet on the correct use of the Bible, and we offer it for the inspection of all who are sincerely interested in following the teaching of Christianity as Christ revealed it. CA Methodists Plan Film Sunday Morning

Another in a series of special films will be shown Sunday at 9:45 a. m. in the assembly room of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. This week's film is the Kyoto Story.

The film is a story of a GI in Japan, who through his personal experiences with a missionary, discovers the important work of the Christian church in the missionary field. He sees Christian teachers of medicine, agriculture, language, recreation and religion at work.

The film also brings out that the great and little people are all of concern to the missionary whenever and wherever they need the helping hand of a follower of Christ.

All are invited to see the film as it has an appeal and a message for all members of the family.

Rev. Roger Powell To Preach Sunday At First Baptist

The Rev. Roger K. Powell, of Rochester, son of Attorney and Mrs. Floyd Powell of 46 Pine Grove avenue, will be the guest preacher at the 11 a. m. worship service Sunday at the First Baptist Church, corner of Albany avenue and Broadway.

He will supply the pulpit in the absence of the Rev. Donald E. Brown who is attending the annual American Baptist convention in Chicago. His sermon topic for Sunday is Only Believe, taken from an old hymn.

The Rev. Mr. Powell was graduated from the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School in 1939 and later that year was ordained into the ministry at the Wurts Street Baptist Church, this city. He was graduated from Kingston High School in 1932.

During the next 10 years he served as pastor of the New Berlin Church and the Camillus Church.

Author of Hymn

The Rev. Mr. Powell gained nationwide acclaim following the publication of his hymn, Lord, We Thank Thee for Our Brothers, which he wrote in 1948. The hymn, which was written for the National Council of Churches, has been introduced in all parts of the country by Dr. Hugh C. Burr of Rochester, and is now used extensively. The Rev. Mr. Powell's hymn was introduced in Kingston recently when the Colgate chorus appeared at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Powell is married to the former Miss Doris Wilson of Rochester and they have two children, Louise, 5½ and Lee, 2½.

Religious Radio Programs

As a public service over Station WKNY, the Kingston Ministerial Association sponsors the morning devotions each day, except Sunday, at 8:20. Next week, as indicated, the following ministers will be officiating: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Rev. Forest R. Prindle, pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the Rev. Dr. Herbert Clyde Snell, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church.

Sacred Heart Program

The Sacred Heart radio program will be heard daily from 9 a. m. to 9:15 a. m. Monday through Friday, over WKNY.

Redeemer Church Has Anniversary Service Sunday

REV. FREDERICK KNUBEL

The Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Roger streets will observe its 55th anniversary Sunday with a service of Thanksgiving at which the Rev. Frederick R. Knubel, DD, LL.D., president of the United Lutheran Synod of New York will be the guest preacher. A brief account of the congregation's life will be given and the names of the remaining charter members of the church will be read by the pastor, the Rev. David C. Gaise, who will conduct the service.

Shortly after its organization early in 1897, the first service was held in Liscomb's Opera House on Broadway and Spring streets. Later the same year the property where the present church now stands was purchased. The Rev. William F. Bacher, DD, now retired and living in Milwaukee, was the first pastor and served the congregation for nine years. The building in which the congregation now worships was dedicated in May, 1913.

At California Sessions

Dr. Knubel, the speaker for the anniversary observance, has recently returned from the Pacific coast where he represented the United Lutheran Church in America at the convention of the California Synod. One of the leaders in the Lutheran Church in this country, Dr. Knubel was chosen this year to give the Knubel-Miller lectures in five American cities. The lectureship was established by the church in honor of Dr. Knubel's father, the first president of the United Lutheran Church in America, and Dr. E. Clarence Miller, its first treasurer. The New York Synod, of which he is now the president, is made up of 350 congregations with a confirmed membership of over 150,000.

Special Music Planned

Festival music for the anniversary service has been planned by Leonard Stine, choir director, and Mrs. Lester Decker, organist, as follows: The anthems, The Lord Is My Light by Parker and To The, O Country by Eichnberg and the organ voluntaries, A Song of Joy by Stebbins and March for a Church Festival by Best. The youth choir under the direction of Erika Krien also will participate in the service.

The charter members of Redeemer Church who will receive a token of love and gratitude at the service include the following who are in the vicinity: Mrs. Fred DuBois, John Herrmann, Mary Hetzel, Carrie Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. George Kirschner, Mrs. Elizabeth Lebert, Mrs. Theresa Scott, Edith Mayer, Mrs. Alva Bruce, Mrs. Caroline Schwab, Blandina Walter, Mrs. Frank Southard, Julia Walter, Mrs. Elizabeth Zellmer, Mrs. Mary Grogan, Mrs. Louise Ostrander and Mrs. Emma Salzmann.

Will Dedicate Bible

In connection with the service, a new lectern Bible will be dedicated in memory of Daniel and Elizabeth Herb. The Bible is a gift from Mrs. Delia Carle, their daughter, who lives in Chatham.

Paltz Methodists Plan Rural Life Services Sunday

Rural Life Sunday will be observed in the New Paltz Methodist Church Sunday, May 25. Church school will be at 9:45 a. m. as usual and the worship service will begin at 11 a. m. The Rev. Willett R. Porter Jr., who at the annual conference session in New York, was reappointed to the New Paltz Charge for the coming year, will preach on A Message From an Ancient Country Preacher.

In the evening, members of the Wesley Fellowship and the Youth Fellowship will travel to the Stone Ridge Methodist Church to view the religious film, Great Discovery which stars Colleen Townsend. The Rev. Malcolm Shattuck, pastor of the Stone Ridge Church, announces that this service will begin at 8 p. m. The public is invited to share in the viewing of this motion picture.

Service Tonight

The Christian Church was born at Pentecost. The Methodist Church was born at Aldersgate. Today, marks the anniversary of John Wesley's heart-warming experience in the chapel at Aldersgate.

The doors of the New Paltz Methodist Church will be open tonight for all those wishing to share in the remembrance of that event. At 8:30 a short prayer service will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Porter. Hymns will be sung. Prayers will be offered and the famous conversion passage from John Wesley's Journal will be read. The public is invited to attend tonight in this fellowship of prayer.

Your Life and Mine

by CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

Off the Beaten Track

One of the worst offenses we ever commit against ourselves is to make of life a daily treadmill, never thinking any thought or doing any deed or traveling any road that will add the spice of a clean and wholesome variety to our days. Reducing life to a mere process of going through motions is a self-appointed punishment. For it walls freshness out. It imprisons the spirit in the drab dungeon of sameness. Nothing is worse then to surrender to the dull imperialism of heartless routines. In one way or another we are all guilty for, as Sidney Powell has said, "all of us, to some extent, are content to live on the seaboard, never entering into the unexplored yet inexhaustible resources of our own inner lives."

Alexander Graham Bell once gave this challenging advice: "Don't keep forever on the public road, going only where others have gone. Leave the beaten track occasionally and dive into the woods. You will be certain to find something you have never seen before. Of course, it will be a little thing, but do not ignore it. Follow it up, explore all around it; one discovery will lead to another, and before you know if you will have something really worth thinking about to occupy your mind. All really big discoveries are the result of thought."

You must have observed, I am sure, that the copy cats are never the most contented pussies in the world. There is a reason. They are always dealing in second-hand discoveries. They always take the trails that someone else has blazed. They have never learned that all-important secret of an occasional "dive into the woods." They have never acquired the rewarding wisdom of a jaunt, now and then, that deserts the beaten track.

Now you don't have to have two good legs or wander miles away from your four walls in order to get off the beaten track. Some of the most unusual folks I have ever met—folks who gave me the impression that they had learned the art of getting off the beaten trail by the gleam in their eyes and the radiance of their faces—have been what we call "shut-ins." They do more real exploring in life than most of the folks who have two good legs to carry them where they want to go. Goldsmith, in "The Vicar of Wakefield," speaks of adventures by our firesides and migrations from one room to another. A few years ago a French shut-in wrote an exceptionally interesting book called "A Voyage Around My Room."

The point is that straying from the beaten track is a spiritual adventure. And the challenge rings in every ear.

Bishop Donegan Asks Offering for Diocese

The Right Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan, bishop of New York, has designated Sunday, May 25, as the date on which he asks all parishes and mission churches throughout the Diocese of New York to make a special offering in support of the welfare and chaplaincy activities of the Episcopal Diocese.

In asking the offering, Bishop Donegan remarked "it will enable our people to share in providing a fund, not only to take care of the most urgent needs of our existing welfare agencies, but also to allow the whole diocese to take full advantage of new missionary opportunities now demanding vigorous action.

Four organizations will be helped by the "Bishop's Offering": The New York Protestant Episcopal Mission Society, the Seamen's Church Institute, the Youth Consultation Service and the Episcopal Service to the Aged.

Bill Is Signed

Boston, May 24 (AP)—A bill creating a toll road authority to build a 150 million dollar limited-access highway across the state from Boston to the New York line was signed last night by Gov. Paul A. Dever. The measure had been given final legislative approval Wednesday by the Massachusetts House and Senate. The highway will be financed by bond issues to be paid off with toll revenues. It will be eight lanes wide between Boston and Springfield and six from Springfield to the New York line. The highway will connect with the Connecticut parkway system south of Worcester and Springfield. Public Works Commissioner William F. Callahan said the highway could be ready in 1954.

Body Is Identified

New York, May 24 (AP)—A body recovered from the Hudson river off 125th street about 6 p. m. yesterday was tentatively identified as that of Louis Musman, 59, of 136 Norman avenue, Amityville, L. I. A son-in-law, Harry Dickson, of 1603 Arkansas Drive, Valley Stream, L. I., made the tentative identification. Dickson described his father-in-law as having been "very successful" as owner of the dress manufacturing firm of Louis Musman, Inc., of 1400 Broadway, Manhattan.

BUT CAN IT BE FOUND IN THE BIBLE?

People often indignantly demand that Catholics prove their teaching from the Bible.

The Bible is their "rule of faith"... and they argue that every man has the right and ability to discover for himself, by his interpretation of the Bible, what he must believe and do in order to be saved.

We do not question the sincerity of these people and we applaud all who strive earnestly to understand and observe the Scriptures. But — are they right in calling the Bible, privately interpreted, the sole source of Christian teaching?

"Hold the teachings that you have learned," wrote St. Paul, "whether by word or by letter of ours" (2 Thess. II:15). He refers to Christian teachings, some oral, some written... and demands that all be received.

Christianity did not begin with the Bible. It began with the coming of Christ. The Lord instructed His Apostles to "go forth... teach all nations"— and to insure that His truths would always be maintained, Christ established His Church, "... the pillar and mainstay of the truth" (1 Timothy III:15).

The last part of the Bible... written by St. John... was not completed until 60 years after the Crucifixion of Christ. There was no Bible in anything resembling its present form until nearly 400 years after Jesus had died on the Cross. And the widespread distribution of the Bible as we know it today was impossible until the invention of printing, some 1400 years after the Savior's death.

By what "rule of faith" did the millions of Christians live during those 1500 years?

The answer is, of course, that the teaching of the Church was the rule of faith for the Christian world. And St. Paul reminds us that Christianity consists of "one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism" (Eph. IV:5). "God is a God of peace, not of disorder," St. Paul said further (1 Cor. XIV:33).

Yet today we have nearly 300 different religious denominations in the United States, all calling themselves Christian... all professing the Bible as their rule of faith ... and all differing to some extent or another in their understanding of what the Bible means. Could Christ have left a "rule of faith" that would permit such confusion? Would He have left the interpretation of His Word to the fallible and changing judgments of men — when our very souls depend on a correct understanding and observance of the things Christ has taught us?

Because this question is all important... because it certainly does matter what a man believes... we invite you to examine the rule of faith of the first Christians—a rule that is still maintained by the Catholic Church. Because the Bible is God's Word, and because He gave it to us for a purpose, we invite you to see what this purpose is. We have an interesting pamphlet on the correct use of the Bible, and we offer it for the inspection of all who are sincerely interested in following the teaching of Christianity as Christ revealed it. Boys Club Drive Is Slated Monday

"A small contribution today is an investment in the citizens of tomorrow," said Nick Cosmos, director of the Kingston Boys Club, as he addressed a group of volunteers, who will solicit funds Monday between 6 and 8 p. m.

Cosmos stressed that funds are needed to continue the program of the club—supervised sports, games, crafts, reading, everything a normal boy likes to do—which keeps youngsters from the hazards and temptations of the street.

"A boy on the streets is like a rudderless ship," said Cosmos. "He may go in any direction."

"The Boys Club appeals to all," he added, "so that our very important work may be continued another year.

"Give what you can, no matter how small," he stressed, "because a little goes a long way towards helping our boys to a worthwhile manhood."

Boy Scout Camp Staff Completed; To Open July 6

Walter T. Tremper, chairman of the camp committee of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced that the 1952 camp staff has been selected. The camp staff this year will be directed by Francis W. Teel, field scout executive, who will attend the National Camping School in June. Serving as waterfront director will be Carl Constant, an Eagle Scout of Troop 11, St. James Methodist Church in Kingston. His assistant will be Joseph Thurin, another Eagle Scout of Troop 3, St. Joseph's Church, Kingston.

Richard Constant of Troop 11 and Earl Schoonmaker of Troop 9, Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Kingston, will both serve as provisional scoutmasters. Their assistants will be Robert Shellenberger and Edwin Strong, both of Troop 8, First Presbyterian Church, Kingston, and Robert Coutant and Robert Sanford of Troop 26 of the Port Ewen Reformed Church. The camp clerk will be Frederick Carr of Troop 3. Michael Davis, an Eagle Scout of Troop 3 will serve as the commissary director and dining hall steward.

The chef this summer will be David Brown of Kingston. Assisting him will be James Brice of Troop 2, Connelly. Serving as kitchen helpers will be Thomas Murphy also of Troop 2 and Lester Lawrence of Troop 63 in Shokan.

All Scouts registered for camp before May 15 will receive a free camp tee shirt. At the present time 95 Scouts and Explorers from 13 different troops have registered for 152 boy-weeks. The goal is 400 boy-weeks.

The camp staff will report for active duty Sunday, June 29, and will spend this week getting the camp ready and in getting training so by the time the campers arrive Sunday, July 6, all physical arrangements will be ready and all staff members will be fully trained to give the campers the best scout camp experience they have ever had.

HST Asks Action

Washington, May 24 (AP)—President Truman has again asked Congress to act on his reorganization plans putting the appointment of postmasters, U. S. marshals and customs officials on a strict civil service basis. Truman's request was made in a message yesterday to Congress accompanying the annual report of the Civil Service Commission.

Plan Monday Drive for Boys Club

These representatives of various organizations interested in helping the Kingston Boys Club are planning the door-to-door financial drive for Monday, when the canvass will be made between 6 and 8 p. m. They anticipate generous response. Seated (l. to r.) Betty Thurin, Boys Club Auxiliary, Mrs. P. Corsones, Junior Married Women's Club; Mrs. William Jordan and Mrs. Betty Scism, of Joyce-Schirick Post, VFW, Auxiliary; Lewis Eaton, Troop 5, Boy Scouts; Elizabeth Nussbaum, Jewish Community Center; standing, Mrs. Barbara Shultz, Junior League; Mrs. Mabel Fisher, member of Boys Club board of directors; Mrs. Sarah Richens, Amalgamated Clothing Workers and Robert Sember of Boys Club Leaders. Boland Praises Ulster 40 and 8 On Child Program

A dinner for national and state officers of La Societe 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux was enjoyed by approximately 100 members, their wives and friends, Thursday at Williams Lake Hotel.

The occasion served a dual purpose in that it was also a testimonial for Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., of Kingston, oldest active grand chef de gare passe (past state commander) of the organization.

George Boland, Omaha, Neb., chef de chemin de fer (national commander), praised the child welfare program of Ulster Voiture, 381, singling out its tonsillectomy project as one of the greatest in the nation.

For more than five years, the voiture has furnished indigent children with hospitalization and physicians to remove tonsils.

"You are to be commended for your fine program in the interest of children," Boland told the assemblage, "because their welfare is the main concern of the 40 & 8."

Ulster voiture also works among the orphanages of the area, furnishing presents, entertainment and parties.

Urges Membership

Samuel Altman, grand chef de gare, spoke on membership and urged 40 & 8 men to help the American Legion with its drive so that greater numbers might be enrolled to assist the organization in its program for veterans benefits.

Ulster voiture chef de gare Meyer Kaplan, gave the address of welcome. Attorney Walter J. Miller, cheminot nationale, said he was proud to be a Legionnaire and 40 & 8er, because the organizations "have programs that do more for ex-servicemen, their families and children, than any veterans' organization.

Andrew J. Murphy Jr., was presented with an emblem denoting his service to the 40 & 8.

Attorney James G. Connelly was toastmaster.

Insect Invasion Is Due; Prepare For It Now

By HENRY PREE
Written for NEA Service

Insects of every size and description and diseases due to physiological conditions, various viruses, and fungi will visit your garden, no matter how careful you may be of your plants.

More than half of the known species of animals in the world, if we can believe the encyclopedia, are insects. Yet, strange as it may seem, neither spiders or centipedes are insects, but bugs, since the true insect always has six legs and usually two pairs of wings.

The best-known insects are beetles, grasshoppers, butterflies, and moths. Bugs or insects, call them what you will, can play havoc with your vegetables unless you are prepared with the proper material to attack them the moment of their arrival.

To successfully combat insects or bugs the gardener should know that some chew for a living while others insert a rasping, sucking mouth into the plant to draw upon the juices for their existence.

The more common and destructive chewing insects are the canker worms, cabbage worms (hornworms), brown tail caterpillar, Colorado potato beetle, Mexican bean beetle, flea beetle, rose bug, slug.

The sucking insects include the San Jose bug, garden flea hoppers, squash bug, thrip, aphid, chinch bug, and red spider.

Chewing insects must be combatted by spraying or dusting their food plants with stomach poisons such as lead arsenate, DDT, methoxychlor, chlordane, lindane, rotenone-bearing compounds and fixed nicotine compounds.

Other than rotenone none of these poisons are effective for control of aphids. This pest is controlled by contact insecticides which clog up the breathing pores and thus kill by suffocation. Aphids breathe by means of small pores arranged in pairs along the sides of the abdomen and thorax. Therefore, to be effective, the spray or dust must strike the insect and not be applied on the plant in hopes that he will crawl through and destroy himself.

Fungus is a low form of plant life which, because it cannot make its own food, feeds on growing plant or decaying vegetable and animal matter. The most important fungus diseases to annoy the gardener are several blights, leaf and fruit spots, scabs, mildews and canker diseases.

Fungus diseases cannot be cured but they can be prevented to a marked degree by the use of protective fungicides applied at the right time. The powdery mildew is the one exception and may be killed with a sulfur dust or spray.

Preventative fungicides include Bordeaux mixture, lime-sulfur, copper compounds and organics like ziram, zinek, ferbam and manzate.

Be sure to note, a fungicide does not kill insects, and an insecticide does not control diseases.

Good Garden Hose Deserves Right Care

Good garden hose is an important investment but it will last for years if given reasonable care.

When a hose gets dirty, clean it with plain water only, not with soap or detergents. And don't try to renew the surface with ordinary home polishing wax.

Drain the hose thoroughly and wipe it clean before reeling it.

Never coil or bend a frozen hose. Never hang over a nail; use a reel or rack.

Never kink the hose to shut off the flow of water, and don't shut off the water at the hose nozzle for long periods.

Don't run over the hose with a cart or wheelbarrow; if it's in the line of lawn or garden traffic, protect it with a simple wooden bridge.

Do not drop or drag hose couplings on the ground or pavement.

Cost of Home Raised By Dormer Windows

Dormer and bay windows add many dollars to the cost of a house and often serve no particularly good purpose.

A plain roof with simple lines usually gives a more pleasing effect. Purpose of installing dormers is to bring light to the second story. This can often be accomplished at less expense by carrying the wall up a little higher and installing ordinary windows just below the roof line.

If a bay window is desired, costs can be reduced and the effect retained by ending it at floor level instead of continuing it on to the ground.

Prevents Ladder Marks

Tack a piece of old inner tube to the bottom of each leg of the stepladder and you won't have to worry about the ladder marking up the floors.

Scarce Materials Are Saved by Insulation

Biggest problem facing home builders today is curtailment in civilian supply of steel, copper, aluminum and other metals. Plumbing and heating supplies are hardest hit by government restrictions. Building industry leaders believe that sufficient steel and other metals will be available if houses are engineered so that smaller heating plants can be used.

Fully one-fourth of the metal required in a heating system can be saved by weather-stripping all windows and doors and providing complete thermal insulation, University of Minnesota engineers proved.

Their studies show that when a house is weather-stripped and insulated full-thick in walls and roof, the size of the heating plant can be reduced between 23 and 30 per cent, depending on the type of fuel used. The reason is that the insulation slows down the escape of heat to such an extent that a smaller furnace and less radiation is required to keep the house at a comfortable temperature. Cost of insulation is more than offset by saving in cost of heating system.

Experiments conducted for many years by entomologists of the Dept.'s Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine indicate that 5 per cent DDT in No. 2 fuel oil gives a satisfactory answer to this age-old insect problem. The insecticide is applied to the soil surrounding wooden structures needing protection at the rate of one quart per cubic foot of soil.

Termite control is both easier and cheaper, the entomologists say, when control effects are directed toward preventing them from getting into buildings, rather than killing them after they get in. DDT insecticide fits very well into this type of control method.

Boys Club Drive Is Slated Monday

"A small contribution today is an investment in the citizens of tomorrow," said Nick Cosmos, director of the Kingston Boys Club, as he addressed a group of volunteers, who will solicit funds Monday between 6 and 8 p. m.

Cosmos stressed that funds are needed to continue the program of the club—supervised sports, games, crafts, reading, everything a normal boy likes to do—which keeps youngsters from the hazards and temptations of the street.

"A boy on the streets is like a rudderless ship," said Cosmos. "He may go in any direction."

"The Boys Club appeals to all," he added, "so that our very important work may be continued another year.

"Give what you can, no matter how small," he stressed, "because a little goes a long way towards helping our boys to a worthwhile manhood."

Plan Monday Drive for Boys Club

These representatives of various organizations interested in helping the Kingston Boys Club are planning the door-to-door financial drive for Monday, when the canvass will be made between 6 and 8 p. m. They anticipate generous response. Seated (l. to r.) Betty Thurin, Boys Club Auxiliary, Mrs. P. Corsones, Junior Married Women's Club; Mrs. William Jordan and Mrs. Betty Scism, of Joyce-Schirick Post, VFW, Auxiliary; Lewis Eaton, Troop 5, Boy Scouts; Elizabeth Nussbaum, Jewish Community Center; standing, Mrs. Barbara Shultz, Junior League; Mrs. Mabel Fisher, member of Boys Club board of directors; Mrs. Sarah Richens, Amalgamated Clothing Workers and Robert Sember of Boys Club Leaders. Boy Scout Camp Staff Completed; To Open July 6

Walter T. Tremper, chairman of the camp committee of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced that the 1952 camp staff has been selected. The camp staff this year will be directed by Francis W. Teel, field scout executive, who will attend the National Camping School in June. Serving as waterfront director will be Carl Constant, an Eagle Scout of Troop 11, St. James Methodist Church in Kingston. His assistant will be Joseph Thurin, another Eagle Scout of Troop 3, St. Joseph's Church, Kingston.

Richard Constant of Troop 11 and Earl Schoonmaker of Troop 9, Evangelical Lutheran Church the Redeemer, Kingston, will both serve as provisional scoutmasters. Their assistants will be Robert Shellenberger and Edwin Strong, both of Troop 8, First Presbyterian Church, Kingston, and Robert Coutant and Robert Sanford of Troop 26 of the Port Ewen Reformed Church. The camp clerk will be Frederick Carr of Troop 3. Michael Davis, an Eagle Scout of Troop 3 will serve as the commissary director and dining hall steward.

The chef this summer will be David Brown of Kingston. Assisting him will be James Brice of Troop 2, Connelly. Serving as kitchen helpers will be Thomas Murphy also of Troop 2 and Lester Lawrence of Troop 63 in Shokan.

All Scouts registered for camp before May 15 will receive a free camp tee shirt. At the present time 95 Scouts and Explorers from 13 different troops have registered for 152 boy-weeks. The goal is 400 boy-weeks.

The camp staff will report for active duty Sunday, June 29, and will spend this week getting the camp ready and in getting training so by the time the campers arrive Sunday, July 6, all physical arrangements will be ready and all staff members will be fully trained to give the campers the best scout camp experience they have ever had.

HST Asks Action

Washington, May 24 (AP)—President Truman has again asked Congress to act on his reorganization plans putting the appointment of postmasters, U. S. marshals and customs officials on a strict civil service basis. Truman's request was made in a message yesterday to Congress accompanying the annual report of the Civil Service Commission.

National, State 40 & 8 Leaders Honored

Attorney James G. Connelly, past chef de gare of Ulster Voiture, 381, toastmaster; Meyer Kaplan, chef de gare; George Boland of Omaha, Neb., chef de chemin de fer (national commander) La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux; Samuel W. Altman, New York city, grand chef de gare (state commander), and Andrew J. Murphy 3rd, commander of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, and co-chairman with Connelly of dinner and testimonial. (Freeman Photo).

Boland Praises Ulster 40 and 8 On Child Program

A dinner for national and state officers of La Societe 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux was enjoyed by approximately 100 members, their wives and friends, Thursday at Williams Lake Hotel.

The occasion served a dual purpose in that it was also a testimonial for Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., of Kingston, oldest active grand chef de gare passe (past state commander) of the organization.

George Boland, Omaha, Neb., chef de chemin de fer (national commander), praised the child welfare program of Ulster Voiture, 381, singling out its tonsillectomy project as one of the greatest in the nation.

For more than five years, the voiture has furnished indigent children with hospitalization and physicians to remove tonsils.

"You are to be commended for your fine program in the interest of children," Boland told the assemblage, "because their welfare is the main concern of the 40 & 8."

Ulster voiture also works among the orphanages of the area, furnishing presents, entertainment and parties.

Urges Membership

Samuel Altman, grand chef de gare, spoke on membership and urged 40 & 8 men to help the American Legion with its drive so that greater numbers might be enrolled to assist the organization in its program for veterans benefits.

Ulster voiture chef de gare Meyer Kaplan, gave the address of welcome. Attorney Walter J. Miller, cheminot nationale, said he was proud to be a Legionnaire and 40 & 8er, because the organizations "have programs that do more for ex-servicemen, their families and children, than any veterans' organization.

Andrew J. Murphy Jr., was presented with an emblem denoting his service to the 40 & 8.

Attorney James G. Connelly was toastmaster.

Insect Invasion Is Due; Prepare For It Now

By HENRY PREE
Written for NEA Service

Insects of every size and description and diseases due to physiological conditions, various viruses, and fungi will visit your garden, no matter how careful you may be of your plants.

More than half of the known species of animals in the world, if we can believe the encyclopedia, are insects. Yet, strange as it may seem, neither spiders or centipedes are insects, but bugs, since the true insect always has six legs and usually two pairs of wings.

The best-known insects are beetles, grasshoppers, butterflies, and moths. Bugs or insects, call them what you will, can play havoc with your vegetables unless you are prepared with the proper material to attack them the moment of their arrival.

To successfully combat insects or bugs the gardener should know that some chew for a living while others insert a rasping, sucking mouth into the plant to draw upon the juices for their existence.

The more common and destructive chewing insects are the canker worms, cabbage worms (hornworms), brown tail caterpillar, Colorado potato beetle, Mexican bean beetle, flea beetle, rose bug, slug.

The sucking insects include the San Jose bug, garden flea hoppers, squash bug, thrip, aphid, chinch bug, and red spider.

Chewing insects must be combatted by spraying or dusting their food plants with stomach poisons such as lead arsenate, DDT, methoxychlor, chlordane, lindane, rotenone-bearing compounds and fixed nicotine compounds.

Other than rotenone none of these poisons are effective for control of aphids. This pest is controlled by contact insecticides which clog up the breathing pores and thus kill by suffocation. Aphids breathe by means of small pores arranged in pairs along the sides of the abdomen and thorax. Therefore, to be effective, the spray or dust must strike the insect and not be applied on the plant in hopes that he will crawl through and destroy himself.

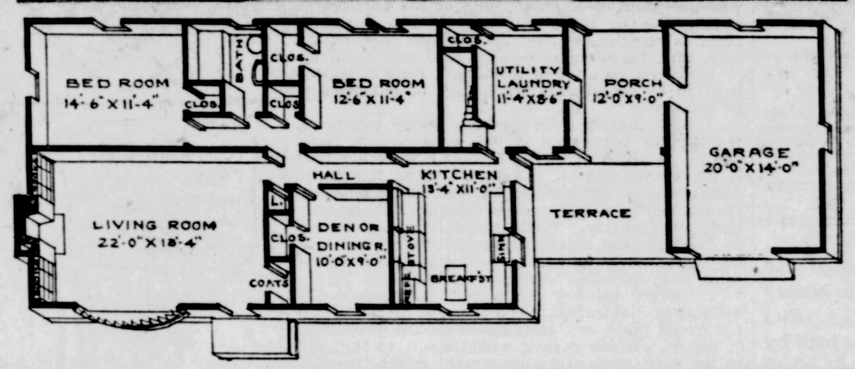
Fungus is a low form of plant life which, because it cannot make its own food, feeds on growing plant or decaying vegetable and animal matter. The most important fungus diseases to annoy the gardener are several blights, leaf and fruit spots, scabs, mildews and canker diseases.

Fungus diseases cannot be cured but they can be prevented to a marked degree by the use of protective fungicides applied at the right time. The powdery mildew is the one exception and may be killed with a sulfur dust or spray.

Preventative fungicides include Bordeaux mixture, lime-sulfur, copper compounds and organics like ziram, zinek, ferbam and manzate.

Be sure to note, a fungicide does not kill insects, and an insecticide does not control diseases.

THE MINNEAPOLIS



A Pleasing Variation In Ranch Type Design

Bedrooms	Two
Closets	Seven
Cubage	24,000 ft.
Dimensions:
House	46' x 26'
Garage	20' x 14'

Every detail of this six-room home has been carefully planned for comfortable living. The front door opens on a spacious 22' x 13' 4" living room with large fireplace flanked by built-in bookshelves, and the cheery and distinctive bay window.

There are two pleasant bedrooms, a room that can serve equally well as den or dining room, a well-planned kitchen with breakfast nook, a bathroom and laundry. Only the heating plant need be placed in the basement.

Measuring 46' x 26', "The Minneapolis" has a cubage of 24,000 feet with the garage adding 4800 feet more. At least a 70 foot lot is required for the house alone; a wider lot is needed if the garage is to be added.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, The Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Good Garden Hose Deserves Right Care

Good garden hose is an important investment but it will last for years if given reasonable care.

When a hose gets dirty, clean it with plain water only, not with soap or detergents. And don't try to renew the surface with ordinary home polishing wax.

Drain the hose thoroughly and wipe it clean before reeling it.

Never coil or bend a frozen hose. Never hang over a nail; use a reel or rack.

Never kink the hose to shut off the flow of water, and don't shut off the water at the hose nozzle for long periods.

Don't run over the hose with a cart or wheelbarrow; if it's in the line of lawn or garden traffic, protect it with a simple wooden bridge.

Do not drop or drag hose couplings on the ground or pavement.

The most critical part of a hose is the end which is attached to the faucet or sill cock. Sharp twists, bends or kinks can be avoided by using one of the new swivel gooseneck connections and snap-on couplings.

If there is already a television set in the home or a possibility of acquiring one in the near future, any new furniture for the living room should be selected with this in mind. AGREEMENT NOT VALID

General Mark Clark has repudiated the agreement made with Communist prisoners of war on Koje Island to secure the relief of General Francis T. Dodd who was held by the Red prisoners as a hostage. Clark called the agreement meaningless because it was made under duress with the life of a United Nations general at stake. The terms demanded for Dodd's safety were false and vicious and calculated to provide grist for the Communist propaganda mill.

Among the demands made by the prisoners was that "forced" screening of prisoners on the repatriation question be discontinued. Agreement to that term, if recognized as valid, would imply that the screening process had included force. It is reminiscent of the old legal trick of asking a defendant when he stopped beating his wife. Almost any answer is incriminating.

That the capture of General Dodd was a planned move is obvious. It seems that orders for the kidnaping might have come from Communist higher-ups as a way of increasing Red strength at the Korean truce table.

General Clark is right in refusing to honor an agreement made with kidnapers and blackmailers. Prisoners of war are accorded certain rights under international law, and in turn are subject to certain responsibilities of behavior. Admitting that prisoners can with impunity create disturbances and threaten their captors would be a serious mistake.

When rolling along the highway, give some thought to rolling over. It's sometimes a good antidote for a heavy foot on the accelerator.

POLICE CORRUPTION

On the testimony of Harry Gross, big-time gambler, a New York police lieutenant has been dismissed from the force and his retirement pension voided. Gross, now serving time for his own illegal activities, said that the lieutenant accepted bribes as a condition of allowing gambling in the area under his supervision. Several other policemen are accused of implication and their dismissal is expected.

Gambling in itself is responsible for a great deal of suffering. But perhaps its worst characteristic is the power it gives those who would otherwise be weak, because they are weak in character. Organized gambling feeds thousands of dollars into the coffers of racketeers who can use part of the money to bribe officers hired to serve and protect the public. It inverts values.

The several crime investigations staged recently have made Americans conscious of crime and its evil results. But if reforms are to be effective they should be permanent. Experience, unfortunately, shows that no reform is permanent. Racketeers are willing to bide their time until the public is lured into lethargy and it is safe for criminals to operate again. Eternal vigilance on the part of the public and its officers is the only real protection.

Dishonest policemen and other persons in places of responsibility are always in a minority. Yet that minority can permit rackets to flourish. The public must see that it does not do so.

Insurance is sold by vending machines in airport waiting rooms. A fortune awaits the man who sets them up at dangerous crosswalks.

NEW CAR TAX

New York City automobilists have bad news. The city's lawmakers have approved a new car tax, $5 a year for vehicles weighing not over 3,500 pounds and $10 for those weighing more. The increase arises because the city feels the need of more financial aid from the state. The state legislature does not think much of the idea. Hence several new taxes are being imposed by the city, of which the automobile tax is the most striking.

Drivers elsewhere will take notice. All over the country government units from federal to village are looking for more sources of revenue. If the automobile tax does not provoke too much squawking, it will be copied elsewhere.

Political difference is part of the privilege of democracy. Political indifference, however, may destroy that right.

'These Days'

IMMIGRATION

Two views have been in conflict on the subject of immigration for several decades.

One position is that the American people have a right to be selective and discriminatory as to who is to be admitted into this country, particularly in view of our easy method of naturalization. The other position is that, except for persons who are insane, idiots, or who have committed acts of moral turpitude, anyone who desires to come here should be admitted.

In the present Congress, the first position is adopted by the advocates of the McCarran-Walter Bill; the second position is advocated by the supporters of the Lehman-Humphrey Bill.

The subject arouses deep emotions among many elements in our population, especially among those who are themselves immigrants or the children of immigrants, or those who believe that humanity requires kindliness and forbearance toward all men, and, therefore, admission into this country.

However, in all this discussion, certain factors need to be considered, which may be summarized as follows:

1. No matter how liberal a policy might be, the surplus population of the entire earth could not be absorbed in the 3,000,000 square miles that is the United States. Therefore, there has to be some measure of restriction and discrimination. No bill can be written which does not in a manner limit immigration. While there is no agreement on the potential maximum population of the United States, it is obvious that geographical limitations will ultimately determine that.

2. Every country has a right to preserve its indigenous civilization. Were it not so, no country would place any restrictions on the movement of people. Whole nations would again, as they did in the past, move from areas with which they are dissatisfied to countries like ours. A civilization can be drowned in a sea of migrant populations as by defeat in war. While no such danger faces the United States, the fact does remain that too many divergent concepts of government and life cannot be assimilated here with the rapidity required in a period of troubled times.

3. One of the principal costs to the human race of the past two wars has been the collapse of long-accepted institutions, particularly in relation to the state and the economic system. The advent of Communism and Fascism influenced large segments of the European population to reject the 2,000-year-old basis for Western life, the natural law grounded in the Bible and in Greek and Roman thinkers. The rights of man have been subordinated to the authority of the state.

We often call those who have adopted this materialistic concept of life, subversive. Actually, their ways and their thoughts are altogether alien to American life as expressed in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. While such persons prefer to live here because it is convenient, they have become conditioned against us.

The debate in the Senate is really over the question of whether such persons should be admitted to the United States and eventually to citizenship so that they can vote in our elections and choose our officials.

The liberal view is that today's subversives are tomorrow's conservatives. In the 19th and early 20th centuries, such a statement might have made sense; in the year 1952, when we are actually at war with the most ardent protagonist of the authority of the state over the individual, such a view contains many elements of peril. A "subversive," that is, one who has belonged to the Communist Party anywhere, ought to prove beyond doubt his conversion before admission into this country.

The liberal, in his anxiety to live up to ideas which applied in Western countries as they were before 1917, forgets that war has changed the world and that America is in danger. If what he calls discrimination against any human being is repugnant, the dilution and even destruction of the American civilization ought to be even more repugnant.

It is difficult for one whose father and mother were immigrants to say that anyone should not have the advantage of coming to this wonderful country. But our parents came to America to seek liberty and opportunity. They did not come here to make America over in the image of some European state. They loved America because of the freedom they found here; they did not come here to betray that freedom.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

PREVENTING CONSTIPATION

I sometimes wonder what ailment of the body, and the cure thereof, receives most attention from the advertising standpoint. Most of us would think that headaches and headache remedies stood first. On the other hand, a large percentage of the population is more interested in bowel movement and the correction of constipation.

There was a time when many people believed that when food or a meal was eaten, a bowel movement should immediately occur, knowing that with some animals and humans, three movements a day is the usual number.

Fortunately, Dr. Walter Alvarez, Mayo Clinic, has taught us that while three movements is not unhealthy, one movement every two or three days, if occurring regularly, could be the rule with good health.

While wastes left in the bowel for several days may result in some of this waste being absorbed into the blood, this fact is not considered as serious as it was ten to twenty years ago. As Dr. Alvarez discovered some years ago, it is the dragging weight of wastes in the colon or large bowel that causes tiredness of the nerves and muscular tissue which we have attributed to absorption of wastes into the blood.

More serious than absorption of wastes is the neglect of going to stool when Nature calls. To remain healthy does not mean that a bowel movement should occur daily.

The most common cause of constipation is ignorance of the value of the bowel habit which occurs in the majority of people immediately after getting out of bed in the morning, or, more often, immediately after breakfast, especially if breakfast has been a big meal with considerable weight of food in the stomach. This weight "telegraphs" ahead to small and large intestine so that movement around and down the large intestine gets under way.

Getting up a few minutes early, eating a generous breakfast slowly, giving sufficient time to establish a regular bowel habit immediately after breakfast, will start the day right from the health standpoint.

Sometimes simply taking a drink of cold or hot water before breakfast supplies the necessary push or impulse to start movement all the way down the stomach to large bowel.

Constipation.

It has been established that there are more people with constipation than there are without it. Strange World We Live In Nowadays

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Now that Jim McGranery has become attorney general, it might pay him to have his subordinate dust the cobwebs off all the reports sent by other government departments requesting investigation of graft and corruption. He would get some interesting cases from the RFC on Congressman Boykin of Alabama, and the B. and O. Railroad; from the Commerce Department on shipping and sales of tin to China; plus various others.

And if McGranery's subordinates fail to locate all these cases underneath the dust, this columnist will be delighted to help.

As a starter, the new A. G. might look at a case which the Commerce Department sent to the Justice Department months ago involving surplus government tankers, this one featuring Adm. Harold G. Bowen, former chief of naval research who assisted in developing the atom bomb.

Shortly after Bowen retired in 1947, he turned up as stockholder in the United States Petroleum Carriers, Inc. He bought 250 shares at $2 a share, signed applications to buy four surplus tankers from the government, then sold out for $250 a share immediately after the tankers were delivered three months later. In other words, he reaped a fabulous $62,000 profit after investing only $500. His chief contribution was use of his name to wangle tankers from the government.

A similar quick killing was made by another stockholder in the same company, Robert W. Dudley, who, like Bowen, parlayed a $500 investment into a $62,000 profit in three months.

Here is the amazing sequence that led to the get-rich-quick profits by Bowen and Dudley:

The Greeks Had Friends

Dudley represented a group of wealthy Greek shipowners who were trying to purchase surplus tankers from the Maritime Commission. The application was turned down Sept. 12, 1947, on the ground that the applicants were not American citizens.

Two weeks later the United Petroleum Carriers, Inc., was formed with Dudley and Bowen as stockholders. The only other stockholder was Robert L. Berenson, an intimate of the Greek shipowners, who held 100 shares. The new corporation promptly filed application for tankers, signed by Admiral Bowen as president.

The Maritime Commission approved the sale of four tankers to Bowen's Corporation on Dec. 30, 1947. Exactly one week later, both Bowen and Dudley sold out to the Greek shipowners' friend, Berenson. He, in turn, sold a 48 per cent interest to Sociedad Industrial Maritima Financiera Ariona, a Panamanian corporation owned by the same Greek shippers who had tried to purchase the tankers in the first place, but were turned down.

Berenson borrowed the money for this deal from Simpson, Spence and Young, New York fiscal agents, who happen also to represent Berenson's Greek shipowners' friends. But what is even more peculiar, Berenson was able to borrow $165,000 without putting up a nickel security.

Thus, just a few weeks after the Greeks had been turned down as purchasers of the tankers, their Panama corporation turned up with the tankers thanks to the influence of American friends.

Gathering Dust

This whole shocking case was investigated by maritime security officers and submitted to the Justice Department a year ago. And that's exactly where the case lies today, gathering dust on a Justice Department shelf. However, this column has been able to obtain a copy of the maritime investigators' secret report.

The report identifies the dominant Greek shipowner in the case as Aristoteles S. Onassis, who is Greek by birth, Argentine by naturalization but lives in luxury in the United States. He does most of his business through South American corporations, which give him the maximum tax benefits.

In case new Attorney General McGranery is unable to locate the report among the cobwebby pigeonholes of his department, here are some important quotes from it:

"Onassis and his foreign affiliates entered the corporate picture on Jan. 7, 1948—after the (maritime) commission had approved the sale of the tankers. However, in late November and early December of 1947, United States petroleum carriers informed the commission that financial and chartering arrangements had been made for the vessels in the application. These arrangements were apparently made by Onassis. Therefore, it appears probable that Onassis had an undivulged interest in the corporation at the time the commission approved the sale of the tankers.

"On Jan. 7, 1948, Berenson owned 60 per cent of the stock of USPC and Ariona (Onassis' company) owned 40 per cent," the secret report continues. "Within the succeeding six months Berenson reduced his share to 48 per cent by selling ten shares each to C. N. Carver, A. C. Storen and N. Cokkinis at a loss of $1,500 on each block and ninety shares to Ariona on a break-even basis. What induced Berenson to sell this 12 per cent interest in USPC thereby giving up his majority interest just at the time the corporation had become a profitable operation? It is not for the profit; he suffered a loss. It was not for ready cash; other sources of cash were open to him."

Tax Irregularity

It was against the law, of course, for these ships to be sold to non-Americans. That is why the report points out that at least two of the three new stockholders, not counting Berenson himself, had been tied to Onassis in the past. So the report concludes: "At least three of the American principals in USPC appear to be available to Mr. Onassis to perform tasks which require United States citizenship as the primary qualification."

The investigators asked Berenson about his amazing, non-secured loans which enabled him to buy out Admiral Bowen and Dudley. Their report declares: "Berenson admitted that he borrowed these funds on a personal loan from Simpson, Spence & Young, general agents in the United States for the Onassis interest . . . . these personal loans are three-year, non-interest bearing, non-secured loans . . . . Onassis insists that he is not the guarantor of Berenson's loans, but does a large chartering business with Simpson, Spence & Young.

"In investigating the possibility that Mr. Berenson's loans might have been secured by foreigners," the report adds, "we examined copies of his tax returns for 1947, 1948, 1949 and 1950. It was noted that a $12,000 dividend received by Mr. Berenson from USPC on March 15, 1949, was not declared as income on his 1949 tax return. When the queestion was asked as to whether the dividend was in fact his, Mr. Berenson stated that it was his. He stated that it was merely an oversight that he had not declared it on his tax return."

But the final eyebrow lifter was discovered in the stocks, themselves. Though Onassis owned 48 per cent outright and appeared to control the rest of the stock, each share carried the following restricted endorsement: "These shares are hereby sold subject to the condition that they may be resold or transferred only to citizens of the United States."

Thus, though it was specifically forbidden on the stocks themselves to sell or transfer them to a foreigner, Onassis ended up owning them.

Where Women Wear Padlocks on Their Noses!

Women of the Djermatribe, Southern Nigeria, Africa, wear padlocks on their noses. A century ago a chief of the tribe, annoyed with his wife's talkativeness, suspended a padlock on her nose, threatening to place it on her mouth if she did not stop talking. He never carried out his threat, but the queen continued to wear the padlock as a decoration and the women of the tribe have been imitating her ever since.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Count Every Trick To Be Bridge Winner

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

One of the most important differences between the expert and the average bridge player is that the expert counts his tricks. This may seem like a very simple operation, but somehow or other only the expert does it regularly.

When today's hand was played, South ruffed the opening club lead and returned the king of hearts. East won with the ace of hearts and had to make the key decision immediately.

The average player would instantly return the jack of diamonds. This would allow the declarer to make his contract. South would win with the ace of diamonds, draw a second round of trumps, and lead his remaining diamonds toward dummy.

He would eventually discard a spade on dummy's queen of diamonds, after which he would need only a successful spade guess to make his contract.

When the hand was played, however, Leonard B. Harmon held the East cards. Mr. Harmon counted the defensive tricks and discovered that his side could win one trump and no clubs.

He could be quite certain that his partner had no more than one high card in diamonds, since if West held the ace and king of diamonds in addition to his strong clubs he would have taken some action during the bidding. Hence Mr. Harmon could expect no more than one diamond trick.

It followed therefore that the defenders needed two spade tricks to defeat the contract. These could be won only if South had three small spades—and only if East returned his lowest spade immediately.

After coming to this conclusion Mr. Harmon returned the four of spades. West played the queen, and dummy won with the king. South got to his hand by ruffing a club and drew trumps.

He next tried to develop a diamond trick, but West stepped up with the king of diamonds in order to lead his remaining spade. Now Mr. Harmon could take the ace and ten of spades, defeating the contract.

AGREEMENT NOT VALID

General Mark Clark has repudiated the agreement made with Communist prisoners of war on Koje Island to secure the relief of General Francis T. Dodd who was held by the Red prisoners as a hostage. Clark called the agreement meaningless because it was made under duress with the life of a United Nations general at stake. The terms demanded for Dodd's safety were false and vicious and calculated to provide grist for the Communist propaganda mill.

Among the demands made by the prisoners was that "forced" screening of prisoners on the repatriation question be discontinued. Agreement to that term, if recognized as valid, would imply that the screening process had included force. It is reminiscent of the old legal trick of asking a defendant when he stopped beating his wife. Almost any answer is incriminating.

That the capture of General Dodd was a planned move is obvious. It seems that orders for the kidnaping might have come from Communist higher-ups as a way of increasing Red strength at the Korean truce table.

General Clark is right in refusing to honor an agreement made with kidnapers and blackmailers. Prisoners of war are accorded certain rights under international law, and in turn are subject to certain responsibilities of behavior. Admitting that prisoners can with impunity create disturbances and threaten their captors would be a serious mistake.

When rolling along the highway, give some thought to rolling over. It's sometimes a good antidote for a heavy foot on the accelerator.

POLICE CORRUPTION

On the testimony of Harry Gross, big-time gambler, a New York police lieutenant has been dismissed from the force and his retirement pension voided. Gross, now serving time for his own illegal activities, said that the lieutenant accepted bribes as a condition of allowing gambling in the area under his supervision. Several other policemen are accused of implication and their dismissal is expected.

Gambling in itself is responsible for a great deal of suffering. But perhaps its worst characteristic is the power it gives those who would otherwise be weak, because they are weak in character. Organized gambling feeds thousands of dollars into the coffers of racketeers who can use part of the money to bribe officers hired to serve and protect the public. It inverts values.

The several crime investigations staged recently have made Americans conscious of crime and its evil results. But if reforms are to be effective they should be permanent. Experience, unfortunately, shows that no reform is permanent. Racketeers are willing to bide their time until the public is lured into lethargy and it is safe for criminals to operate again. Eternal vigilance on the part of the public and its officers is the only real protection.

Dishonest policemen and other persons in places of responsibility are always in a minority. Yet that minority can permit rackets to flourish. The public must see that it does not do so.

Insurance is sold by vending machines in airport waiting rooms. A fortune awaits the man who sets them up at dangerous crosswalks.

NEW CAR TAX

New York City automobilists have bad news. The city's lawmakers have approved a new car tax, $5 a year for vehicles weighing not over 3,500 pounds and $10 for those weighing more. The increase arises because the city feels the need of more financial aid from the state. The state legislature does not think much of the idea. Hence several new taxes are being imposed by the city, of which the automobile tax is the most striking.

Drivers elsewhere will take notice. All over the country government units from federal to village are looking for more sources of revenue. If the automobile tax does not provoke too much squawking, it will be copied elsewhere.

Political difference is part of the privilege of democracy. Political indifference, however, may destroy that right.

'These Days'

IMMIGRATION

Two views have been in conflict on the subject of immigration for several decades.

One position is that the American people have a right to be selective and discriminatory as to who is to be admitted into this country, particularly in view of our easy method of naturalization. The other position is that, except for persons who are insane, idiots, or who have committed acts of moral turpitude, anyone who desires to come here should be admitted.

In the present Congress, the first position is adopted by the advocates of the McCarran-Walter Bill; the second position is advocated by the supporters of the Lehman-Humphrey Bill.

The subject arouses deep emotions among many elements in our population, especially among those who are themselves immigrants or the children of immigrants, or those who believe that humanity requires kindliness and forbearance toward all men, and, therefore, admission into this country.

However, in all this discussion, certain factors need to be considered, which may be summarized as follows:

1. No matter how liberal a policy might be, the surplus population of the entire earth could not be absorbed in the 3,000,000 square miles that is the United States. Therefore, there has to be some measure of restriction and discrimination. No bill can be written which does not in a manner limit immigration. While there is no agreement on the potential maximum population of the United States, it is obvious that geographical limitations will ultimately determine that.

2. Every country has a right to preserve its indigenous civilization. Were it not so, no country would place any restrictions on the movement of people. Whole nations would again, as they did in the past, move from areas with which they are dissatisfied to countries like ours. A civilization can be drowned in a sea of migrant populations as by defeat in war. While no such danger faces the United States, the fact does remain that too many divergent concepts of government and life cannot be assimilated here with the rapidity required in a period of troubled times.

3. One of the principal costs to the human race of the past two wars has been the collapse of long-accepted institutions, particularly in relation to the state and the economic system. The advent of Communism and Fascism influenced large segments of the European population to reject the 2,000-year-old basis for Western life, the natural law grounded in the Bible and in Greek and Roman thinkers. The rights of man have been subordinated to the authority of the state.

We often call those who have adopted this materialistic concept of life, subversive. Actually, their ways and their thoughts are altogether alien to American life as expressed in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. While such persons prefer to live here because it is convenient, they have become conditioned against us.

The debate in the Senate is really over the question of whether such persons should be admitted to the United States and eventually to citizenship so that they can vote in our elections and choose our officials.

The liberal view is that today's subversives are tomorrow's conservatives. In the 19th and early 20th centuries, such a statement might have made sense; in the year 1952, when we are actually at war with the most ardent protagonist of the authority of the state over the individual, such a view contains many elements of peril. A "subversive," that is, one who has belonged to the Communist Party anywhere, ought to prove beyond doubt his conversion before admission into this country.

The liberal, in his anxiety to live up to ideas which applied in Western countries as they were before 1917, forgets that war has changed the world and that America is in danger. If what he calls discrimination against any human being is repugnant, the dilution and even destruction of the American civilization ought to be even more repugnant.

It is difficult for one whose father and mother were immigrants to say that anyone should not have the advantage of coming to this wonderful country. But our parents came to America to seek liberty and opportunity. They did not come here to make America over in the image of some European state. They loved America because of the freedom they found here; they did not come here to betray that freedom.

PREVENTING CONSTIPATION

I sometimes wonder what ailment of the body, and the cure thereof, receives most attention from the advertising standpoint. Most of us would think that headaches and headache remedies stood first. On the other hand, a large percentage of the population is more interested in bowel movement and the correction of constipation.

There was a time when many people believed that when food or a meal was eaten, a bowel movement should immediately occur, knowing that with some animals and humans, three movements a day is the usual number.

Fortunately, Dr. Walter Alvarez, Mayo Clinic, has taught us that while three movements is not unhealthy, one movement every two or three days, if occurring regularly, could be the rule with good health.

While wastes left in the bowel for several days may result in some of this waste being absorbed into the blood, this fact is not considered as serious as it was ten to twenty years ago. As Dr. Alvarez discovered some years ago, it is the dragging weight of wastes in the colon or large bowel that causes tiredness of the nerves and muscular tissue which we have attributed to absorption of wastes into the blood.

More serious than absorption of wastes is the neglect of going to stool when Nature calls. To remain healthy does not mean that a bowel movement should occur daily.

The Greeks Had Friends

Dudley represented a group of wealthy Greek shipowners who were trying to purchase surplus tankers from the Maritime Commission. The application was turned down Sept. 12, 1947, on the ground that the applicants were not American citizens.

Two weeks later the United Petroleum Carriers, Inc., was formed with Dudley and Bowen as stockholders. The only other stockholder was Robert L. Berenson, an intimate of the Greek shipowners, who held 100 shares. The new corporation promptly filed application for tankers, signed by Admiral Bowen as president.

The Maritime Commission approved the sale of four tankers to Bowen's Corporation on Dec. 30, 1947. Exactly one week later, both Bowen and Dudley sold out to the Greek shipowners' friend, Berenson. He, in turn, sold a 48 per cent interest to Sociedad Industrial Maritima Financiera Ariona, a Panamanian corporation owned by the same Greek shippers who had tried to purchase the tankers in the first place, but were turned down.

Berenson borrowed the money for this deal from Simpson, Spence and Young, New York fiscal agents, who happen also to represent Berenson's Greek shipowners' friends. But what is even more peculiar, Berenson was able to borrow $165,000 without putting up a nickel security.

Thus, just a few weeks after the Greeks had been turned down as purchasers of the tankers, their Panama corporation turned up with the tankers thanks to the influence of American friends.

Gathering Dust

This whole shocking case was investigated by maritime security officers and submitted to the Justice Department a year ago. And that's exactly where the case lies today, gathering dust on a Justice Department shelf. However, this column has been able to obtain a copy of the maritime investigators' secret report.

The report identifies the dominant Greek shipowner in the case as Aristoteles S. Onassis, who is Greek by birth, Argentine by naturalization but lives in luxury in the United States. He does most of his business through South American corporations, which give him the maximum tax benefits.

In case new Attorney General McGranery is unable to locate the report among the cobwebby pigeonholes of his department, here are some important quotes from it:

"Onassis and his foreign affiliates entered the corporate picture on Jan. 7, 1948—after the (maritime) commission had approved the sale of the tankers. However, in late November and early December of 1947, United States petroleum carriers informed the commission that financial and chartering arrangements had been made for the vessels in the application. These arrangements were apparently made by Onassis. Therefore, it appears probable that Onassis had an undivulged interest in the corporation at the time the commission approved the sale of the tankers.

"On Jan. 7, 1948, Berenson owned 60 per cent of the stock of USPC and Ariona (Onassis' company) owned 40 per cent," the secret report continues. "Within the succeeding six months Berenson reduced his share to 48 per cent by selling ten shares each to C. N. Carver, A. C. Storen and N. Cokkinis at a loss of $1,500 on each block and ninety shares to Ariona on a break-even basis. What induced Berenson to sell this 12 per cent interest in USPC thereby giving up his majority interest just at the time the corporation had become a profitable operation? It is not for the profit; he suffered a loss. It was not for ready cash; other sources of cash were open to him."

Tax Irregularity

It was against the law, of course, for these ships to be sold to non-Americans. That is why the report points out that at least two of the three new stockholders, not counting Berenson himself, had been tied to Onassis in the past. So the report concludes: "At least three of the American principals in USPC appear to be available to Mr. Onassis to perform tasks which require United States citizenship as the primary qualification."

The investigators asked Berenson about his amazing, non-secured loans which enabled him to buy out Admiral Bowen and Dudley. Their report declares: "Berenson admitted that he borrowed these funds on a personal loan from Simpson, Spence & Young, general agents in the United States for the Onassis interest . . . . these personal loans are three-year, non-interest bearing, non-secured loans . . . . Onassis insists that he is not the guarantor of Berenson's loans, but does a large chartering business with Simpson, Spence & Young.

"In investigating the possibility that Mr. Berenson's loans might have been secured by foreigners," the report adds, "we examined copies of his tax returns for 1947, 1948, 1949 and 1950. It was noted that a $12,000 dividend received by Mr. Berenson from USPC on March 15, 1949, was not declared as income on his 1949 tax return. When the queestion was asked as to whether the dividend was in fact his, Mr. Berenson stated that it was his. He stated that it was merely an oversight that he had not declared it on his tax return."

But the final eyebrow lifter was discovered in the stocks, themselves. Though Onassis owned 48 per cent outright and appeared to control the rest of the stock, each share carried the following restricted endorsement: "These shares are hereby sold subject to the condition that they may be resold or transferred only to citizens of the United States."

Thus, though it was specifically forbidden on the stocks themselves to sell or transfer them to a foreigner, Onassis ended up owning them.

Where Women Wear Padlocks on Their Noses!

Women of the Djermatribe, Southern Nigeria, Africa, wear padlocks on their noses. A century ago a chief of the tribe, annoyed with his wife's talkativeness, suspended a padlock on her nose, threatening to place it on her mouth if she did not stop talking. He never carried out his threat, but the queen continued to wear the padlock as a decoration and the women of the tribe have been imitating her ever since.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Count Every Trick To Be Bridge Winner

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

One of the most important differences between the expert and the average bridge player is that the expert counts his tricks. This may seem like a very simple operation, but somehow or other only the expert does it regularly.

When today's hand was played, South ruffed the opening club lead and returned the king of hearts. East won with the ace of hearts and had to make the key decision immediately.

The average player would instantly return the jack of diamonds. This would allow the declarer to make his contract. South would win with the ace of diamonds, draw a second round of trumps, and lead his remaining diamonds toward dummy.

He would eventually discard a spade on dummy's queen of diamonds, after which he would need only a successful spade guess to make his contract.

When the hand was played, however, Leonard B. Harmon held the East cards. Mr. Harmon counted the defensive tricks and discovered that his side could win one trump and no clubs.

He could be quite certain that his partner had no more than one high card in diamonds, since if West held the ace and king of diamonds in addition to his strong clubs he would have taken some action during the bidding. Hence Mr. Harmon could expect no more than one diamond trick.

It followed therefore that the defenders needed two spade tricks to defeat the contract. These could be won only if South had three small spades—and only if East returned his lowest spade immediately.

After coming to this conclusion Mr. Harmon returned the four of spades. West played the queen, and dummy won with the king. South got to his hand by ruffing a club and drew trumps.

He next tried to develop a diamond trick, but West stepped up with the king of diamonds in order to lead his remaining spade. Now Mr. Harmon could take the ace and ten of spades, defeating the contract.

Drive Is Stymied

Averill Park, May 24 (AP)—A "Boost Eisenhower" drive among New York state's Young Republican Clubs was stymied today by association by-laws that forbid the endorsement of any GOP candidate prior to the national convention. A bloc of delegates from several young GOP clubs attempted yesterday at the 20th annual convention of the state group to submit resolution calling for the general's nomination. The moves were quashed in the face of some opposition.

Fulton Oursler Dies in New York

New York, May 24 (AP)—Fulton Oursler, 59, author of "The Greatest Story Ever Told", a book based on the Bible, and former newspaperman and magazine editor, died today.

He died in his apartment in the Hotel Navarro of a heart attack.

Oursler turned out a prodigious number of books and magazine articles, many of which in recent years reflected a strong interest in religion.

He was a former vice president and editorial director of Macfadden publications an dedited Liberty magazine from 1931 to 1942. Later he was a senior editor of Reader's Digest.

Oursler had a summer home at West Falmouth on Cape Cod.

Born in Baltimore

Born Charles Fulton Oursler in Baltimore, Md., on Jan. 22, 1893, he later dropped use of his first name for writing purposes.

He became a reporter on the Baltimore American in 1910, later becoming its music and dramatic critic.

Within a few years he was busy writing short stories for magazines. He became editor of the New York Music Trades in 1920 and editor-in-chief of Liberty and his executive post with MacFadden publications followed.

Oursler wrote a number of mystery chillers but in later years the trend changed.

In addition to "The Greatest Story Ever Told," which also was the basis for a radio series, he wrote "Modern Parables" and "Why I Know There Is a God."

Wrote for Movies

He also authored a number of motion picture scenarios and a syndicated column entitled "Modern Parables."

He contributed to many magazines and frequently lectured.

He was president of the Catholic Institute of the Press. He was a member of the Alcoholics Anonymous Foundation, the Dramatists Guild, the Authors Guild, the Magicians Guild, the Players and Dutch Treat Clubs and the Baker Street Irregulars, an organization of Sherlock Holmes devotees.

Oursler first was married in 1911 to Rose Keller Karger, by whom he had two children, Helen and William. He was married in 1925 to writer Grace Perkins. They had two children, Grace April and Charles Fulton.

Restrictions End

weeks beginning May 27, June 3 and June 10 to use up to 19½ per cent of the aviation gasoline they purchased during March.

At present commercial users of aviation gasoline are limited to 65 per cent of their March deliveries for the 28 days from May 6 to June 3. This was 16½ per cent per week.

A spokesman for the CIO Oil Workers International Union said in Denver that about 35,000 of the original 90,000 striking refinery and pipeline workers are back at work. The 22 AFL, independent and CIO unions are bargaining on a plant by plant basis.

The strikers—who averaged $2 to $2.10 an hour—originally demanded a 25-cent-an-hour pay hike, increased night work pay and other benefits. Most of the settlements have been for a 15-cent hourly raise, as approved by the Wage Stabilization Board.

Ohio Pact Reached

The CIO Oil Workers yesterday ratified a settlement with the Standard Oil Co., of Ohio calling for an average 16-cents-an-hour wage boost for 350 workers at the company's Toledo refinery.

The 24-day strike of 7,000 workers at the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) refinery ended today. A company spokesman announced a wage hike of 15 cents an hour was agreed upon between the company and union.

He said distribution of gas and other petroleum products from refinery storage will be resumed immediately. Full scale production is expected to be reached within a week to 10 days.

Nurses Invited To Cancer Parley

The second Cancer Teaching Institute will be held in the auditorium of the Myron J. Michael School Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. All nurses in Ulster county are asked to attend this session.

Nurses active and inactive from all fields of nursing will want to "keep up with the times" in cancer education. The meetings are free to all school nurses, hospital nurses, public health nurses, office nurses, student nurses, industrial nurses, and registered practical nurses.

The first Institute was held May 20 for a large group of nurses from the county. It is not necessary to have attended the first Institute in order to come to the second on May 27.

Dr. Paul R. Gerhardt, MD, director of the Bureau of Cancer Control, will speak at the May 27 Institute on Public Health Aspects of Cancer Control. Appearing with him on the program will be Milton Grover, MD, director and Radiologist of the Ulster County Tumor Clinic, The Cancer Program in Ulster County, and Miss Esther Flemming, consultant nurse, Mental Hygiene, Emotional Aspects in the Care of Cancer Patients. Dr. Gerhardt and Miss Flemming are with the New York State Department of Health.

These institutes are sponsored by the Ulster County Health Department and the Ulster County Branch of the American Cancer Society.

Republicans Pick

the Eisenhower side to reverse this ruling is expected today.

MARYLAND — Gov. Theodore McKeldin appeared a cinch to get Maryland's 24 GOP votes as a "favorite son" candidate. But this would only last through the first ballot at the July 7 national convention in Chicago.

After that, indications point to a split between Taft and Eisenhower. McKeldin is not saying publicly what his preferences are. Once widely tabbed an Eisenhower man, he has been complimentary to Taft of late. Intimates insist he still favors the general.

At-Large Delegates Picked

MINNESOTA — Three at-large delegates, to fill out Minnesota's 28-vote quota, will be named at the Minneapolis convention. Gov. C. Elmer Anderson, and two other Eisenhower supporters, are expected to get the posts.

In Washington today, Sen. Edward Thye of Minnesota swung his support to Eisenhower. Thye had been backing former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

Taft now leads Eisenhower 393 to 339 in The Associated Press nationwide tabulation of delegate strength. The Ohio senator picked up 18 delegates last week compared wtih 14 added for Eisenhower.

The tabulation is based on concessions, pledges, instructions and avowed leanings. Nomination requires 604 votes.

Among Democrats, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee leads the tally with 116, followed by W. Averell Harriman with 84½ and Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia with 66½. Democratic nomination needs 616 votes.

of the three bodies next year.

The assembly also heard Henry L. McCorkle, of Philadelphia, declare that Protestants in Colombia, South America, are in "the midst of terrible trouble" because of Catholic persecution.

Reporting on a tour of Colombia, he said at least 2,000 cases of individual persecutions of Protestants by Catholics had been reported since 1949, and 450 cases had been substantiated in the last six months.

McCorkle, new editor of the church's official magazine, Presbyterian Life, said the assaults did not stem from political motives.

"When a priest leads a mob to stone a Protestant church and when a priest forcibly takes over a Protestant service . . . to blaspheme Protestantism . . . it is not politics," he said.

when the pact becomes effective, the name it is to carry and the status of Belgian and French armed forces in Germany before the six-nation European army is formed.

The western ministers were expected to cover a wide range of European problems in addition to the peace contract during their talk with Adenauer.

The probability of further Russian moves to checkmate the West German partnership with the democracies was slated to head the list of extra problems.

The Russians are wooing the Germans with proposals to reunite their divided country and threatening them with civil war if they join the west.

Truce Team Relaxes

Munsan, Korea, May 24 (AP)—The allied Korean war truce team relaxed at travel, horseshoes and volleyball today—and hoped the Reds would ease their unyielding stand on the prisoner issue when negitiations resume Tuesday. The UN delegation proposed a three-day recess Friday and North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist delegate, unexpectedly accepted.

Troopers Arrest Man Who Escaped From City Court

Clinton Gardiner, 39, who disappeared from City Court Friday morning after being sentenced to 30 days in jail by Judge Raymond Mino, was picked up today in Marlborough on a charge of burglary third degree.

Troopers said that Gardiner broke into a liquor store in Marlborough owned by Joseph G. Rosanno. He was arrested by Cpl. John Metzer of the Highland barracks.

Gardiner who, police say, has no home, was picked up Thursday on a public intoxication charge. Police said that he ran from the city court room yesterday morning shortly after Mino had sentenced him and while Lt. James P. Martin and the city judge were talking near the entrance to the judge's chambers. It is believed that he went down the steep bank back of the city hall and ran along the railroad tracks.

Yount Gets . . .

sured the senators that Koje prisoner facilities were being reorganized to restore control and halt such things as flying of Communist red flags, atrocities and murders inside the compounds and constant disorders.

Pace said the 187th Airborn Regiment and a tank battalion from the 8th Army had been added to the UN forces on Koje in the past few days.

Red Rule Slipping

Associated Press correspondent Robert Eunson said in a dispatch from Tokyo that in the face of actions taken by Clark "the Reds" iron rule inside the stockades at Koje seem to be slipping."

Although Pace listed demotions for both Dodd and Colson his accompanying letter was more critical of Dodd.

"General Dodd showed a lack of sound judgment in establishing the practice of conferring with the prisoners of war at the gates of their compounds instead of having their representatives brought to his office under guard," the Pentagon statement said.

The Pace letter said Dodd "contributed to the creation of a situation which endangered the security of the camp, put his successor (Colson) in an extremely difficult position, and furnished the Communists wth material for false world-wide propaganda."

Showed Poor Judgment

Pace said Dodd "did not display the judgment that is required of a general officer."

Colson, who replaced Dodd as Koje commander, "faced a difficult situation," Pace said, adding:

"He had been directed to use force, if necessary. The use of force would possibly have resulted in casualties among UN soldiers effecting his release, widespread bloodshed among the prisoners of war, as well as the probable death of General Dodd.

"He secured the release of General Dodd without creating the dangers indicated above. However, to accomplish this he made statements in writing to prisoners of war which permitted distortion and inference of violations of proper handling of prisoners on the part of UN authorities which in fact did not exist."

Pace said Gen. Yount over looked "erroneous implications" in parts of the agreement he did approve and so was given "an administrative reprimand." Pace added, however, that Yount did not get a look at the final draft of Colson's agreement, and thus could not evaluate it fully.

A reprimand goes into an officer's record and might affect promotions or assignments.

Army officers said Dodd and Colson could not protest the demotions and ask courts martial because they were only temporary brigadiers. The demotions will cost them $167.58 in monthly pay and allowances.

Charges Fall Flat

Hong Kong, May 24 (AP)—Britain's high commissioner for Southeast Asia said today Chinese Communist charges of allied germ warfare have "fallen flat" in Southeast Asia as a propaganda weapon. Chinese living in Malaya and other Southeast Asia countries do not believe the Red charges, Commissioner Malcolm MacDonald told a news conference.

Brooch Disappeared

Cannes, France, May 24 (AP)—Mrs. Betty Feldman of Forest Hills, L. I., told police today that a brooch valued at some $1,500 disappeared from the lapel of her suit last night. The brooch was either lost or stolen, she said, while she was en route from her hotel to the gambling casino.

Proper Signs Keep Out Valiant Hunters

Washington, May 24 (AP)—A Pennsylvania farmer whose orchard of Chinese chestnut trees was being damaged by careless hunters appealed for help some time ago to the Agriculture Department.

"What can I do," he wrote, "to protect my orchard?"

He was advised to post signs reading as follows:

"No trespassing; warning, the dangerous castanea mollisima linneaeus abounds in this orchard. Beware."

The farmer has reported back, the Agriculture Department said, that he followed these instructions and that hunters are giving the orchard a wide berth.

"Castanea mollissima linneaeus" is the scientific name for the Chinese chestnut tree.

Reds Grab . . .

existence, the air force reported.

B-26 light bombers and marine planes attacked enemy trucks Friday night, with 80 vehicles and five buildings reported destroyed. B-29 Superforts struck at the Kwaksan rail bridge near Sinuiju on the Yalu river for the second straight night, dropping 90 tons of bombs on the spans.

On the ground, the Reds nearly doubled their artillery and mortar bombardment Friday, but action still was at a near standstill.

An Eighth Army briefing officer said the Communists pitched 6,194 rounds across the lines up to 6 p. m. Three small U. S. tank contingents claimed damage to 15 Red pillboxes and other positions after sporadic fire on the central front.

One UN platoon east of Panmunjom reported killing 12 Reds in two rifle fire exchanges. Another in the same sector claimed 15 were killed with artillery bursts.

Longest fight reported was a spotty hour and 40 minute engagement on the central front against about 60 Reds.

Cable Prevents Mishap To County Truckman

A heavy AT&T cable strung along Route 9W prevented a truck from turning over in a mishap Friday afternoon on the Glenerie Hill porth of Kingston, state police reported.

The Higgins Express, Glenford, truck driven by Richard Bolter, 21, of Woodstock, was traveling north when Bolter claimed he was forced to the edge of the highway by an unknown vehicle. The truck struck the guard posts and started to tip over, but was held in place by the cable, troopers said.

No personal injuries were reported, and the cable suffered no apparent damage, state police said. The truck was reported slightly damaged.

High Falls Man Held

Lincoln Hornbeck, 32, of High Falls was arrested at Stone Ridge by sheriff's office men Friday evening on a charge of second degree sodomy. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Roy Webber of the town of Marbletown, Hornbeck waived examination and was ordered held for grand jury action. The arrest followed a two-day investigation by the sheriff's office and stemmed from questioning of two boys under 16 years of age, the sheriff's office reported.

Krug Strike Ends

William Schutz, manager of the Krug Baking Co. branch at Poughkeepsie, announced that the strike which idled plants has been settled and that operations will resume Monday. Schutz said the workers accepted terms of a five-day week and an unspecified pay increase in a vote yesterday.

Onteora Parents Hear Factors in Hiring Teachers

More than 200 persons attended the regular meeting of the Onteora Parent-Teachers Association this week and heard Reginald Bennett, district superintendent, review factors involved in selecting teachers for the staff of the new central school for next fall.

Devoting the greater part of his time to the high school teachers, who will be new in the area, Bennett outlined the necessary qualifications as to academic background, personality and character and teaching experience. He also pointed out how important the contributions of these prospective teachers would be in the extra-curricular program.

Another factor Bennet felt was important in the selection of candidates was the applicant's desire to teach in a rural mountain area and in the Onteora district in particular.

The business meeting, conducted by President Herbert Epstein, was devoted largely to reports of standing committees. By-laws as recommended by that committee were adopted. Chairmen of program, publicity, hospitality and membership committee also reported.

The treasurer's report revealed 186 paid members to date.

The offices of historian and parliamentarian were created at the meeting, to be filled by appointment.

Mrs. Janice Krankel reported on the P-TA's Central Hudson District Conference in Highland, and Mrs. Philip Gordon briefed the group on the Family Institute to be held at New Paltz State Teachers College late in June. This session of one week will prove informative for parents, social workers and teachers, she said.

Dies in Prison Fall

Butte, Mont., May 24 (AP) — A man identified as Harold T. Beckwith, 21, White Plains, N. Y., died of a skull fracture in the Butte jail yesterday. A cellmate called the jailer after Beckwith fell from a second tier bunk. The man was dead when the jailer arrived. Police said the man was arrested on a drunk charge Thursday.

Fulton Oursler Dies in New York

New York, May 24 (AP)—Fulton Oursler, 59, author of "The Greatest Story Ever Told", a book based on the Bible, and former newspaperman and magazine editor, died today.

He died in his apartment in the Hotel Navarro of a heart attack.

Oursler turned out a prodigious number of books and magazine articles, many of which in recent years reflected a strong interest in religion.

He was a former vice president and editorial director of Macfadden publications an dedited Liberty magazine from 1931 to 1942. Later he was a senior editor of Reader's Digest.

Oursler had a summer home at West Falmouth on Cape Cod.

Born in Baltimore

Born Charles Fulton Oursler in Baltimore, Md., on Jan. 22, 1893, he later dropped use of his first name for writing purposes.

He became a reporter on the Baltimore American in 1910, later becoming its music and dramatic critic.

Within a few years he was busy writing short stories for magazines. He became editor of the New York Music Trades in 1920 and editor-in-chief of Liberty and his executive post with MacFadden publications followed.

Oursler wrote a number of mystery chillers but in later years the trend changed.

In addition to "The Greatest Story Ever Told," which also was the basis for a radio series, he wrote "Modern Parables" and "Why I Know There Is a God."

Wrote for Movies

He also authored a number of motion picture scenarios and a syndicated column entitled "Modern Parables."

He contributed to many magazines and frequently lectured.

He was president of the Catholic Institute of the Press. He was a member of the Alcoholics Anonymous Foundation, the Dramatists Guild, the Authors Guild, the Magicians Guild, the Players and Dutch Treat Clubs and the Baker Street Irregulars, an organization of Sherlock Holmes devotees.

Oursler first was married in 1911 to Rose Keller Karger, by whom he had two children, Helen and William. He was married in 1925 to writer Grace Perkins. They had two children, Grace April and Charles Fulton.

Friends may call at the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., 296 Fair stheet, any time after Sunday noon. Funeral will be held Monday at 2 p. m. from the Conner Funeral Home with burial in Hickory Grove Cemetery, Waverly, Pa.

Sunday at 8 p. m. members of the Kingston Hospital Alumni Association will meet at the funeral home to hold memorial services for their deceased member.

Lt. White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. White of 44 West O'Reilly street, was a graduate of Waverly High School, Waverly Pa., class of 1943 and received her nurse's training at the Kingston Hospital where she remained as a member of the staff until 1950. At that time she became a health nurse under the New York State Department of Health, entering the Army Medical Corps in November of 1950, at Sheppard Field, Texas.

Pennsylvania Woman Is Hurt in Accident

A 1940 sedan operated by Vincent J. Nardi of 86 Henry street was in a collision with a 1951 sedan driven by John Slezak of 313 Wyoming street, Dupont, Pa., at Albany and Flatbush avenues at approximately 3 a. m. today, police said.

Thelma Huntz, 26, of 254 Main street, Duryea, Pa., passenger in the Slezak car, was treated at Kingston Hospital for a cut on the forehead according to police. The right front end and windshield of each car was reported to have been badly damaged.

The accident was investigated by Officers William F. Hanley and James Harbeck.

Mrs. Steele Recovers Pocketbook She Lost

Dominic Petrolle of Box 146, Glasco, brought a pocketbook and wallet to city police headquarters about 10:30 last night. Containing about $2 in change, papers and licenses, the articles bore the name Georgette Steele, Woodstock, police said.

While officers were trying to reach Mrs. Steele by telephone she walked into headquarters to report the loss.

Condition Unchanged

The condition of Elisha Gummere, 6½, of Barrytown was reported unchanged at the Northern Dutchess Health Center in Rhinebeck this morning. He was placed on the "danger list" after his admission to the hospital Friday morning after he was struck by an automobile in the street in front of his home, state police at Rhinebeck said. The child is the son of Richard Gummere, director of admissions at Bard College, and Mrs. Gummere.

About the Folks

Mrs. Gertrude Elder, a resident of the Hotel Stuyvesant, is reported to be improving at the Benedictine Hospital. Mrs. Elder suffered a broken leg in a fall last Saturday night.

Nurses Invited To Cancer Parley

The second Cancer Teaching Institute will be held in the auditorium of the Myron J. Michael School Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. All nurses in Ulster county are asked to attend this session.

Nurses active and inactive from all fields of nursing will want to "keep up with the times" in cancer education. The meetings are free to all school nurses, hospital nurses, public health nurses, office nurses, student nurses, industrial nurses, and registered practical nurses.

The first Institute was held May 20 for a large group of nurses from the county. It is not necessary to have attended the first Institute in order to come to the second on May 27.

Dr. Paul R. Gerhardt, MD, director of the Bureau of Cancer Control, will speak at the May 27 Institute on Public Health Aspects of Cancer Control. Appearing with him on the program will be Milton Grover, MD, director and Radiologist of the Ulster County Tumor Clinic, The Cancer Program in Ulster County, and Miss Esther Flemming, consultant nurse, Mental Hygiene, Emotional Aspects in the Care of Cancer Patients. Dr. Gerhardt and Miss Flemming are with the New York State Department of Health.

These institutes are sponsored by the Ulster County Health Department and the Ulster County Branch of the American Cancer Society.

Republicans Pick

the Eisenhower side to reverse this ruling is expected today.

MARYLAND — Gov. Theodore McKeldin appeared a cinch to get Maryland's 24 GOP votes as a "favorite son" candidate. But this would only last through the first ballot at the July 7 national convention in Chicago.

After that, indications point to a split between Taft and Eisenhower. McKeldin is not saying publicly what his preferences are. Once widely tabbed an Eisenhower man, he has been complimentary to Taft of late. Intimates insist he still favors the general.

At-Large Delegates Picked

MINNESOTA — Three at-large delegates, to fill out Minnesota's 28-vote quota, will be named at the Minneapolis convention. Gov. C. Elmer Anderson, and two other Eisenhower supporters, are expected to get the posts.

In Washington today, Sen. Edward Thye of Minnesota swung his support to Eisenhower. Thye had been backing former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

Taft now leads Eisenhower 393 to 339 in The Associated Press nationwide tabulation of delegate strength. The Ohio senator picked up 18 delegates last week compared wtih 14 added for Eisenhower.

The tabulation is based on concessions, pledges, instructions and avowed leanings. Nomination requires 604 votes.

Among Democrats, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee leads the tally with 116, followed by W. Averell Harriman with 84½ and Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia with 66½. Democratic nomination needs 616 votes.

Restrictions End

weeks beginning May 27, June 3 and June 10 to use up to 19½ per cent of the aviation gasoline they purchased during March.

At present commercial users of aviation gasoline are limited to 65 per cent of their March deliveries for the 28 days from May 6 to June 3. This was 16½ per cent per week.

A spokesman for the CIO Oil Workers International Union said in Denver that about 35,000 of the original 90,000 striking refinery and pipeline workers are back at work. The 22 AFL, independent and CIO unions are bargaining on a plant by plant basis.

The strikers—who averaged $2 to $2.10 an hour—originally demanded a 25-cent-an-hour pay hike, increased night work pay and other benefits. Most of the settlements have been for a 15-cent hourly raise, as approved by the Wage Stabilization Board.

Ohio Pact Reached

The CIO Oil Workers yesterday ratified a settlement with the Standard Oil Co., of Ohio calling for an average 16-cents-an-hour wage boost for 350 workers at the company's Toledo refinery.

The 24-day strike of 7,000 workers at the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) refinery ended today. A company spokesman announced a wage hike of 15 cents an hour was agreed upon between the company and union.

He said distribution of gas and other petroleum products from refinery storage will be resumed immediately. Full scale production is expected to be reached within a week to 10 days.

Drive Is Started

but would not initiate, a proposal for a six-billion-dollar aid bill.

Differences in the House and Senate bills must be ironed out later in a conference meeting. In both measures, the sums are only authorized for the fiscal year starting July 1. The actual appropriations will be made later.

GOP in Control

Democratic absenteeism and support by a bloc of southern Democrats gave the Republicans temporary control of the House during critical voting yesterday and Wednesday.

Military aid consists mostly of war weapons for the military buildup. The European total includes one billion dollars for war equipment contracts to be placed in European factories.

The cut in European economic assistance will affect most European countries. Under the administration's original $1,600,000,000 program, Great Britain tentatively was scheduled to get 590 million, France 420 million and west Germany 160 million.

Report Broken Main Near Rondout Creek

A broken water main on Ravine street near Dwyer's Boat Yard was reported about 6 p. m. yesterday.

It was investigated by the city fire department which reported the break to the water department. Water department employes began work last night to repair the main and were still at it this morning, it was reported.

The line, which supplies Island Dock, has been shut off until further notice.

Troopers Arrest Man Who Escaped From City Court

Clinton Gardiner, 39, who disappeared from City Court Friday morning after being sentenced to 30 days in jail by Judge Raymond Mino, was picked up today in Marlborough on a charge of burglary third degree.

Troopers said that Gardiner broke into a liquor store in Marlborough owned by Joseph G. Rosanno. He was arrested by Cpl. John Metzer of the Highland barracks.

Gardiner who, police say, has no home, was picked up Thursday on a public intoxication charge. Police said that he ran from the city court room yesterday morning shortly after Mino had sentenced him and while Lt. James P. Martin and the city judge were talking near the entrance to the judge's chambers. It is believed that he went down the steep bank back of the city hall and ran along the railroad tracks.

Yount Gets . . .

sured the senators that Koje prisoner facilities were being reorganized to restore control and halt such things as flying of Communist red flags, atrocities and murders inside the compounds and constant disorders.

Pace said the 187th Airborn Regiment and a tank battalion from the 8th Army had been added to the UN forces on Koje in the past few days.

Red Rule Slipping

Associated Press correspondent Robert Eunson said in a dispatch from Tokyo that in the face of actions taken by Clark "the Reds" iron rule inside the stockades at Koje seem to be slipping."

Although Pace listed demotions for both Dodd and Colson his accompanying letter was more critical of Dodd.

"General Dodd showed a lack of sound judgment in establishing the practice of conferring with the prisoners of war at the gates of their compounds instead of having their representatives brought to his office under guard," the Pentagon statement said.

The Pace letter said Dodd "contributed to the creation of a situation which endangered the security of the camp, put his successor (Colson) in an extremely difficult position, and furnished the Communists wth material for false world-wide propaganda."

Showed Poor Judgment

Pace said Dodd "did not display the judgment that is required of a general officer."

Colson, who replaced Dodd as Koje commander, "faced a difficult situation," Pace said, adding: "He had been directed to use force, if necessary. The use of force would possibly have resulted in casualties among UN soldiers effecting his release, widespread bloodshed among the prisoners of war, as well as the probable death of General Dodd.

"He secured the release of General Dodd without creating the dangers indicated above. However, to accomplish this he made statements in writing to prisoners of war which permitted distortion and inference of violations of proper handling of prisoners on the part of UN authorities which in fact did not exist."

Pace said Gen. Yount over looked "erroneous implications" in parts of the agreement he did approve and so was given "an administrative reprimand." Pace added, however, that Yount did not get a look at the final draft of Colson's agreement, and thus could not evaluate it fully.

A reprimand goes into an officer's record and might affect promotions or assignments.

Army officers said Dodd and Colson could not protest the demotions and ask courts martial because they were only temporary brigadiers. The demotions will cost them $167.58 in monthly pay and allowances.

The assembly also heard Henry L. McCorkle, of Philadelphia, declare that Protestants in Colombia, South America, are in "the midst of terrible trouble" because of Catholic persecution.

Reporting on a tour of Colombia, he said at least 2,000 cases of individual persecutions of Protestants by Catholics had been reported since 1949, and 450 cases had been substantiated in the last six months.

McCorkle, new editor of the church's official magazine, Presbyterian Life, said the assaults did not stem from political motives.

"When a priest leads a mob to stone a Protestant church and when a priest forcibly takes over a Protestant service . . . to blaspheme Protestantism . . . it is not politics," he said.

when the pact becomes effective, the name it is to carry and the status of Belgian and French armed forces in Germany before the six-nation European army is formed.

The western ministers were expected to cover a wide range of European problems in addition to the peace contract during their talk with Adenauer.

The probability of further Russian moves to checkmate the West German partnership with the democracies was slated to head the list of extra problems.

The Russians are wooing the Germans with proposals to reunite their divided country and threatening them with civil war if they join the west.

Truce Team Relaxes

Munsan, Korea, May 24 (AP)—The allied Korean war truce team relaxed at travel, horseshoes and volleyball today—and hoped the Reds would ease their unyielding stand on the prisoner issue when negitiations resume Tuesday. The UN delegation proposed a three-day recess Friday and North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist delegate, unexpectedly accepted.

Proper Signs Keep Out Valiant Hunters

Washington, May 24 (AP)—A Pennsylvania farmer whose orchard of Chinese chestnut trees was being damaged by careless hunters appealed for help some time ago to the Agriculture Department.

"What can I do," he wrote, "to protect my orchard?"

He was advised to post signs reading as follows:

"No trespassing: warning, the dangerous castanea mollisima linneaeus abounds in this orchard. Beware."

The farmer has reported back, the Agriculture Department said, that he followed these instructions and that hunters are giving the orchard a wide berth.

"Castanea mollissima linneaeus" is the scientific name for the Chinese chestnut tree.

Reds Grab . . .

existence, the air force reported.

B-26 light bombers and marine planes attacked enemy trucks Friday night, with 80 vehicles and five buildings reported destroyed. B-29 Superforts struck at the Kwaksan rail bridge near Sinuiju on the Yalu river for the second straight night, dropping 90 tons of bombs on the spans.

On the ground, the Reds nearly doubled their artillery and mortar bombardment Friday, but action still was at a near standstill.

An Eighth Army briefing officer said the Communists pitched 6,194 rounds across the lines up to 6 p. m. Three small U. S. tank contingents claimed damage to 15 Red pillboxes and other positions after sporadic fire on the central front.

One UN platoon east of Panmunjom reported killing 12 Reds in two rifle fire exchanges. Another in the same sector claimed 15 were killed with artillery bursts.

Longest fight reported was a spotty hour and 40 minute engagement on the central front against about 60 Reds.

Cable Prevents Mishap To County Truckman

A heavy AT&T cable strung along Route 9W prevented a truck from turning over in a mishap Friday afternoon on the Glenerie Hill north of Kingston, state police reported.

The Higgins Express, Glenford, truck driven by Richard Bolter, 21, of Woodstock, was traveling north when Bolter claimed he was forced to the edge of the highway by an unknown vehicle. The truck struck the guard posts and started to tip over, but was held in place by the cable, troopers said.

No personal injuries were reported, and the cable suffered no apparent damage, state police said. The truck was reported slightly damaged.

High Falls Man Held

Lincoln Hornbeck, 32, of High Falls was arrested at Stone Ridge by sheriff's office men Friday evening on a charge of second degree sodomy. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Roy Webber of the town of Marbletown, Hornbeck waived examination and was ordered held for grand jury action. The arrest followed a two-day investigation by the sheriff's office and stemmed from questioning of two boys under 16 years of age, the sheriff's office reported.

Krug Strike Ends

William Schutz, manager of the Krug Baking Co. branch at Poughkeepsie, announced that the strike which idled plants has been settled and that operations will resume Monday. Schutz said the workers accepted terms of a five-day week and an unspecified pay increase in a vote yesterday.

Brooch Disappeared

Cannes, France, May 24 (AP)—Mrs. Betty Feldman of Forest Hills, L. I., told police today that a brooch valued at some $1,500 disappeared from the lapel of her suit last night. The brooch was either lost or stolen, she said, while she was en route from her hotel to the gambling casino.

Onteora Parents Hear Factors in Hiring Teachers

More than 200 persons attended the regular meeting of the Onteora Parent-Teachers Association this week and heard Reginald Bennett, district superintendent, review factors involved in selecting teachers for the staff of the new central school for next fall.

Devoting the greater part of his time to the high school teachers, who will be new in the area, Bennett outlined the necessary qualifications as to academic background, personality and character and teaching experience. He also pointed out how important the contributions of these prospective teachers would be in the extra-curricular program.

Another factor Bennet felt was important in the selection of candidates was the applicant's desire to teach in a rural mountain area and in the Onteora district in particular.

The business meeting, conducted by President Herbert Epstein, was devoted largely to reports of standing committees. By-laws as recommended by that committee were adopted. Chairmen of program, publicity, hospitality and membership committee also reported.

The treasurer's report revealed 186 paid members to date.

The offices of historian and parliamentarian were created at the meeting, to be filled by appointment.

Mrs. Janice Krankel reported on the P-TA's Central Hudson District Conference in Highland, and Mrs. Philip Gordon briefed the group on the Family Institute to be held at New Paltz State Teachers College late in June. This session of one week will prove informative for parents, social workers and teachers, she said.

Dies in Prison Fall

Butte, Mont., May 24 (AP) — A man identified as Harold T. Beckwith, 21, White Plains, N. Y., died of a skull fracture in the Butte jail yesterday. A cellmate called the jailer after Beckwith fell from a second tier bunk. The man was dead when the jailer arrived. Police said the man was arrested on a drunk charge Thursday.

It's dangerous to place a woman on a pedestal. Makes it easy for her to kick you in the teeth.

Waiter—Spoon, miss?
Diner—Why, you fresh thing! Of course I don't.

The ability to speak several languages is a timely asset, but to be able to hold your tongue in one language is priceless.

The telephone rang in the office of a theatrical agent.
Voice—Hullo, I want a job. I can sing, dance, and juggle.
Agent—So can a thousand other people . . . and they're all out of work.
Voice—Just a minute . . . don't hang up. I can play the piano, walk the tight-rope and recite "Paradise Lost'" backwards.
Agent—So can all the others. You're wasting my time. Goodby.
Voice—Just a minute. There's one other thing. I'm a dog.

Wedding Guest—What are you waiting for?
Minister — Bride's father's a plumber. He forgot to bring her.

Mistress—This food tastes terrible. Did you salt it?
New Cook—Yes'm, but I never used that brand before. It was called Epsom Salts.

She—I heard that you're the dancer in this state.
He—Yes, I'm no good at all when I'm sober.

A woman called up for jury duty refused to serve because she didn't believe in capital punishment. Trying to persuade her, the judge explained: "This is merely a case where a wife is suing her husband because she gave him $1,000 to pay down on a fur coat and he lost the money in a poker game."

Area Golfers Will Compete Against Ben Hogan on Saturday, May 31

Area golf clubs will compete in the most unusual golf event in history on Saturday, May 31, when an estimated 300,000 linksmen throughout America will each play an 18-hole round against the U. S. Open champion, Bantam Ben Hogan.

Dr. Fred Holcomb, Jr., and Floyd W. Flint, tournament chairman at Wiltwyck and Twaalfskill, respectively, have announced that the two local clubs will participate in the novel affair.

J. Carson Hutchins, pro at the Woodstock Country Club, said his membership would take part and the Palenville Golf Club is expected to join the area parade.

During this unique one-day tournament, to be known nationwide as "National Golf Day," Hogan will match woods and irons with every golfer—man, woman or youngster, "duffer" or expert. Each challenger is permitted his present bona fide handicap rating.

To Play in Texas

Playing under USGA rules, Hogan will shoot an 18-hole round at the Northwood Club, Dallas, Texas, scene of the forthcoming 1952 National Open.

Simultaneously, on the fairways of the nation's 4,970 public and private courses, America's weekend golfers and their pros will try to beat Ben's round.

The contestants that beat Hogan will be awarded a specially-cast bronze medal inscribed "I beat Ben Hogan, National Golf Day, May 31, 1952."

National Golf Day is co-sponsored by LIFE Magazine and the Professional Golfers Association, in conjunction with the Western Golf Association. The required $1.00 entry fee for each contestant will be donated by the sponsors in its entirety, in equal shares to the U.S.O. and the "National Golf Fund."

The fund will be administered by PGA officials, representatives of various national golf associations and golf publications, as well as outstanding amateur golfers. No part of the proceeds will be retained by LIFE or the PGA, nor used in any way in helping defray expenses of the tournament.

Handicaps Announced

Golf professionals, club golf committees, the public course officials are currently receiving entry blanks, National Golf Day club score cards the day of the contest, sets of official rules prevailing on National Golf Day, and rules guiding the "Calloway Handicap System" which helps compute and establish a fair handicap on the basis of a single round for golfers who do not have an established club handicap.

All women, playing from women's tees, will be allowed five strokes in addition to their bona fide club handicap. Golfers who do not have a handicap rating will be judges by the "Calloway Handicap System."

A golfer can compete in more than one round by paying an additional $1 for each extra round.

Results of Ben Hogan's round will be carried by radio to all clubs and golf courses in every part of the country. Thus at the end of the day every contestant will know how he fared against America's finest golfer. Golf experts estimate that approximately 10 per cent of the contestants competing against Hogan will prove to be winners.

In commenting on National Golf Day, Hogan said, "The one golfer in America I have the greatest respect for is the weekend golfer. He is the business or professional man who shoots in the 80s, 90s, or 100s, but is always in there trying, whenever he can spare the time, and never quits in his battle against par. Playing against literally thousands of these golfers will be a great challenge for me. I am looking forward to May 31.

Olean Kegler's All-Events Total Disqualified by State Tourney

Disqualification of an Olean kegler who ranked high in the all-events standing in the state bowling tournament was announced today, as the 27th annual state championships settled down to the last two days of team shooting.

The kegler, Ed Nicolette, appeared with an Olean squad early in the tournament and racked up a 1980-plus all-events total that ranked among the first ten for several weeks.

Nicolette had an entered average of 158 but his flawless form and ball in the team event aroused the suspicion of local tournament officials who launched an investigation of Nicolette's bowling background.

According to affidavits submitted to the local committee today, Nicolette has forfeited any claim to prize money and has been revealed as a Class A bowler for several years.

Nicolette said that during the past two seasons he has bowled only in the St. Bonaventure College afternoon league where "none of us is too serious about bowling and consequently a lot of fooling around goes on." This he said, accounted for his 158 average.

Always in Class A

James W. Dusidall, secretary of the Olean Bowling Association, revealed that the Olean City Association would not allow Nicolette to roll in their city tournament unless he entered as a Class A bowler. He won the Class A all-events with a 1734 total for nine games.

Another affidavit by Bradley Yaw, captain of the Adams Sporting Goods Store of Olean, certified that Nicolette maintained an average of 180 or better for three years in the Olean Classic League.

Carl L. Subjeck, state association director for the Olean district, submitted a copy of Nicolette's average for 15 games in the Tri-City AA League, a Class A circuit, in which Nicolette toppled the pins at a 188.5 rate.

Second Change

Nicolette's disqualification marks the second change in the all-events standing this week. Two days ago Vito Caloia of Syracuse was installed as net all-events leader, following an investigation of scores rolled on April 19 and 20.

Caloia shot a 1966 all-events score that weekend but the score was not immediately certified because of a question of eligibility. The Syracuse trundler compiled his nine-game total as a substitute for two different men. After careful consideration of the facts, Caloia's scores were accepted and he was awarded first place.

Champs Make Bid

The final two days of five-man action in the 55-day tournament which will have seen nearly 8,000 keglers try their luck on the polished lanes will feature a bid by the V.F.W. of Cortland to retain its net title.

The Cortland keglers, a 945-average squad, make their bid on tonight's 10 o'clock squad at the Bowlodrome. They won in Elmira with a 2980 net last year.

Starting with today's kegling, a score of better than 2933 was needed to crash the prize list. Singles are over the 600 mark and it takes 1200-plus in the doubles. All-events are at an all-time high of 1850.

A jackrabbit can run faster than a racehorse, being clocked at 45 m.p.h.

Decision Monday On Irvin's Ankle

New York, May 24 (AP)—Monte Irvin, slugging New York Giant outfielder, will know next Monday if his right ankle has mended sufficiently to let him play this season.

"I feel great, I think it's going to be OK," he said.

Next Monday the cast comes off and doctors can tell if the broken bone has set properly.

Irvin saw his first game of the regular season last night when the Giants beat the Braves.

"I hope to be playing by mid-July or early August," he said.

Yonkers Raceway Closes Tonight

Yonkers, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—Bill Cane's fabulous Yonkers Raceway closes its 32-night spring harness meeting tonight, with all records for average attendance and betting broken and Pronto Don's great winning streak at an end.

Pronto Don, from the Hayes Fair Acres Stable of Duquoin, Ill., finished first before a crowd of 27,162 last night in the $10,000 New Rochelle trot, but was deprived of his 18th straight victory by the judges for cutting off C. M. Saunders' Bangaway on the turn in the home stretch.

Bangaway broke stride, and Henry Thomas drove Peter Abbey past him in the stretch. When Pronto Don's number came down, Peter Abbey was awarded first, and his payoff of $152.90 for $2 was the largest in the three-year-old history of Yonkers.

Pronto Don's 2:04 1/5 for the mile, best trot time here, was disallowed.

Total attendance for 31 nights is 622,849, for an average of 20,091, compared with 17,001 in 1951. Betting has totaled $34,967,930, averaging $1,127,997, compared with a nightly average of $875,267 last spring.

Trojan Bids For Discus Record

Eugene, Ore., May 24 (AP)—Sim Iness, a husky 6 foot, 6 inch Southern California athlete who threw the discus yesterday farther than any U. S. collegian ever has, will take a crack today at the world record.

He will get his chance in the finals of the annual Pacific Coast Conference track meet. In the qualifying events of this meet yesterday he sailed the discus 183 feet 5½ inches, a throw that will be submitted as an American record.

The recognized college title holder now is Fortune Gordien of Minnesota, who established a record of 178 feet, 11½ inches in 1948. There is also the American record including athletes out of college, of 180 feet 2¾ inches set by Robert Fitch in 1946 at Minneapolis.

The record Iness will take a crack at today is the world record set by Gordien competing in Finland in 1949. It is 186 feet, 11 inches.

Pony Baseball League Planned by Local Group

Meeting Tuesday To Decide Setup For First Year

Legion, Elks and Third Organization Ready

Plans for the organization of a local PONY Baseball League, similar to the one operating in Newburgh, was announced today by Andrew Murphy III, superintendent of recreation.

The PONY (Protect Our Nation's Youth) League embraces boys in the 13 to 15 age bracket.

Three local organizations — Kingston Post No. 150 of the American Legion, the Elks Club and an unidentified group—have agreed to sponsor a team.

Murphy said that the league would operate with four or six teams and that one or three more sponsors would be recruited in the next few days. He indicated that the Veterans of Foreign Wars have expressed interest in a franchise and would make a decision at their next regular meeting.

Tentative plans for the league, which would serve as a continuation of the Little League program, call for a four or six-team circuit patterned along the Little League format.

Players will be selected in the same manner they are in the Little League, with an attempt made to use all boys who show an interest to play.

Play at St. Mary's

Games will be played on St. Mary's Field on a diamond laid out according to specifications recommended by the New York City and Connecticut State League PONY leagues.

Each team will carry 15 fully-uniformed players in the following age brackets: 7 players of 13 years; five men in the 14-year bracket and three 15-year-olds.

Organizational plans will be continued at a joint meeting of committees of the three organizations Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. at the Legion building.

The Recreation Department has made plans to have the field in shape for play within a week so that the first call for players interested can be issued during the first week in June.

Plans for the PONY League originated with a group that included Murphy, Ervin DeWitt, Tom Davitt, Paul Hyatt, Charlie Higgins and Fred Davi, the local semi-pro baseball operator.

Others who have lined up behand the movement are Tommy Maines, Nick Cosmos, director of the Boys Club, Herb Van Deusen, Paul Hyatt and Frank Aidala.

Further details and dates for the first tryouts will be announced after Tuesday's meeting.

Conception '5' In CYO Finals

The Immaculate Conception bowling squad, champions of the CYO-Holy Name League of Kingston, will travel to the Park Row alleys in New York on Sunday to compete in the Archdiocesan finals. Four teams will meet in the semi-finals at 3 p. m. and the two winners clashing for the championship at 7 p. m. Representing the local squad will be Ed Lukas, Don Tomczyk, Joe Mannello, Pete Tatarzewski and John Sweeney.

Beicherts Hold Lead

Beichert's Studebakers remain unbeaten in City Softball League competition, with four straight wins, following their 7 to 6 squeaker this week over the Kingston Knitting Mills.

Hilltoppers climbed in the race by defeating the Legion, 9 to 5, to square their record at two and two.

Spectacular catches by Hansen and Crosby of Hilltop, Schryver of the Hilltops and Murphy of the Legion rapped triples, while Carl, Glaser and Corrado poled doubles.

Frank Bailey, Link Crosby, Fred Schryver and Nick Carl had two hits apiece for Hilltop and Angie Carrado belted a pair for the losers.

Sickler's Win

Sickler's Delivery got a fast start to defeat Chernev's, 9 to 5, at upper Hasbrouck. A five-run first inning set up a 6-0 lead before Cherney's crashed through with four runs in the third.

The winners collected 10 hits off Joyce and Lowe, including a double by Sinsabaugh and Leroy Hooker's triple, Hooker was the winning pitcher yielding seven hits. Winters had a double and Kuhn a triple for Cherney's.

Blind Bowler Due In State Tourney

The first blind bowler to compete in the New York State bowling tournament will roll in his team event on Sunday at 3:15 p. m. and the singles and doubles at 1:15 p. m. Monday.

He is Joseph Smietanowski, of Rochester, who suffered the loss of both eyes and part of his nose in action during World War II. Smietanowski served as an officer with the First Division and took part in the D-Day invasion.

Busy Schedule Planned for Bratton Split Decision Winner Over Flanagan

New York, May 24 (AP)—Next in line for Johnny Bratton, a split decision winner over Del Flanagan, is a June 18 return bout with Rocky Castellani at Chicago.

Hymie Wallman Bratton's manager, revealed the Chicago date after last night's Madison Square Garden nod over Flanagan. The heavier Castellani, a legitimate middleweight, upset Bratton March 28 at the Garden.

If Bratton gets past Castellani without damage to his fragile hands and jaw, the sleek Chicago Negro is ticketed to go to Montreal July 7, to fight Laurent Dauthuille.

All this busy program leaves little time for Bratton, former N.B.A. welter champ and No. 2 contender, to pursue the current champ, Kid Gavilan. But there's a good reason for it.

Sitting alongside Bratton in his dressing room after the fight was young Gil Turner, unbeaten Philadelphia whiz, saying: "I got him, Johnny. I got him."

"Him" was Gavilan. Any day now they will announce formally that Gavilan and Turner have been matched for a July 7 Philadelphia title bout, the day before the baseball All-Star game to be played at Shibe Park.

"I want the champ," said Bratton. "But this guy (Turner) is going to get him."

Then Bratton turned his attention to Flanagan who got the vote of Referee Al Berle 5-4-1 while Bratton was named winner by both judges. Judge Bert Grant had Bratton on top 6-4. Judge Joe Agnello saw it 5-5 but gave it to Bratton on points 7-5. The AP card had it 6-4 in favor of Bratton.

Chez Emile Meets Merchants Sunday

Davis Says His Club Is Greatly Improved

Rained out of its two week-day games, the City Baseball League resumes its Sunday schedule tomorrow, with Chez Emile assisting in the 1952 unveiling of Pucker Davis' Colonial Merchants.

The contest is scheduled for 2:05 p. m.

Manager Bill Davis says his perennial second division tossers have been greatly strengthened for the 1952 campaign and he expects his team to be in the thick of the pennant race.

Chez Emile, 1951 regular season champions, got off and winging with a brilliant 6-0 triumph over Jones Dairy behind Jack Watzka in the league inaugural last Sunday.

Manager Joe Hoffman is expected to call on Watzka for an encore, if the big Flatbush right hander has recovered from shoulder stiffness that forced him to retire with two outs in the last inning of the opener.

Barnes With Chezzies

If Watzka is not available, Hoffman may use the newly-acquired Artie Barnes. The side-arming righty was added to the Chez Emile roster yesterday.

Manager Davis is expected to send Vince Clearwater to the firing line.

Area Golfers Will Compete Against Ben Hogan on Saturday, May 31

Area golf clubs will compete in the most unusual golf event in history on Saturday, May 31, when an estimated 300,000 linksmen throughout America will each play an 18-hole round against the U. S. Open champion, Bantam Ben Hogan.

Dr. Fred Holcomb, Jr., and Floyd W. Flint, tournament chairman at Wiltwyck and Twaalfskill, respectively, have announced that the two local clubs will participate in the novel affair.

J. Carson Hutchins, pro at the Woodstock Country Club, said his membership would take part and the Palenville Golf Club is expected to join the area parade.

During this unique one-day tournament, to be known nationwide as "National Golf Day," Hogan will match woods and irons with every golfer—man, woman or youngster, "duffer" or expert. Each challenger is permitted his present bona fide handicap rating.

To Play in Texas

Playing under USGA rules, Hogan will shoot an 18-hole round at the Northwood Club, Dallas, Texas, scene of the forthcoming 1952 National Open.

Simultaneously, on the fairways of the nation's 4,970 public and private courses, America's weekend golfers and their pros will try to beat Ben's round.

The contestants that beat Hogan will be awarded a specially-cast bronze medal inscribed "I beat Ben Hogan, National Golf Day, May 31, 1952."

National Golf Day is co-sponsored by LIFE Magazine and the Professional Golfers Association, in conjunction with the Western Golf Association. The required $1.00 entry fee for each contestant will be donated by the sponsors in its entirety, in equal shares to the U.S.O. and the "National Golf Fund."

The fund will be administered by PGA officials, representatives of various national golf associations and golf publications, as well as outstanding amateur golfers. No part of the proceeds will be retained by LIFE or the PGA, nor used in any way in helping defray expenses of the tournament.

Handicaps Announced

Golf professionals, club golf committees, the public course officials are currently receiving entry blanks, National Golf Day stickers to be attached to club score cards the day of the contest, sets of official rules prevailing on National Golf Day, and rules guiding the "Calloway Handicap System" which helps compute and establish a fair handicap on the basis of a single round for golfers who do not have an established club handicap.

All women, playing from women's tees, will be allowed five strokes in addition to their bona fide club handicap. Golfers who do not have a handicap rating will be judges by the "Calloway Handicap System."

A golfer can compete in more than one round by paying an additional $1 for each extra round.

Results of Ben Hogan's round will be carried by radio to all clubs and golf courses in every part of the country. Thus at the end of the day every contestant will know how he fared against America's finest golfer. Golf experts estimate that approximately 10 per cent of the contestants competing against Hogan will prove to be winners.

In commenting on National Golf Day, Hogan said, "The one golfer in America I have the greatest respect for is the weekend golfer. He is the business or professional man who shoots in the 80s, 90s, or 100s, but is always in there trying, whenever he can spare the time, and never quits in his battle against par. Playing against literally thousands of these golfers will be a great challenge for me. I am looking forward to May 31.

Subway Grill set a seasonal record of 12 runs in one inning and went on to crush the VFW, 20-4, behind Tom Spada and Walt Bigler.

The Subway hit total off three VFW flingers— Geisler, Schmidt and Ausanio—was not reported but included a homer by Daisy Schatzel, triples by Ashdown and Orr and two baggers by Jack Schatzel, Ashdown, Scholar and Spada.

VFW led 2-0 when Subways rallied for their dozen runs in the third and scored in telephone number fashion for the remainder of the game.

Busy Schedule Planned for Bratton Split Decision Winner Over Flanagan

If Bratton gets past Castellani without damage to his fragile hands and jaw, the sleek Chicago Negro is ticketed to go to Montreal July 7, to fight Laurent Dauthuille.

All this busy program leaves little time for Bratton, former N.B.A. welter champ and No. 2 contender, to pursue the current champ, Kid Gavilan. But there's a good reason for it.

Sitting alongside Bratton in his dressing room after the fight was young Gil Turner, unbeaten Philadelphia whiz, saying: "I got him, Johnny. I got him."

"Him" was Gavilan. Any day now they will announce formally that Gavilan and Turner have been matched for a July 7 Philadelphia title bout, the day before the baseball All-Star game to be played at Shibe Park.

"I want the champ," said Bratton. "But this guy (Turner) is going to get him."

Then Bratton turned his attention to Flanagan who got the vote of Referee Al Berle 5-4-1 while Bratton was named winner by both judges. Judge Bert Grant had Bratton on top 6-4. Judge Joe Agnello saw it 5-5 but gave it to Bratton on points 7-5. The AP card had it 6-4 in favor of Bratton.

Shirley Temple Recovers

Washington, May 24 (AP)—Shirley Temple, the one-time child movie star, is recovering from complications following the birth of a son here, her husband says, but will probably be in the hospital another two weeks. Her husband, navy Comdr. Charles G. Black, told newsmen last night pleurisy and other difficulties followed a Caesarian delivery April 28. He added that the baby is fine.

Olean Kegler's All-Events Total Disqualified by State Tourney

Disqualification of an Olean kegler who ranked high in the all-events standing in the state bowling tournament was announced today, as the 27th annual state championships settled down to the last two days of team shooting.

The kegler, Ed Nicolette, appeared with an Olean squad early in the tournament and racked up a 1980-plus all-events total that ranked among the first ten for several weeks.

Nicolette had an entered average of 158 but his flawless form and ball in the team event aroused the suspicion of local tournament officials who launched an investigation of Nicolette's bowling background.

According to affidavits submitted to the local committee today, Nicolette has forfeited any claim to prize money and has been revealed as a Class A bowler for several years.

Nicolette said that during the past two seasons he has bowled only in the St. Bonaventure College afternoon league where "none of us is too serious about bowling and consequently a lot of fooling around goes on." This he said, accounted for his 158 average.

Always in Class A

James W. Dusidall, secretary of the Olean Bowling Association, revealed that the Olean City Association would not allow Nicolette to roll in their city tournament unless he entered as a Class A bowler. He won the Class A all-events with a 1754 total for nine games.

Another affidavit by Bradley Yaw, captain of the Adams Sporting Goods Store of Olean, certified that Nicolette maintained an average of 180 or better for three years in the Olean Classic League.

Carl L. Subjeck, state asociation director for the Olean district, submitted a copy of Nicolette's average for 15 games in the Tri-City AA League, a Class A circuit, in which Nicolette toppled the pins at a 188.5 rate.

Second Change

Nicolette's disqualification marks the second change in the all-events standing this week. Two days ago Vito Caloia of Syracuse was installed as net all-events leader, following an investigation of scores rolled on April 19 and 20.

Caloia shot a 1966 all-events score that weekend but the score was not immediately certified because of a question of eligibility. The Syracuse trundler compiled his nine-game total as a substitute for two different men. After careful consideration of the facts, Caloia's scores were accepted and he was awarded first place.

Champs Make Bid

The final two days of five-man action in the 55-day tournament which will have seen nearly 8,000 keglers try their luck on the polished lanes will feature a bid by the V.F.W. of Cortland to retain its net title.

The Cortland keglers, a 945-average squad, make their bid on tonight's 10 o'clock squad at the Bowlodrome. They won in Elmira with a 2980 net last year.

Starting with today's kegling, a score of better than 2933 was needed to crash the prize list. Singles are over the 600 mark and it takes 1200-plus in the doubles. All-events are at an all-time high of 1850.

A jackrabbit can run faster than a racehorse, being clocked at 45 m.p.h.

Decision Monday On Irvin's Ankle

New York, May 24 (AP)—Monte Irvin, slugging New York Giant outfielder, will know next Monday if his right ankle has mended sufficiently to let him play this season.

"I feel great, I think it's going to be OK," he said.

Next Monday the cast comes off and doctors can tell if the broken bone has set properly.

Irvin saw his first game of the regular season last night when the Giants beat the Braves.

"I hope to be playing by mid-July or early August," he said.

Yonkers Raceway Closes Tonight

Yonkers, N. Y., May 24 (AP)—Bill Cane's fabulous Yonkers Raceway closes its 32-night spring harness meeting tonight, with all records for average attendance and betting broken and Pronto Don's great winning streak at an end.

Pronto Don, from the Hayes Fair Acres Stable of Duquoin, Ill., finished first before a crowd of 27,162 last night in the $10,000 New Rochelle trot, but was deprived of his 18th straight victory by the judges for cutting off C. M. Saunders' Bangaway on the turn in the home stretch.

Bangaway broke stride, and Henry Thomas drove Peter Abbey past him in the stretch. When Pronto Don's number came down, Peter Abbey was awarded first, and his payoff of $152.90 for $2 was the largest in the three-year-old history of Yonkers.

Pronto Don's 2:04 1/5 for the mile, best trot time here, was disallowed.

Trojan Bids For Discus Record

Eugene, Ore., May 24 (AP)—Sim Iness, a husky 6 foot, 6 inch Southern California athlete who threw the discus yesterday farther than any U. S. collegian ever has, will take a crack today at the world record.

He will get his chance in the finals of the annual Pacific Coast Conference track meet. In the qualifying events of this meet yesterday he sailed the discus 183 feet 5½ inches, a throw that will be submitted as an American record.

The recognized college title holder now is Fortune Gordien of Minnesota, who established a record of 178 feet, 11½ inches in 1948. There is also the American record including athletes out of college, of 180 feet 2¾ inches set by Robert Fitch in 1946 at Minneapolis.

The record Iness will take a crack at today is the world record set by Gordien competing in Finland in 1949. It is 186 feet, 11 inches.

Blind Bowler Due In State Tourney

The first blind bowler to compete in the New York State bowling tournament will roll in his team event on Sunday at 3:15 p. m. and the singles and doubles at 1:15 p. m. Monday.

He is Joseph Smietanowski, of Rochester, who suffered the loss of both eyes and part of his nose in action during World War II. Smietanowski served as an officer with the First Division and took part in the D-Day invasion.

Chez Emile Meets Merchants Sunday

Davis Says His Club Is Greatly Improved

Rained out of its two week-day games, the City Baseball League resumes its Sunday schedule tomorrow, with Chez Emile assisting in the 1952 unveiling of Pucker Davis' Colonial Merchants.

The contest is scheduled for 2:05 p. m.

Manager Bill Davis says his perennial second division tossers have been greatly strengthened for the 1952 campaign and he expects his team to be in the thick of the pennant race.

Chez Emile, 1951 regular season champions, got off and winging with a brilliant 6-0 triumph over Jones Dairy behind Jack Watzka in the league inaugural last Sunday.

Manager Joe Hoffman is expected to call on Watzka for an encore, if the big Flatbush right hander has recovered from shoulder stiffness that forced him to retire with two outs in the last inning of the opener.

Barnes With Chezzies

If Watzka is not available, Hoffman may use the newly-acquired Artie Barnes. The side-arming righty was added to the Chez Emile roster yesterday.

Manager Davis is expected to send Vince Clearwater to the firing line.

Grange News

The Lake Katrine Grange met Monday night. Members of the Plattekill Grange paid a visitation meeting and put on the lecturers' program, part of which was devoted to the theme Freedom, and partly to recreation. It was an excellent program and greatly enjoyed. Reports of the Saturday night dance and entertainment for the young people of the community were favorable. Members of the committee who helped to make this a success were Mr. and Mrs. William Hookey, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Snyder, Myron Boice, Jr., Miss Eleanor Morehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stevenson. The musicians who contributed their services were Mrs. Kathryn Brink and Mr. Spanake of Mt. Tremper Grange. Candidates for membership attended the initiation ceremonies held at Stone Ridge Grange, Tuesday, May 20. The degree team of Stone Ridge assisted in giving the first and second degrees.

Trinity Methodist Guild Held Mother, Daughter Dinner

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Trinity Methodist Church gathered in the church parlors on Tuesday evening to entertain their mothers and friends at the annual Mother-Daughter dinner.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Mrs. Frank Palen, president welcomed the guests and thanked the committees.

Devotions were in charge of Miss L. May Quimby and were based on the theme Pioneer Women. Miss Anna Dell Quimby arranged the program which opened with a solo, Where Heaven Is by Geoffrey O'Hara, sung by Mrs. Henry Terpening and accompanied on the piano by Miss Ethel Mauterstock. Miss Mauterstock also provided the piano accompaniment for the hymns which were sung during the devotional service.

For the remainder of the program, the Rev. Herbert Killinder showed a film entitled The Challenge of the Labrador, which portrayed the nature and scope of the medical missionary work started in that country by Sir Wilfred Grenfell. The Grenfell mission work in one of the projects of the Wesleyan Service Guild.

Members of the Guild in attendance were the Mmes. Frank Palen, Conrad Gross, Henry Terpening, Vincent Carr, James Wood, William Boyce, Ivan Gossoo, Vernon Brodhead, Howard Bodie, Frank Mergendahl, Herman Bigler, and the Misses Adiska Conro, L. May Quimby, Anna Dell Quimby, Ethel Mauterstock and Ruth Tongue.

The guests included the Mmes. E. A. D. Potter, Frank Thompson, Arthur Carr, Scott Conro, William Lynn, Martha Neal, Alfred Tongue, Caldwell, Williams and the Misses Minnie Osterhoudt, Irene Goodsell and Thelma Quick.

The dinner was served by Mrs. Elmer Cure and the committee in charge was composed of Miss Adiska Conro, chairman; Mrs. Herman Bigler and Mrs. Vernon Brodhead.

The Rev. Frederick Reustle of Jamaica arrived Monday to have some work done at his Cragsmoor home. During the season, the Rev. Reustle holds services in the Federated Church there. Mr. and Mrs. Block and daughter of Woodside, N. J., accompanied by Mrs. Bard, manager of Cragsmoor Inn, also spent a few days in Cragsmoor recently.

Norman Kaplan, a member of the deck force of the carrier Wasp, was able to spend a short furlough with his parents in Ellenville while the Wasp was undergoing repairs at Bayonne, N. J. He relates that he did not actually see the collision of the Wasp and the Hobson, but was knocked off his feet by the impact of the two ships striking each other. He was soon called to assist in carrying rescued crew members of the Hobson to the hospital bay. Kaplan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kaplan of Clifford street.

Game Protector Roger Fredenburgh arrested Walter Chrissey of Cranford, N. J., last week for the possession of trout that were under the legal size. He not only had small ones but more than the legal limit which is 14. Arraigned before justice of the peace, he was fined $50.

Miss Clare Ellen Falvey, daughter of Cornelius A. Falvey of Jamaica, L. I., and niece of Mrs. William D. Cunningham and the late Judge Cunningham, was married Saturday morning to Joseph Francis Grable, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grable of Brooklyn at St. Ignatius Loyola Church in New York. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Aidan C. McMullen, S.J., a cousin of the bride, and the Rev. Brendan J. McMullen, O.P., also a cousin of the bride, read the Papal Blessing. Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin and a veil of Brussel's lace and French illusion which was attached to a Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and stephanotis. Miss Virginia O'Donnell, maid of honor, wore a gown of hyacinth blue organza and a picture hat of deeper blue. She carried yellow African daisies, baby's breath, and delphinium. The other attendants were Miss Billie King of Silver Springs, Md., Mrs. Frances Kuhlmann of Ellenville and Miss Marion Powers of Palmerton, Pa. Their dresses were of hyacinth blue organza, similar to that of the maid of honor and they wore matching picture hats and carried bouquets of yellow roses, yellow African daisies and baby's breath. Anthony Grable, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Edward Grable, another brother, Zygmond Surdakowski, brother-in-law of the groom, of Napanoch, Fergus Conroy of Ellenville, and Eugene Moloney of Brooklyn. A reception for 300 guests was held at Sherry's following the ceremony. After a trip to Bermuda and Washington, D. C., the couple will live in Ellenville. Among those from Ellenville and vicinity who attended the Grable-Falvey wedding in New York on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. William Eckert, Mr. and Mrs. Erhardt Rosenberger, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Van Keuren, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Gilleran, Mrs. Margaret Gonder, and Jerome and Larry O'Neill. Also Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brunell, Mrs. Ruth Coughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Low, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Denier, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston of Napanoch and Mr. and Mrs. William Joyce of Kerhonkson.

Grange News

The Lake Katrine Grange met Monday night. Members of the Plattekill Grange paid a visitation meeting and put on the lecturers' program, part of which was devoted to the theme Freedom, and partly to recreation. It was an excellent program and greatly enjoyed. Reports of the Saturday night dance and entertainment for the young people of the community were favorable. Members of the committee who helped to make this a success were Mr. and Mrs. William Hookey, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Snyder, Myron Boice, Jr., Miss Eleanor Morehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stevenson. The musicians who contributed their services were Mrs. Kathryn Brink and Mr. Spanake of Mt. Tremper Grange. Candidates for membership attended the initiation ceremonies held at Stone Ridge Grange, Tuesday, May 20. The degree team of Stone Ridge assisted in giving the first and second degrees.

Trinity Methodist Guild Held Mother, Daughter Dinner

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Trinity Methodist Church gathered in the church parlors on Tuesday evening to entertain their mothers and friends at the annual Mother-Daughter dinner.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Mrs. Frank Palen, president welcomed the guests and thanked the committees.

Devotions were in charge of Miss L. May Quimby and were based on the theme Pioneer Women. Miss Anna Dell Quimby arranged the program which opened with a solo, Where Heaven Is by Geoffrey O'Hara, sung by Mrs. Henry Terpening and accompanied on the piano by Miss Ethel Mauterstock. Miss Mauterstock also provided the piano accompaniment for the hymns which were sung during the devotional service.

For the remainder of the program, the Rev. Herbert Killinder showed a film entitled The Challenge of the Labrador, which portrayed the nature and scope of the medical missionary work started in that country by Sir Wilfred Grenfell. The Grenfell mission work in one of the projects of the Wesleyan Service Guild.

Members of the Guild in attendance were the Mmes. Frank Palen, Conrad Gross, Henry Terpening, Vincent Carr, James Wood, William Boyce, Ivan Gossoo, Vernon Brodhead, Howard Bodie, Frank Mergendahl, Herman Bigler, and the Misses Adiska Conro, L. May Quimby, Anna Dell Quimby, Ethel Mauterstock and Ruth Tongue.

The guests included the Mmes. E. A. D. Potter, Frank Thompson, Arthur Carr, Scott Conro, William Lynn, Martha Neal, Alfred Tongue, Caldwell, Williams and the Misses Minnie Osterhoudt, Irene Goodsell and Thelma Quick.

The dinner was served by Mrs. Elmer Cure and the committee in charge was composed of Miss Adiska Conro, chairman; Mrs. Herman Bigler and Mrs. Vernon Brodhead.

Selections for Empire Boys' State at Colgate University

Nine Ulster county boys, sponsored by the various County American Legion Posts, have been selected to attend the 1952 Empire Boys' State at Colgate University, Hamilton, during the week of June 22. The list of designees was released today by P. J. Beichert, Port Ewen, Ulster County Boys' State Chairman and a State Director of Empire Boys' State.

Empire Boys' State is a citizenship training program designed to meet the needs of the youth and is sponsored by the American Legion, Department of New York. The program is designed to inculcate individual responsibility to community, state and nation and the "learn by doing" concept is employed on the theory that good citizenship is only in part a matter of knowledge, intellect and understanding. Boy's State has been aptly described as a laboratory of practical political science. The program inspires and instills a deep sense of responsibility and obligation in the youth by educating them in the principles of democracy and by teaching them the duties, privileges and rights of American citizenship. It is a pure democracy in that all citizens may vote and are eligible to hold office. As nearly as possible the government of Empire Boys' State is patterned after the city, county and state governments of the State of New York.

The 1952 Empire Boys' State will be held from June 22 to June 28 at Colgate University. The facilities and plant of the University are ideal for the accomplishment of the aims of Empire Boys' State. Colgate is situated amid the rolling hills of the Chenago Valley, some 1,130 feet above sea level and the location is ideal for the splendid program.

Leadership, character, scholarship and service are the necessary qualifications a boy must possess in order to be admitted to Boys' State. Merit and ability alone is the basis for the selection of boys and no boys are barred if they have the qualifications. They must be 15, 16 or 17 years of age and juniors in high school and residents of the State of New York. Empire Boys' State is not limited to sons or friends of the American Legion. Each boy who attends will be expected to make a report to his sponsoring Post and each Post extends an invitation to the boy to attend a meeting of the Post and explain to the assemblage the nature and extent of his activities at "State."

In Ulster county all Post Boys' State chairmen, consult with the principals of the high schools attended by boys in their locality. With the aid of a faculty committee, a boy is recommended to attend Boys' State and this recommendation is followed by the sponsoring Post. Two alternates also are chosen in case the principal is not available.

During the past few years, Empire Boys' State has been fortunate in obtaining the services of high school teachers and law school students who have been with the program for many years. Their services have contributed no little to the success of the program as they are experienced personnel who know boys and parliamentary procedure.

Thirty cities will be formed at Boys' State and each city will consist of 30 boys and 30 cities will be divided into 10 counties. A counselor will be assigned to each city and it is the duty of the counselor to assist the boys and guide their activities.

In addition to governmental work, many activities are provided for the boys. A softball schedule and a tennis tournament is held. Boys are permitted to swim in Colgate's indoor pool. A band concert is arranged and boys who play instruments are encouraged to bring them. In the past Boys' State has organized bands consisting of over 100 pieces. A daily newspaper is printed by the boys and a police force is organized and court trials held. Examinations are given to those boys who wish to be admitted to the bar of Empire Boys' State. Boys' State chaplains participate in the morning assembly programs and are always available.

Each boy is given a medical examination upon his arrival and competent physicians are available for any emergencies that may arise.

The Ulster county contingent will be made up of boys from Ellenville, Ashokan, Marlborough, Highland, Wallkill, Kingston, New Paltz, Port Ewen and Saugerties. This is the first year that Olive Memorial Post 1627 of Ashokan and Charles W. Viebey Post, 124 of Marlborough, have sent boys.

The applications have now been processed and sent to State Headquarters and the designees will be sent their instructions and credentials from George Mead executive director of Boys' State.

Following is a list of the boys and their sponsoring organizations:

Harold Carlson, Shokan; Kingston High School until completion of Onteora Central School—Olive Memorial Post, 1627, Ashokan.

Joseph Palmer Casscles, Marlborough, N. Y.; — Marlborough High School — Chas. W. Viebey Post 124, Marlborough.

George Joseph Backofen, RFD 1, Wallkill; Wallkill High School—Rose-Sheeley Post, 1034, Wallkill.

Broadway Crossing Elimination Celebration Recalls Tragedies

Celebration Marks End of Long Fight To Remove Hazard

The Broadway railroad crossing, which has been a topic of discussion for the past 32 years, having been declared a "hazard to life and limb and a drawback to Kingston" at long last is going to be eliminated through completion of the underpass and there is going to be a big celebration marking the event. The festivities will take place Wednesday evening, May 28 from 7 o'clock until midnight with an elaborate program featuring a block party, entertainment, awards and addresses. The program is being sponsored by the Central Businessmen's Association.

Agitation for the elimination of the so-called "death trap" has been going on for many years and became vehement following two tragedies, one of which occurred in 1918 and the other in 1937.

The lives of six men were taken in these two crashes at the Broadway railroad crossing, which are herewith described:

The wooden gate at the Broadway crossing had hardly been lowered in the early morning sun when a Kingston City trolley smashed through it and into the path of New York Central Train No. 9, West Shore Division.

The gate disintegrated, its fragments flying through the air. Brakes shrieked, steel grinding on steel. Passengers on the trolley, nosing into the path of the morning newspaper train, may have raised a few choked screams— but the action was swift.

The trolley, caught in the forward end, was lifted, whirled, amid the jangling of steel and the shattering of glass. Some of the passengers were shot through the glass windows by the force of the impact. Bound uptown before the crash, the trolley, now a twisted mess of wood and steel, faced downtown, flung clean around.

It was 6:32 a. m., Monday, March 4, 1918.

Three Are Killed

Three were to die. A fourth was to lie seriously injured for many weeks.

Wasil Kostecki of 31 East Pierpont street, who was on his way to catch the train that killed him, died at Kingston City Hospital shortly after the accident.

Grove Webster, Jr., 45, who resided at the corner of Broadway and Stuyvesant street, in charge of Hudson river ice harvesting for the Burns Bros. Corporation, died at 4:30 p. m. He had suffered a fracture at the base of the skull.

Policeman John G. Boyd of 245 West Chestnut street, who was picked up from the cowcatcher of the locomotive, fought death until 10:30 p. m. Saturday, March 9, when he succumbed.

Cohen Was Passenger

"I found myself on my feet looking for my cap," Benjamin Cohen of 96 McEntee street, a passenger on the ill-fated trolley, told The Freeman today. Reminiscing, Cohen said that he may have been thrown through a window or door, but he doesn't know. He was sitting "on the righthand side in the front of the trolley."

He recalled that Webster and Kostecki were also sitting in the forward part of the trolley, across the aisle from him, and that Boyd was standing forward in the vestibule. He saw the train coming, he said, and recalled that the gates were up as the trolley approached the tracks.

Cohen who had mounted the trolley at East Union street, said that he received no injuries, although he was shaken up and his hearing a little affected.

Riding in the trolley at the time of the crash, some of them sustaining injuries, were: Motorman Chester B. Roe, 135 Prospect street; Conductor William Beadle, 74 Foxhall avenue; Fred W. Sudheimer, 1 Hone street; Mike Litus, 21 East Pierpont; John Grimm, 7 Foxhall avenue; J. DeWitt, 67 Hudson street; Daniel Healey, 257 Abeel street; Denko Melniezuk, East Pierpont street; Harry Wieber of the firm of Wieber and Walter; former Alderman John Fischer of the 7th Ward; Miss Margaret A. O'Brien, 100 McEntee street; Mrs. Charles Tonskey, 19 Spring street, and William and Arthur Lahl, brothers, of Newkirk avenue.

Fire Truck Demolished

Nineteen years passed. At 2:25 a. m., Saturday, May 15, 1937, Engine No. 1 was returning from a three-alarm fire at 26 Downs street. Rain was falling in the murky darkness. Ferrell Finkle of 117 Abbey street, who was driving the 1,000-gallon LaFrance engine, sat in the open truck, half blinded by the rain blowing into his eyes. The bell at the Broadway crossing was ringing but the roar of the truck motor drowned it out.

P. J. Ellwanger of 41 Livingston street, gate tender, watched with horror as the engine approached the gates, no slack in its speed, apparently unaware of the fact that the gates were down.

Passenger Train No. 19 roared into the crossing, the locomotive slipping past. Almost simultaneously, the gate splintered and the engine crashed head-on into the baggage car, hooking there somehow, and dragging along the tracks.

Three Firemen Die

Peter Carey, 43, of 60 Clinton avenue, and Preston L. DeWitt, 32, of 82 Downs street, who were riding on the back of the truck, were flung to the tracks. Carey died at Kingston City Hospital at 6 a. m. and DeWitt at 11 a. m.

Finkle lingered, seriously injured, battled four months for his life and lost it, Sept. 24, 1937.

Richard J. Smith, 109 Abeel street, who was sitting on the seat next to Finkle, escaped injury but suffered a bad case of shock. Smith retired June 16, 1938.

The fire engine was crushed into a mass of broken twisted steel, so bady mangled that it had to be replaced.

In the late seventies or early eighties of the last century, before the West Shore railroad was built, a horse car was struck at the Broadway crossing by a Wallkill Valley train and Mrs. John Wolfer, daughter of General Samson, was killed.

Ground Broken 1949

Following the 1918 crash, plans were drawn up for the elimination of the "murderous crossing"—but nothing materialized.

Elimination was first brought prominently to the attention of the city not long after the accident when Mayor Palmer A. Canfield suggested that Council take steps to have the crossing removed. At that time a model was prepared showing how Broadway would appear if the crossing were eliminated. It was ultimately stored in City Hall and lost in a fire.

In 1936 the state Public Service Commission decreed that the crossing must go and directed the railroad to submit a plan. The plan drawn up by the railroad was designated as issue A.

Mayor Conrad Heiselman, businessmen in the central section of the city and the Council objected strongly to the plan and the ctiy was given an opportunity to submit an alternative plan. After considerable study a plan known as Scheme B Modified was prepared and submitted.

It called for carrying Broadway under the tracks, but considerable opposition was raised by businessmen who maintained that it would ruin that section of the city. Public hearings were held at which time objections were raised to the adoption of any plan that meant carrying Broadway under the tracks.

Plans for the elimination were laid aside during the war years but in Oct. 1949, ground was broken and the project began.

With the completion of the underpass scheduled for May 29, one of the most dangerous crossings in the state will have been eliminated.

In ancient times, sulfur was called brimstone, that is, burn stone, because it burned when lighted.

Lions to Attend State Convention

Delegates and alternates from the Kingston Lions Club will attend the state convention of the organization Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at Syracuse, it was announced today by Dr. Saul Goldfarb, chairman of the local delegation.

More than 600 are expected at the upstate session at which important programs will be discussed, and elections held.

President Alwyn Feuerstein of the Kingston club, and Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, a member, will head the following delegates: Larry Jensen, Dale Swartzmiller, M. Overfield, Roger Baer, Ernest DuBois, Kenneth MacClellan, William Stall, George Svirsky, Robert Cousins, Henry Singer, Walter Donnaruma, Roger Billings and Harry Gold.

Selections for Empire Boys' State at Colgate University

Nine Ulster county boys, sponsored by the various County American Legion Posts, have been selected to attend the 1952 Empire Boys' State at Colgate University, Hamilton, during the week of June 22. The list of designees was released today by P. J. Beichert, Port Ewen, Ulster County Boys' State Chairman and a State Director of Empire Boys' State.

Empire Boys' State is a citizenship training program designed to meet the needs of the youth and is sponsored by the American Legion, Department of New York. The program is designed to inculcate individual responsibility to community, state and nation and the "learn by doing" concept is employed on the theory that good citizenship is only in part a matter of knowledge, intellect and understanding. Boy's State has been aptly described as a laboratory of practical political science. The program inspires and instills a deep sense of responsibility and obligation in the youth by educating them in the principles of democracy and by teaching them the duties, privileges and rights of American citizenship. It is a pure democracy in that all citizens may vote and are eligible to hold office. As nearly as possible the government of Empire Boys' State is patterned after the city, county and state governments of the State of New York.

The 1952 Empire Boys' State will be held from June 22 to June 28 at Colgate University. The facilities and plant of the University are ideal for the accomplishment of the aims of Empire Boys' State. Colgate is situated amid the rolling hills of the Chenago Valley, some 1,130 feet above sea level and the location is ideal for the splendid program.

Leadership, character, scholarship and service are the necessary qualifications a boy must possess in order to be admitted to Boys' State. Merit and ability alone is the basis for the selection of boys and no boys are barred if they have the qualifications. They must be 15, 16 or 17 years of age and juniors in high school and residents of the State of New York. Empire Boys' State is not limited to sons or friends of the American Legion. Each boy who attends will be expected to make a report to his sponsoring Post and each Post extends an invitation to the boy to attend a meeting of the Post and explain to the assemblage the nature and extent of his activities at "State."

In Ulster county all Post Boys' State chairmen, consult with the principals of the high schools attended by boys in their locality. With the aid of a faculty committee, a boy is recommended to attend Boys' State and this recommendation is followed by the sponsoring Post. Two alternates also are chosen in case the principal is not available.

During the past few years, Empire Boys' State has been fortunate in obtaining the services of high school teachers and law school students who have been with the program for many years. Their services have contributed no little to the success of the program as they are experienced personnel who know boys and parliamentary procedure.

Thirty cities will be formed at Boys' State and each city will consist of 30 boys and 30 cities will be divided into 10 counties. A counselor will be assigned to each city and it is the duty of the counselor to assist the boys and guide their activities.

In addition to governmental work, many activities are provided for the boys. A softball schedule and a tennis tournament is held. Boys are permitted to swim in Colgate's indoor pool. A band concert is arranged and boys who play instruments are encouraged to bring them. In the past Boys' State has organized bands consisting of over 100 pieces. A daily newspaper is printed by the boys and a police force is organized and court trials held. Examinations are given to those boys who wish to be admitted to the bar of Empire Boys' State. Boys' State chaplains participate in the morning assembly programs and are always available.

Each boy is given a medical examination upon his arrival and competent physicians are available for any emergencies that may arise.

The Ulster county contingent will be made up of boys from Ellenville, Ashokan, Marlborough, Highland, Wallkill, Kingston, New Paltz, Port Ewen and Saugerties. This is the first year that Olive Memorial Post 1627 of Ashokan and Charles W. Viebey Post, 124 of Marlborough, have sent boys.

The applications have now been processed and sent to State Headquarters and the designees will be sent their instructions and credentials from George Mead executive director of Boys' State.

Following is a list of the boys and their sponsoring organizations:

Harold Carlson, Shokan; Kingston High School until completion of Onteora Central School—Olive Memorial Post, 1627, Ashokan.

Joseph Palmer Casscles, Marlborough, N. Y.; — Marlborough High School — Chas. W. Viebey Post 124, Marlborough.

George Joseph Backofen, RFD 1, Wallkill; Wallkill High School—Rose-Sheeley Post, 1034, Wallkill.

Donald Paul Kiwus, 14 South Wall street., Kingston; Kingston High School—Kingston Post, 150, Kingston.

John Roger Jeanneney, Libertyville Road, New Paltz; New Paltz High School—Sullivan-Shafer Post 176, New Paltz.

Robert Lester Sanford, Salem street, Port Ewen; Kingston High School—Town of Esopus Post, 1298, Port Ewen.

Dwight Ball, Washburn Terrace, Saugerties; Saugerties High School—Lamouree-Hackett Post, 72, Saugerties.

Broadway Crossing Elimination Celebration Recalls Tragedies

Celebration Marks End of Long Fight To Remove Hazard

The Broadway railroad crossing, which has been a topic of discussion for the past 32 years, having been declared a "hazard to life and limb and a drawback to Kingston" at long last is going to be eliminated through completion of the underpass and there is going to be a big celebration marking the event. The festivities will take place Wednesday evening, May 28 from 7 o'clock until midnight with an elaborate program featuring a block party, entertainment, awards and addresses. The program is being sponsored by the Central Businessmen's Association.

Agitation for the elimination of the so-called "death trap" has been going on for many years and became vehement following two tragedies, one of which occurred in 1918 and the other in 1937.

The lives of six men were taken in these two crashes at the Broadway railroad crossing, which are herewith described:

The wooden gate at the Broadway crossing had hardly been lowered in the early morning sun when a Kingston City trolley smashed through it and into the path of New York Central Train No. 9, West Shore Division.

The gate disintegrated, its fragments flying through the air. Brakes shrieked, steel grinding on steel. Passengers on the trolley, nosing into the path of the morning newspaper train, may have raised a few choked screams— but the action was swift.

The trolley, caught in the forward end, was lifted, whirled, amid the jangling of steel and the shattering of glass. Some of the passengers were shot through the glass windows by the force of the impact. Bound uptown before the crash, the trolley, now a twisted mess of wood and steel, faced downtown, flung clean around.

It was 6:32 a. m., Monday, March 4, 1918.

Three Are Killed

Three were to die. A fourth was to lie seriously injured for many weeks.

Wasil Kostecki of 31 East Pierpont street, who was on his way to catch the train that killed him, died at Kingston City Hospital shortly after the accident.

Grove Webster, Jr., 45, who resided at the corner of Broadway and Stuyvesant street, in charge of Hudson river ice harvesting for the Burns Bros. Corporation, died at 4:30 p. m. He had suffered a fracture at the base of the skull.

Policeman John G. Boyd of 245 West Chestnut street, who was picked up from the cowcatcher of the locomotive, fought death until 10:30 p. m. Saturday, March 9, when he succumbed.

Cohen Was Passenger

"I found myself on my feet looking for my cap," Benjamin Cohen of 96 McEntee street, a passenger on the ill-fated trolley, told The Freeman today. Reminiscing, Cohen said that he may have been thrown through a window or door, but he doesn't know. He was sitting "on the righthand side in the front of the trolley."

He recalled that Webster and Kostecki were also sitting in the forward part of the trolley, across the aisle from him, and that Boyd was standing forward in the vestibule. He saw the train coming, he said, and recalled that the gates were up as the trolley approached the tracks.

Cohen who had mounted the trolley at East Union street, said that he received no injuries, although he was shaken up and his hearing a little affected.

Riding in the trolley at the time of the crash, some of them sustaining injuries, were: Motorman Chester B. Roe, 135 Prospect street; Conductor William Beadle, 74 Foxhall avenue; Fred W. Sudheimer, 1 Hone street; Mike Litus, 21 East Pierpont; John Grimm, 7 Foxhall avenue; J. DeWitt, 67 Hudson street; Daniel Healey, 257 Abeel street; Denko Melniezuk, East Pierpont street; Harry Wieber of the firm of Wieber and Walter; former Alderman John Fischer of the 7th Ward; Miss Margaret A. O'Brien, 100 McEntee street; Mrs. Charles Tonskey, 19 Spring street, and William and Arthur Lahl, brothers, of Newkirk avenue.

Fire Truck Demolished

Nineteen years passed. At 2:25 a. m., Saturday, May 15, 1937, Engine No. 1 was returning from a three-alarm fire at 26 Downs street. Rain was falling in the murky darkness. Ferrell Finkle of 117 Abbey street, who was driving the 1,000-gallon LaFrance engine, sat in the open truck, half blinded by the rain blowing into his eyes. The bell at the Broadway crossing was ringing but the roar of the truck motor drowned it out.

P. J. Ellwanger of 41 Livingston street, gate tender, watched with horror as the engine approached the gates, no slack in its speed, apparently unaware of the fact that the gates were down.

Passenger Train No. 19 roared into the crossing, the locomotive slipping past. Almost simultaneously, the gate splintered and the engine crashed head-on into the baggage car, hooking there somehow, and dragging along the tracks.

Three Firemen Die

Peter Carey, 43, of 60 Clinton avenue, and Preston L. DeWitt, 32, of 82 Downs street, who were riding on the back of the truck, were flung to the tracks. Carey died at Kingston City Hospital at 6 a. m. and DeWitt at 11 a. m.

Finkle lingered, seriously injured, battled four months for his life and lost it, Sept. 24, 1937.

Richard J. Smith, 109 Abeel street, who was sitting on the seat next to Finkle, escaped injury but suffered a bad case of shock. Smith retired June 16, 1938.

The fire engine was crushed into a mass of broken twisted steel, so bady mangled that it had to be replaced.

In the late seventies or early eighties of the last century, before the West Shore railroad was built, a horse car was struck at the Broadway crossing by a Wallkill Valley train and Mrs. John Wolfer, daughter of General Samson, was killed.

Ground Broken 1949

Following the 1918 crash, plans were drawn up for the elimination of the "murderous crossing"—but nothing materialized.

Elimination was first brought prominently to the attention of the city not long after the accident when Mayor Palmer A. Canfield suggested that Council take steps to have the crossing removed. At that time a model was prepared showing how Broadway would appear if the crossing were eliminated. It was ultimately stored in City Hall and lost in a fire.

In 1936 the state Public Service Commission decreed that the crossing must go and directed the railroad to submit a plan. The plan drawn up by the railroad was designated as issue A.

Mayor Conrad Heiselman, businessmen in the central section of the city and the Council objected strongly to the plan and the ctiy was given an opportunity to submit an alternative plan. After considerable study a plan known as Scheme B Modified was prepared and submitted.

It called for carrying Broadway under the tracks, but considerable opposition was raised by businessmen who maintained that it would ruin that section of the city. Public hearings were held at which time objections were raised to the adoption of any plan that meant carrying Broadway under the tracks.

Plans for the elimination were laid aside during the war years but in Oct. 1949, ground was broken and the project began.

With the completion of the underpass scheduled for May 29, one of the most dangerous crossings in the state will have been eliminated.

In ancient times, sulfur was called brimstone, that is, burn stone, because it burned when lighted.

7th Warders to Meet On Decorating Tablet

A meeting to discuss plans to decorate the memorial tablet of the Seventh Ward located in Cornell Park will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Cornell Fire Station, Abeel street.

Alderman Thomas Coughlin has requested a large attendance.

Tonight's meeting has been called to decorate the memorial tablet honoring the veterans from that area for Memorial Day, Friday, May 30.

Taft Seeks Delegates

Mobridge, S. D., May 24 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio headed for the Black Hills today in his quest for delegates to the Republican National Convention. In five addresses yesterday, Taft conceded South Dakota will be a test of strength between himself and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidential nomination, hinging largely on the nation's foreign policy. The state will pick 14 GOP delegates in a primary election June 3. Slates for both Taft and the general are entered.

A poinsettia plant can be kept until the following season by placing it in the basement or some dry place.

Garfield Services Held

New York, May 24 (AP)—Funeral services were held here yesterday for actor John Garfield as more than 10,000 persons mourned outside. The chapel was crowded with show business notables and others during the 25-minute Jewish funeral service. Outside, five police cars kept back the surging crowd that showed up to pay last respects to the 39-year-old stage and screen star who died Wednesday. Burial was in Westchester Hill Cemetery.

Will Meet Monday

The regular meeting of the Civil Service Employe's Association will be held Monday at 8 p. m. in the City Court rooms. James Piggott, field representative of the Association, will be present. All members are requested to attend the important session.

7th Warders to Meet On Decorating Tablet

A meeting to discuss plans to decorate the memorial tablet of the Seventh Ward located in Cornell Park will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Cornell Fire Station, Abeel street.

Alderman Thomas Coughlin has requested a large attendance.

Tonight's meeting has been called to decorate the memorial tablet honoring the veterans from that area for Memorial Day, Friday, May 30.

Taft Seeks Delegates

Mobridge, S. D., May 24 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio headed for the Black Hills today in his quest for delegates to the Republican National Convention. In five addresses yesterday, Taft conceded South Dakota will be a test of strength between himself and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidential nomination, hinging largely on the nation's foreign policy. The state will pick 14 GOP delegates in a primary election June 3. Slates for both Taft and the general are entered.

A poinsettia plant can be kept until the following season by placing it in the basement or some dry place.

Garfield Services Held

New York, May 24 (AP) — Funeral services were held here yesterday for actor John Garfield as more than 10,000 persons mourned outside. The chapel was crowded with show business notables and others during the 25-minute Jewish funeral service. Outside, five police cars kept back the surging crowd that showed up to pay last respects to the 39-year-old stage and screen star who died Wednesday. Burial was in Westchester Hill Cemetery.

Will Meet Monday

The regular meeting of the Civil Service Employe's Association will be held Monday at 8 p. m. in the City Court rooms. James Piggott, field representative of the Association, will be present. All members are requested to attend the important session.

Three More Speakers Are Named for 59th Christian Endeavor Convention in City

Three additional speakers were named today for the 59th annual convention of the Empire State Christian Endeavor Union which will meet in Kingston during the Memorial Day weekend.

The sessions start Thursday, May 29, and conclude Sunday, June 1. Upwards of 1,000 delegates and friends will be in the city for the four-day meetings.

All three speakers announced today will be heard during the conference and workshop period Friday, May 30.

They include the Rev. Angelo G. Crescenzo, pastor of the Glen Morris Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn, who will speak on Recreating Modern Youth; Eugene G. Alhart of Rochester, chairman of the board of trustees of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union, who will talk on Living Life Worthwhile; and the Rev. Earle W. Gates, pastor of the First Church of Evans, Derby, whose topic will be Restoring Christian Home.

A graduate of a Christian Endeavor Society himself, the Rev. Mr. Crescenzo is one of the most sought after conference leaders and song leaders in the state union. He is an advisor to the Queens County Union, a recreational superintendent for the state union and has been a member of the faculty of Christian Endeavor conferences at Lima, Montour, Silver Bay and Roberts College.

Author of Play

The Rev. Mr. Crescenzo is a graduate of Bloomfield College and Seminary and of Biblical Seminary and Brooklyn Engineering Institute. He is active in Masonic work in his area.

Alhart, who has served as president of the state union, also has held state, county and society offices. He also is the author of the three-act play to be presented at the local state convention Friday night.

Alhart is chairman of the financial phase of New York State Christian Endeavor Union's Three-Fold Advance which will be launched at the convention.

A graduate of the University of Rochester where he received his degree in mechanical engineering, Alhart is vice-president of the Alhart Electrical Co., Inc., of Rochester. A member of the Second Reformed Church there, he is a teacher of the young men's class and a member of the consistory. He also is active in Allied Forces work, the Rotary Club and Electrical Association of Rochester.

The Rev. Mr. Gates is a vice-president of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union and of the International Society of Christian Endeavor. He has had wide experience in Christian Endeavor work and work with young people as general secretary of the state union as a regional director, county and society president and departmental superintendent.

On Executive Committee

The Rev. Mr. Gates is a member of the executive committee of the International Society of Christian Endeavor and a trustee of the World's Christian Endeavor Union. He was ordained in the Church of Christ Disciples denomination and is a graduate of the University of Buffalo where he majored in sociology and religion.

In his home community, he is active in Boy Scout and Red Cross work, is a member of the Judges and Police Executives Conference, the Fire Department, the School Association, Buffalo University Alumni and the Council of Churches.

He is a member of the convention conference staff and of the faculty of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union Summer Assembly.

Palsy Benefit Adds Features for Frolics In Rosendale Tonight

The cast and features continue to grow for The Frolics of '52 which will be presented tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the Rosendale Grange Hall on Main street in Rosendale for the benefit of the Cerebral Palsy drive.

Local radio announcers Dick McCarthy and Ernie Ward have volunteered their services as masters of ceremonies who will also entertain with humorous take-offs and skits throughout the show.

Another high spot will be the Krazy Auction featuring goods, services, and surprises. These range in variety from a litter of beagle pups, and free pizza, to baby-sitting, lawn-mowing, and even painting the side of a barn.

Top talent from the whole county, including most of the Ted Mack Amateur Hour winners and those acts which were featured earlier this week at the Hobby Show, will be on hand to make the Frolics an outstanding evening of entertainment for young and old alike.

Township Cooperates

The co-operation of the merchants and townspeople in the Rosendale area has been overwhelming, report Mrs. Ernest Grafe and Mrs. J. Charles Markle, co-chairmen of the Cerebral Palsy drive, who emphasize that no house-to-house canvas will be made for this important charity work and admission to the Frolics is actually a donation to the fund.

Other donations of goods, time and space continue to flow in and an overflow crowd is expected. Practically every candy-cook in the community has contributed candy which will be sold during the evening's entertainment. Cakes, too, will be sold at auction and may be brought to the Grange at curtain time. Tickets will be available at the door.

Hollis E. Harvey, president of the Tillson Fire Department is director of the Frolics of '52 which was originally presented in that town. A few cast changes have been made because of illness and previous commitments but practically all of the original stars will be on hand plus many additional performers.

Rainy Weekend Seen For Eastern U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

It looked like a rainy weekend for wide areas in the eastern half of the country with warm and humid weather in some areas. Generally fair weather prevailed along the coast and in the western states. Showers and thunderstorms hit most of the midwest and eastward to the Appalachians. Heavy rains were reported in some areas, with falls measuring more than 10 inches reported in Stephenville, in north central Texas. Two persons were reported drowned as flood waters of the Bosque river nearly surrounded the town of 5,000.

It was warm and humid over the central part of the country from the eastern plains states to the Appalachians and in the southeastern section of the country.

10 Indians Die in Fire

Tahlequah, Okla., May 24 (AP)—Ten Cherokee Indians perished in flames yesterday touched off by a bolt of lightning during a violent thunderstorm. Two members of two families, nine of them children, burned to death when their three-room frame dwelling was consumed by fire in a matter of minutes. Mrs. Dorothy Scott, about 30, died in a hospital shortly after four of her children and five more belonging to a sister-in-law, Mrs. Eunice Scott, lost their lives in the pre-dawn tragedy.

Universal Prayer Asked by Truman On Memorial Day

Washington, May 24 (AP)—President Truman's Memorial Day statement asked the nation for a universal prayer for a permanent peace he said is nearer reality now than on last year's day of remembrance.

His statement, issued yesterday, laid special stress on the dead of Korea, who, he said, had proved aggression cannot pay.

The President said the men in Korea laid down their lives for lasting peace, and "we must not let these men down now that the goal is so nearly attainable."

His statement follows:

"Memorial Day has been traditionally a day of prayer for those Americans who have died in the defense of their country. On May 23, 1950, pursuant to a joint resolution of the Congress, I proclaimed each succeeding Memorial Day as a day of prayer for permanent peace, and I suggested 11 o'clock in the morning, EST, as an appropriate time for each American, according to his own religious faith, to beg divine aid in bringing enduring peace to a troubled world.

Peace Is Nearer

"I believe that this year enduring peace is more nearly attainable than a year ago. This is so because of our strength and the strength of other free nations has steadily grown. Our strength and determination to remain free are leading to peace.

"On this Memorial Day we should again pay tribute to the men who, by their supreme sacrifice, have helped maintain our freedom in rugged hills of Korea and, before that, in the great wars when all mankind was threatened with enslavement. We should pay tribute to them especially because they have shown that aggression cannot pay off. They have thereby given the world a vision and a promise of lasting peace. We must not let these men down now that the goal is so nearly attainable.

"I have asked before, and I ask again, that the press, radio, television and other media of public information unite the nation on the morning of Memorial Day in a universal prayer for permanent peace."

Falling Cactus Kills Girl

Campy's Homers Prove 1951's MVP Is Back in Groove

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Brooklyn Dodgers got along without Roy Campanella but all hands are glad the husky catcher is back in action even if he isn't exactly ship shape.

"My hand still hurts a little when I catch," Campenella said today, "but I can swing at bat,"

That's the understatement of the year. Dutch Hiller of Cincinnati and Karl Drews of Philadelphia can sadly testify that the National League's most valuable player of 1951 has lost none of his power due to his enforced absence.

Campenella sat out three games because of a bruised left hand. He returned to action Thursday and rocked Hiller for a three-run homer.

The ace receiver continued his destructive work last night against Drews and the Phils. He drove in all of Brooklyn's runs in a 5-1 victory with a pair of home runs.

Hits 100th Homer

Ben Wade, 29-year-old rookie righthander, went all the way for Brooklyn and spaced nine hits to hang up his third triumph.

The victory also enabled the Dodgers to protect their half game lead over the runner-up New York Giants. Sal Maglie recorded his eighth victory without a loss for the Giants as he turned back the Boston Braves, 5-3.

Maglie staggered a bit in the first three innings and in the ninth but from the fourth to the last frame he allowed only one hit.

The Giants scored all of their runs in the fourth inning against lefty Max Surkont. They collected five of their seven hits in that frame. A two-run homer by Al Dark climaxed the uprising and provided the Giants with their margin of victory.

Maglie permitted eight hits, including three in the first three innings and three in the ninth. Ebba St. Claire cracked a two-run homer in the ninth.

Reds Shade Cards

Veteran Ken Raffensberger, supported by youngsters Wally Post and Roy McMillan, gained his third victory of the season over St. Louis as Cincinnati shaded the Red Birds, 2-1. Post and McMillan homered off Harry Brecheen to account for Cincinnati's runs.

The last place Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Chicago Cubs, 6-5, in 13-innings to snap an eight game losing streak. Gus Bell and Johnny Merson doubled back to back with one out in the 13th to break up the game. Ted Wilks was the winner and Warren Hacker the loser.

All American League games aso were played at night. The pace-setting Cleveland Indians downed the Browns, 6-3, in St. Louis and the Detroit Tigers swamped the Chicago White Sox, 9-2. The other clubs were idle.

Big Mike Garcia, with help in the eighth from Bob Lemon, chalked up his sixth victory for Cleveland. Garcia blanked the Browns on two hits until the eighth when he weakened and allowed two hits and three walks. Lemon took over with the bases loaded and doused the fire. The Indians whacked Ned Garver for eight hits including four doubles, a triple and Al Rosen's ninth homer of the season.

The Tigers pounded former teammates Saul Rogovin and Lou Kretlow for 14 safeties at Chicago.

Salvation Army Drive Will Begin; $8,000 Is Sought

A drive to raise $8,000 for operating expenses of the Kingston Salvation Army Corps will begin Monday.

James Hanstein, of the Allan L. Hanstein, Inc., insurance firm, has been named general chairman of the fund campaign.

In explaining the tentative budget drawn up for the coming year, Capt. Lloyd Davis, corps commander, revealed that the total cost of operating the Army's program in Kingston is nearly $16,000 a year. Of that amount, $8,000 is sought from the fund drive, the remainder coming from what Capt. Davis termed "internal sources." These include the various collections including those taken at meetings.

Program Is on Schedule

The Salvation Army has a regular schedule of programs on a weekly basis, primarily religious. In addition to the Sunday and week-night worship services, there are Sunday school classes for younger groups.

An important part of the Army's program is the Corps Cadets, a select group of persons taking particular training for future Salvation Army work.

The recreational program includes the Sunbeams, a scouting program for girls, and the Guards for older girls. For boys, there is the recently completed basketball season in which the Army cooperates with the city recreation department.

Music training is available to boys and girls in four groups. The most advanced group, consisting of seven persons, travels to Albany weekly to study under Eric Leitzen, composer-arranger for the Goldman Band. The other groups include the senior band and two beginners' groups. Music in all groups is taught primarily to those with Salvation Army interests and not as competition to other sources of instruction, Capt. Davis explained.

Four different fellowship groups have memberships ranging from four to 25 years.

Seasonal programs conducted by the Salvation Army locally include the daily vacation Bible school which will open in a few weeks, and the camping program.

Has Many Camps

The Salvation Army nationally offers a wide range of camps with varied programs to attract any youngster. Certain camps are primarily religious, others stress scouting and outdoor life, and still others music or fellowship. Local youngsters—the number depending upon the finances available—are selected to be sent to the camp most appropriate to their interests.

The army also participates in relief and social work, but only of an emergency nature. Capt. Davis said that the army's program is operated always in conjunction with county relief and usually functions only to "tide people over" until other agencies take a hand. The army, he explained, does not handle case loads.

The transient relief program was described by Capt. Davis as one of this city's big problems. The Salvation Army, locally, has no facilities to house transients and must limit its aid to food. Even then, applicants are screened very closely before they are given food, simply because the corps cannot afford much assistance in that line, he said.

Sufficient Money

The local corps maintains buildings at 90 to 94 North Front street and a home around the corner at 186 Green street for the commanding officer. One problem faced by the local corps is the gradual deterioration of its buildings, caused by the fact that in past years there has not been sufficient money available to keep up with needed repairs, it was pointed out.

An inspection last week of the historic Anthony Hoffman house on the corner of North Front and Green streets—owned by the Salvation Army—disclosed the pre-Revolutionary building with its thick stone walls and wide plank floors is in a poor state of repair.

The building is practically unused in the winter, as it has no heating or plumbing facilities at present.

Used up until several years ago for meetings during summer months, the building was closed off last summer and according to some reports had been ruled unsafe for occupancy.

Capt. Davis said, however, that when he assumed his duties here, he and a representative of the fire department inspected the building and found it to be structurally sound.

Of interest to the historically-minded, the building includes one cellar-dungeon room with markings on the beams that look as if they could have been made by prisoners keeping track of the days. Located at one corner of the old stockade, the building's walls show evidence of once having loopholes, now covered with masonry. The beams throughout the original portion of the structure are of the rough-hewn type.

Capt. Davis, the officer in charge of the local corps, was born in Morgantown, West Virginia. He was commissioned in 1941 as a probationary lieutenant, became a lieutenant in 1942 and captain in 1944. He married Rosalie Eberhardt of Flushing, L. I., in 1945 and they have two children, Sharon and Kenneth.

Universal Prayer Asked by Truman On Memorial Day

Washington, May 24 (AP)—President Truman's Memorial Day statement asked the nation for a universal prayer for a permanent peace he said is nearer reality now than on last year's day of remembrance.

His statement, issued yesterday, laid special stress on the dead of Korea, who, he said, had proved aggression cannot pay.

The President said the men in Korea laid down their lives for lasting peace, and "we must not let these men down now that the goal is so nearly attainable."

His statement follows:

"Memorial Day has been traditionally a day of prayer for those Americans who have died in the defense of their country. On May 23, 1950, pursuant to a joint resolution of the Congress, I proclaimed each succeeding Memorial Day as a day of prayer for permanent peace, and I suggested 11 o'clock in the morning, EST, as an appropriate time for each American, according to his own religious faith, to beg divine aid in bringing enduring peace to a troubled world.

"I believe that this year enduring peace is more nearly attainable than a year ago. This is so because of our strength and the strength of other free nations has steadily grown. Our strength and determination to remain free are leading to peace.

"On this Memorial Day we should again pay tribute to the men who, by their supreme sacrifice, have helped maintain our freedom in rugged hills of Korea and, before that, in the great wars when all mankind was threatened with enslavement. We should pay tribute to them especially because they have shown that aggression cannot pay off. They have thereby given the world a vision and a promise of lasting peace. We must not let these men down now that the goal is so nearly attainable.

"I have asked before, and I ask again, that the press, radio, television and other media of public information unite the nation on the morning of Memorial Day in a universal prayer for permanent peace."

Falling Cactus Kills Girl

Campy's Homers Prove 1951's MVP Is Back in Groove

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Brooklyn Dodgers got along without Roy Campanella but all hands are glad the husky catcher is back in action even if he isn't exactly ship shape.

"My hand still hurts a little when I catch," Campenella said today, "but I can swing at bat."

That's the understatement of the year. Dutch Hiller of Cincinnati and Karl Drews of Philadelphia can sadly testify that the National League's most valuable player of 1951 has lost none of his power due to his enforced absence.

Campenella sat out three games because of a bruised left hand. He returned to action Thursday and rocked Hiller for a three-run homer.

Hits 100th Homer

Campanella clouted the 100th of his career with the bases empty in the second inning and followed up with a game-winning grand-slam blast in the third to insure the Dodger's seventh straight triumph.

Ben Wade, 29-year-old rookie righthander, went all the way for Brooklyn and spaced nine hits to hang up his third triumph.

The victory also enabled the Dodgers to protect their half game lead over the runner-up New York Giants. Sal Maglie recorded his eighth victory without a loss for the Giants as he turned back the Boston Braves, 5-3.

Maglie staggered a bit in the first three innings and in the ninth but from the fourth to the last frame he allowed only one hit.

The Giants scored all of their runs in the fourth inning against lefty Max Surkont. They collected five of their seven hits in that frame. A two-run homer by Al Dark climaxed the uprising and provided the Giants with their margin of victory.

Maglie permitted eight hits, including three in the first three innings and three in the ninth. Ebba St. Claire cracked a two-run homer in the ninth.

Reds Shade Cards

Veteran Ken Raffensberger, supported by youngsters Wally Post and Roy McMillan, gained his third victory of the season over St. Louis as Cincinnati shaded the Red Birds, 2-1. Post and McMillan homered off Harry Brecheen to account for Cincinnati's runs.

The last place Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Chicago Cubs, 6-5, in 13-innings to snap an eight game losing streak. Gus Bell and Johnny Merson doubled back to back with one out in the 13th to break up the game. Ted Wilks was the winner and Warren Hacker the loser.

All American League games aso were played at night. The pace-setting Cleveland Indians downed the Browns, 6-3, in St. Louis and the Detroit Tigers swamped the Chicago White Sox, 9-2. The other clubs were idle.

Big Mike Garcia, with help in the eighth from Bob Lemon, chalked up his sixth victory for Cleveland. Garcia blanked the Browns on two hits until the eighth when he weakened and allowed two hits and three walks. Lemon took over with the bases loaded and doused the fire. The Indians whacked Ned Garver for eight hits including four doubles, a triple and Al Rosen's ninth homer of the season.

The Tigers pounded former teammates Saul Rogovin and Lou Kretlow for 14 safeties at Chicago.

Salvation Army Drive Will Begin; $8,000 Is Sought

A drive to raise $8,000 for operating expenses of the Kingston Salvation Army Corps will begin Monday.

James Hanstein, of the Allan L. Hanstein, Inc., insurance firm, has been named general chairman of the fund campaign.

In explaining the tentative budget drawn up for the coming year, Capt. Lloyd Davis, corps commander, revealed that the total cost of operating the Army's program in Kingston is nearly $16,000 a year. Of that amount, $8,000 is sought from the fund drive, the remainder coming from what Capt. Davis termed "internal sources." These include the various collections including those taken at meetings.

Program Is on Schedule

The Salvation Army has a regular schedule of programs on a weekly basis, primarily religious. In addition to the Sunday and week-night worship services, there are Sunday school classes for younger groups.

An important part of the Army's program is the Corps Cadets, a select group of persons taking particular training for future Salvation Army work.

The recreational program includes the Sunbeams, a scouting program for girls, and the Guards for older girls. For boys, there is the recently completed basketball season in which the Army cooperates with the city recreation department.

Music training is available to boys and girls in four groups. The most advanced group, consisting of seven persons, travels to Albany weekly to study under Eric Leitzen, composer-arranger for the Goldman Band. The other groups include the senior band and two beginners' groups. Music in all groups is taught primarily to those with Salvation Army interests and not as competition to other sources of instruction, Capt. Davis explained.

Four different fellowship groups have memberships ranging from four to 25 years.

Seasonal programs conducted by the Salvation Army locally include the daily vacation Bible school which will open in a few weeks, and the camping program.

Has Many Camps

The Salvation Army nationally offers a wide range of camps with varied programs to attract any youngster. Certain camps are primarily religious, others stress scouting and outdoor life, and still others music or fellowship. Local youngsters—the number depending upon the finances available—are selected to be sent to the camp most appropriate to their interests.

The army also participates in relief and social work, but only of an emergency nature. Capt. Davis said that the army's program is operated always in conjunction with county relief and usually functions only to "tide people over" until other agencies take a hand. The army, he explained, does not handle case loads.

The transient relief program was described by Capt. Davis as one of this city's big problems. The Salvation Army, locally, has no facilities to house transients and must limit its aid to food. Even then, applicants are screened very closely before they are given food, simply because the corps cannot afford much assistance in that line, he said.

Sufficient Money

The local corps maintains buildings at 90 to 94 North Front street and a home around the corner at 186 Green street for the commanding officer. One problem faced by the local corps is the gradual deterioration of its buildings, caused by the fact that in past years there has not been sufficient money available to keep up with needed repairs, it was pointed out.

An inspection last week of the historic Anthony Hoffman house on the corner of North Front and Green streets—owned by the Salvation Army—disclosed the pre-Revolutionary building with its thick stone walls and wide plank floors is in a poor state of repair.

The building is practically unused in the winter, as it has no heating or plumbing facilities at present.

Used up until several years ago for meetings during summer months, the building was closed off last summer and according to some reports had been ruled unsafe for occupancy.

Capt. Davis said, however, that when he assumed his duties here, he and a representative of the fire department inspected the building and found it to be structurally sound.

Of interest to the historically-minded, the building includes one cellar-dungeon room with markings on the beams that look as if they could have been made by prisoners keeping track of the days. Located at one corner of the old stockade, the building's walls show evidence of once having loopholes, now covered with masonry. The beams throughout the original portion of the structure are of the rough-hewn type.

Capt. Davis, the officer in charge of the local corps, was born in Morgantown, West Virginia. He was commissioned in 1941 as a probationary lieutenant, became a lieutenant in 1942 and captain in 1944. He married Rosalie Eberhardt of Flushing, L. I., in 1945 and they have two children, Sharon and Kenneth.

A rail link was opened last year connecting Lake Titicaca in Peru with the Pacific Ocean port of Matarani.

WINDSTORMS HIT ANYWHERE NOWADAYS . . .

Hurricanes, cyclones and tornadoes used to visit only certain regions of the U. S. But now they may swoop anywhere.

Windstorm insurance is just as important as fire insurance. When added to your fire insurance policy, under the Extended Coverage Endorsement, the cost is less.

When you hear on the radio that a windstorm is coming, it's too late to buy windstorm insurance. But it's not too late to ask us about such insurance now, today. . . .
